

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there is no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Use Coconut Oil For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mild coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get unsifted coconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last every one in the family for months.—Advertisement.

Use "Tex-Tile" Shingles. Sunderlands. Dr. Usher Tells of the Working of the Minds of Peoples

Some nice differences between the working of the European mind and the American mind, especially between the German and the American mind, were pointed out at the University club at noon in a talk by Dr. Roland G. Usher, head of the department of history of Washington university, St. Louis, Mo. He said the difference in the working of the minds, the difference in the conclusions the two minds will draw from the same facts, is one thing that is making diplomatic relations difficult.

Spoke of the visit made some years ago by Prince Henry of Germany to the United States. All the way from Cambridge to Boston both sides of the road was lined with multitudes who wanted to see a real prince. The theater at Boston was crowded, and all the way down the road and into the theater he was given a grand ovation. The professor said "Immediately he patted himself on the chest and said, 'These people must all be Germans,' for he was not accustomed to seeing such enthusiasm, hearing such hand-clapping, such shouting and such stamping, even for Wilhelm himself."

This professor gave as an illustration of the working of the German mind. In the matter of the immediate relation between the two countries diplomatically, he said the greatest club the United States is able to hold over Germany in the talk of severance of diplomatic relations is the fact that the United States could immediately set up the German merchant ships now interned in the harbors of the United States.

Russian Dancer Has Valet-Boxer to Keep Him in Trim

In order that he may keep in perfect condition for his dancing act, Ivan Bankoff, who is appearing at the Orpheum this week, has as his conditioner and valet Joe Harris, a once famous English boxer and athlete.

Mr. Bankoff is an all-around athlete himself, being especially fond of wrestling and boxing. He keeps his legs in condition by workouts with his valet.

He is one of the original dancers of the famous Russian imperial ballet, which had appeared before royalty in practically every country in Europe. Mr. Bankoff contemplates making his act one of the most elaborate of his kind in American show season.

When he was asked as to whether his thoughts were traveled back in his native land, Russia, Mr. Bankoff said that "his only desire was to see that the terrible struggle would soon cease, as all the poor people of the warring nations are the ones who will have to carry the burden." He donates 10 per cent of his salary each week to the Red Cross society.

MORE MEN GO OUT; SOME BACK AT WORK

Strike of Laborers Involves Track Laying of Street Railway Company and Ties Up Viaduct.

BUT FEW RETURN TO WORK

The strike of the common laborers in Omaha is spreading steadily, and very little work is now being done. It is not possible to get the exact number of men who are on strike, but it amounts to several hundred, and nearly all the big jobs in the city are affected.

The contractors are not making any effort to supply the places of the strikers, but are letting matters drift, as they are protected in their contracts by the strike clause.

A meeting of the builders is called by the exchange for Friday evening. Strike leaders will say nothing.

Few Go Back to Work

Here and there some of the striking laborers have gone back to work on some of the building jobs in the city.

This movement is by no means general, however, and means no concession on the part of the laborers. It is only a case of a laborer here and there preferring to work at the present scale, rather than to go back to work as men who have gone back to work as men who say they were afraid to remain on the job Wednesday when a squad of from 100 to 150 striking laborers swooped down and called all the union men out.

The laborers on the Castle hotel annex job have also gone out. The laborers on practically all the jobs in the city are out. A squad of strikers appeared at one of the jobs under construction by Contractor Charles Bauer, where one of the men at work drew a razor and drove the strikers away.

Special details of police are being held in reserve on the lookout for any violence that may result.

The street railway company was well along with track laying across the Locust street viaduct, but now work has ceased.

The laborers employed on the job having gone out on strike Wednesday. When work will be resumed is not known, as the company will not at present attempt to employ new men to take the place of the strikers.

The work of paving between the tracks on the North Twenty-fourth street line, where new and heavier rails have been laid, goes on uninterrupted. On this job the company has its regular men, who are given employment practically all the year.

A score of laborers, walking down Farnam street yesterday, when asked where they had been working, replied at thirty-third and Dodge. They said that the place was guarded by policemen and that they were going to report to headquarters and see if they had to have their places taken by "scabs."

INDEPENDENT THOUGHT URGED FOR COLLEGE MEN

Independence in thought and action for college men on the subject of sex hygiene was urged by Dr. J. M. Patton of Omaha at a meeting of the Bellevue college Young Men's Christian association yesterday evening.

"Do not be led into evil because the other fellow tells you it's smart," said Dr. Patton, who is a Bellevue "grad" of the class of 1901, "and on the other hand do not keep clean because you are afraid to do wrong, but be guided by your own sense of right and wrong in these matters, which are so vital to the interests of the individual and the race."

GIRL COULD NOT WORK

How She Was Relieved from Pain by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Taunton, Mass.—"I had pains in both sides and when my periods came I had to stay at home from work and suffer a long time. One day a woman came to our house and asked my mother why I was suffering. Mother told her that I suffered every month and she said, 'Why don't you buy a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?'"

My mother bought it and the next month I was so well that I worked all the month without staying at home a day. I am in good health now and have told lots of girls about it."—Miss CLAUDE MORIN, 22 Russell Street, Taunton, Mass.

Thousands of girls suffer in silence every month rather than consult a physician. If girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, headache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a safe and pure remedy made from roots and herbs, much suffering might be avoided.
