ALL WEARING CARNATIONS

The students of journalism of the University of Nebraska, who were in Omaha Friday with the other students of the institution as guests of the Commercial club and business men of the city, visited the plant of The Bee during the afternoon.

In charge of Prof. M. M. Fogg of the department of rhetoric the future newspaper men were piloted through the different departments, showing particular interest in the editorial rooms and the new, ultra-modern equipment of the mechanical department.

The following were the members of the journalism group visiting The Bee:

Ethel Arnold, '16, Valentine; Ruth Beecher, '18, Hastings; Adrian R. Brian '16, Columbus; Albert E. Bryson, '17, Fullerton; E. M. Burr, '17, Aurora; John C. Ceynar, '18, Omaha; Clara R. Dodds, '16, Broken Bow; D. G. Eldredge, Law '18, Omaha; Charles H. Epperson, '15, Law '17, Clay Center; Pansy Follmer, '16, Oak; Theodo Fox, '18, Lincoln; Harry L. Gayer, '17, Lincoln; Ross Gillia, Lincoln; U. S. Harkson '16, Portland; Carlyle L. Jones, '18, Neligh; M. J. Keegan, '18, Alliance; Eric T. Kelley, '19, Atkinson; Corinne E. Larimore, Lincoln; Alfred A. Look, '19, Lincoln; H. T. Ludi, '18, Wahoo; Henry Pascale, '16, Omaha; Marcus L. Poteet, '16, Pawnee City; J. B. Raymond, '18, Norfolk; E. B. Scott, '16, Kearney; Doris Slater '16, Lincoln; Jeanette Teagarden, '18, Weeping Water; Viola Weatherill, Lincoln; Edward W. Weaver, '18, Columbus.

The Alamito Dairy company entertained thirty of the students of the University of Nebraska at a dairy luncheon when the students happened to be at the plant at the noon hour.

The Omaha Press club entertained the thirty-five students of the school of journalism, headed by Prof. M. M. Fogg, at a luncheon at the Paxton hotel. President Fred Carey welcomed the students on behalf of the club and a half dozen of the local newspapermen and several of the visiting journalistic students addressed the gathering.

Each of the visiting students wore red and white carnations, the flowers being the gift of M. E. Smith & Co. of Omaha.

A special representative of the company was sent to Lincoln Thursday night with 1,000 flowers, which were distributed to the visitors on the train. The students showed their appreciation of this courtesy by giving the firm a rousing cheer as they passed the corner of Tenth and Farnam streets, near the company's big buildings.

taken up by the crowds on the Tenth street viaducts.

There was a brief period of introductions and handshaking, after which the students, men and co-eds, climbed to the street level, where they gave voice to their class yells, and started on the trip uptown, proceeding along Tenth street to Farnam, and thence west.

The procession was led by the high school cadet band, and behind the organization marched ten companies of the cadets. Following them was the university band of forty-two pieces, the male students on foot and the co-eds in automobiles.

All along the route of march up town large crowds assembled on the sidewalks, while most of the windows of the buildings were occupied. Flags and bunting waved from a number of the buildings, and from all these buildings came hearty greetings.

Assemble at Auditorium.

At the Auditorium the students were grouped into their various squads, according to which the itinerary of points of interest they desired to visit while in Omaha.

Forty men, alumni of the University of Nebraska, now engaged in business and professional life in Omaha, took charge of the students here and acted as guides for the various squads.

The day's program was under the general management of the bureau of publicity.

Professors and heads of departments accompanied the students to Omaha.

The students of the School of Commerce visited the United States, First and Omaha National banks and the Byrne-Hammer and M. E. Smith wholesale houses.

Visit South Side.

The students of the courses of geology visited the smelters, South Omaha stock yards, the packing houses and the waterworks plant at Florence.

The chemistry students visited the stock yards, the smelters and the water works.

The pharmacy students took in the stock yards and packing houses, the Creighton College of Pharmacy, Richardson Drug company and the Sherman-McConnell drug stores.

The department of instructional agronomy visited the Grain exchange, the Skinner macaroni plant, wholesale fruit houses and Uncle Sam's Breakfast Food plant.

The home economics department visited the M. E. Smith plant, Ivey Biscuit plant, Skinner Macaroni plant and O'Brien's candy factory.

The department of geography and conservation visited the stock yards and other points.

Creameries Attract Many.

The department of dairy husbandry visited the Fairmont Creamery company, the People's Ice and Cold Storage company and the Alamito dairy.

The department of horticulture interested itself in a visit to Dundee, the park system and other beautiful places in the city.

The School of Journalism visited South Omaha, the Lininger Art gallery, the Baker Brok engraving plant and the three daily newspaper plants.

The law department visited the court house and the South Omaha industries.

MUCH SPECULATION OVER NEW U. P. HEAD

tem of which Judge Robert S. Lovett of New York is chairman.

Mr. Mohler decided to retire on account of ill health, of which he has been a sufferer for some time. His recent illness dates back to the time last winter when he fell while skating on the lake in Miller park and struck his head on the ice. Following this accident he was confined to his home for several weeks and, in fact, has never fully recovered from the effects of his injury.

While he continued to direct the more important affairs of the two railroads, Mr. Mohler has, for some time, spent most of his time at home. His strength would not stand the strain of the duties as active head of the Union Pacific system, and it is for this reason that he decided to retire.

Our Country's Leading Men.

Mr. Mohler is one of the leading railroad men of the country, who, by dint of hard work and untiring industry, worked his way to the top from the bottom up. There are few railroad men in the country who have covered the whole transportation field with more thoroughness than Mr. Mohler.

In the humble capacity of warehouse clerk he started in the railroad game when he was 19 years old. He rose steadily and rapidly, and his successive promotions came as a result of untiring industry, and in recognition of demonstrated ability.

Mr. Mohler began his long career as a railroad man in 1868, when he obtained a position as warehouse and office clerk with the Chicago & Northwestern at Galt, Ia. He had been working for years previous to this time, having quit school when he was 15 years old.

His Long Experience.

Two years after he entered the service of the Northwestern he became station agent at Erie, Ill., for the Rockford, Rock Island & St. Louis railroad.

In 1871 he was a clerk of operating accounts in the auditor's office of the last mentioned road, at Rock Island, Ill. From 1871 to 1882 he was with the Burlington Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway company; two years as traveling auditor and pioneer agent; two years as chief clerk in the freight department; one year as assistant general freight agent, and six years as general freight agent.

In October, 1882, he was made general freight agent of the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba railway, continuing in this position until March, 1886, at which time he became land commissioner. The St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba railway becoming a part of the Great Northern railway system, Mr. Mohler was, in January, 1887, made general freight agent of the last mentioned lines, of which, from April to October, 1888, he was general superintendent, and from October, 1888, to September 1889, assistant general manager.

In September, 1889, he became general manager also of the Montana Central railway, and served as such until December, 1893. In July of the following year he was chosen general manager of the Minneapolis & St. Louis railroad. From July, 1897, to April, 1904, he was president and general manager of the Oregon Railroad and Navigation company.

In April, 1904, he was appointed general manager of the Union Pacific Railroad company; was made vice president, also, in 1905, and was elected president of the company October 1, 1911.

Prominent in Social Life.

Mr. Mohler has been prominently identified with the business and social life of Omaha and is a member of several clubs, including the Omaha, Commercial, University and Palimpsest.

The Union Pacific and Oregon Short Line head has often said that a man, "to succeed, should pick out the occupation which he likes best; we can't all be Dr. Johnsons and succeed at a lot of things."

Another of his favorite sayings is that "the wise man will live by the way, and not wear himself out preparing for the time when he can enjoy himself."

Department Orders.

Washington, D. C., May 19.—(Special Telegram.)—Abraham M. Reams has been appointed postmaster at Jordan, Tripp county, S. D., vice H. L. Anles, removed.

Civil service examinations will be held on June 24 for letter carriers at Bradshaw Amherst, Campbell, Virginia, Neb.

John G. Mason of Lincoln, Neb., has been appointed a structural engineer in the Treasury department, salary $1,400 per annum.

Mexican Bandits Are Hanged for the Murder of Americans

Brownsville, Tex., May 19.—Jose Buenostrico and Melquaides Chapa, Mexicans, convicted of the murder of A. L. Austin and his son, Charles, in the Mexican border raids last fall, were hanged today at 2:15 p. m. in the Cameron county jail.

Austin and his son were captured by the raiders, carried a short distance from the town and killed. All the raiders except Buenestro and Chapa escaped. Evidence submitted at the trial last April tended to show that Buenestro fired the fatal shots, while Chapa stood guard nearby. Three American witnesses whose lives were spared by the bandits, gave the principal testimony.

The men were tied together, hanged in a double trap and died practically at the same time.

They issued a joint statement in which they thanked the public "for what they have done for us," and both declared themselves innocent.

One hundred civil peace officers and Thirty-five United States cavalry men guarded the jail yard.

Cambridge Priest Dies in Omaha Hospital

Rev. Carl Stapf of Cambridge, Neb., 43 years old, died at St. Catherine's hospital Thursday afternoon from concussion of the brain, which was caused by a fall at his home two weeks ago. He was born in Baden, Germany, and made his priestly studies in Louvain, Belgium.

Immediately after his ordination he came to the United States and for the last twenty-two years had been in charge of parishes in th Lincoln diocese.

He is survived by a brother, Ferdinand Stapf, of Humphrey, Neb., and another brother living in Germany.

The body will be taken to Lincoln from Hoffmann's undertaking parlors this afternoon. Pontifical requiem high mass will be celebrated at the cathedral at Lincoln Saturday morning, Bishop Tihen officiating. Interment will be at Cambridge.

Hughes is Elected Bishop on the Twelfth Ballot

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., May 19.—Dr. Matt S. Hughes of Pasadena, Cal., was elected a mishop on the twelfth ballot, receiving 549 votes, or four more than was necessary. He is a brother of Bishop Edwin P. Hughes of San Francisco.

Dr. William F. Oldham and Dr. Charles B. Mitchell of Chicago were elected bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church on the fifteenth ballot taken by the general conference early tonight. Only one more bishop is to be elected.

Cass County Feeder Makes Fine Record Bunch of Steers

Weeping Water, Neb., May 19.—(Special.)—J. W. Colbert of this place has a beef-raising record that is phenominal. A bunch of steers that he had on the South Omaha market yesterday showed up with a record of more than 580 pounds average gain per head in five months, and the gain in price over what he paid for them was $3.40 per hundred. Mr. Colbert bought the steers on the South Omaha market last fall and has fed them at one of his farms southwest of town. When he bought them they averaged 1,050 pounds and cost him $6.10. The average weight when he sold them yesterday was 1,630 pounds and they brought $9.50. Mr. Colbert says there is nothing freaky in the record he has made and believes he can repeat it. All he has done is to have a strictly modern feeding plant and feed them snapped corn for the first two months, then shelled corn and alfalfa and the last two months added a little oil meal to the ration.
