NATION'S CHANCE LIES IN THE SOUTH

But United States Must Prepare Now to Wage Commercial Warfare!

MUST MAKE CHANGE IN LAW

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, May & .- (Special.)-About a dozen and a half Lincoln newspapermen were entertained at lunchon today at the Commercial club as the guests of Judge W. H. England, given in honor of A. P. Allenaworth, a former newspaperman. who is now engaged in work in South

At the close of the luncheon Mr. Allensworth entertained the company with a talk on South America and the business and political conditions existing there. He said that a great many of the South American countries did not have much use for the American way of doing bustness and that this country had been reatly harmed by unbusinessilke methods practiced by firms in the United States which had sold goods by sample to merchants there and then delivered a grade of goods far inferior to the sample

He believed that this country would have to meet a condition in South Amer-Ica at the close of the European war which it behooved the United States right now to take cognizance of. In order to meet the co-operation which the warring nations would surely enter in order to recuperate their trade with flouth America, there must be a modification of the Sherman anti-trust law so that combinations in trade could be effected which would enable manufacturers making goods for the South American trade to combine in a way that would give them a chance to meet foreign competition. He would not have American manufacturers compete with each other, but would have each hind of goods manufacturers compete with each other, but would have each hind of goods manufacturers of the successful of the succes American trade for all of them, thus doing away with the expense of a large number of representatives looking after the business on the same kind of goods. Frequent revolutions was a subject touched upon by Mr. Allensworth and his description of some of them was decidedly humorous. These revolutions come and go a great deal like political campaigns in the United States and some of them last hardly as long.

Mr. Allenaworth has spent several cears in South America and will return here after going to New York the first of the coming week.

That's what you say when Nature protests against your activities these Spring days. You are drowsy; your joints ache; you hate to work. It isn't because of the weather. It's the fact that your system is clogged; your blood overloaded with the stagnant waste of the winter. Clear up your system and note the difference.
