

This would mean that every family in the United States would have to be taxed $5 a year in increased freight rates and passenger rates in order that the railroad companies would have the money with which to pay this stupendous sum.

The men who are demanding this 25 per carit increase are now being paid an average of $1,596 a year (nome of the green men, of course, get less, but many of them get a great deal more).

Labor World "Aristocrats." "The railroad companies have never begrudged high wages to their skilled employee and throughout all the history of American railroading, these same railroad employes who are now threatening to the up businers in America, have been paid more wages than any other men of similar skill in the country, with the resuit that they are looked upon by the men engaged in other lines of work as the aristocrats of the labor world.

"In apite of all this the leaders of the unions have been quoted in the public press as saying that they will not arbitrate, but that if the railroads refuse the deranged a there will be a strike.

"You, es a benker and leader of financisl and business opinion in your neighborhood, know the tremendous and farreaching consequences that would follow a strike.

if. in the end, the railroads are compelled to may this increase in wages of $100,000,000 per year one thing is certainfreight rates and parsenger rates will have to be increased. Every family in the United States will have to pay more for such trip they take upon a passenger train and for everything they ship.

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., May 1 .- (Special Telegram.)-Nearly 200 young men and women were on a specially built seating stand in final rehearsal for the evening program of the May festival of music, when the stand gave a warning crack and collapsed. Director Walter Damroach of the New York Symphony orchestra, surmising the danger, spoke assuredly to the chorus and asked the members to descend, one by one. He had scarcely concluded the warning when, with a crash, the supports of the seats collapsed with all of the singers. Luckily only four persons were slightly injured, though one young woman was buried to her neck in the wreckage. The most serious injury is a broken or sprained ankle, and, so far as known. only one victim has been taken to a hos-The singers attribute the fact that panlo was averted and that no more were injured to the coolness of Mr. Damrosch and the quick assistance of the members of the orchestra, who were

'And one other thing may happen-the callroads may find it more economical to spend the money necessary, to move the district terminals so that the runuing time of the trains can be cut down and the necessity of paying overtime be thus avoided. If it is found a better husiness policy to borrow the maney needed for making these changes and nay the interest on this borrowed money, than to pay the tremendous overtime, then the plan of rearranging district terminals will have to be adopted.

"There will, of course, be a great deal of loss in business at all of these district terminals; but as you know, if the railroad companies are compelled to add $100,000,000 a year to the wage fund, a fund which already amounts to $1,329,000,-000, some drastic financing will have to be done in order to meet the demand.
