GLORIA'S ROMANCE

Supported by HENRY KOLKER
A Motion Picture Novel By Mr. & Mrs.
RUPERT HUGHES

Today the Muse Theatre will show you the second chapter of George Kleine's greatest cinematographic achievement—Billie Burke in Gloria's Romance. In this remarkable photoplay you'll see Billie Burke—winsome, charming, beautiful "Billie"—playing the role of Gloria Stafford in a society romance. You'll see her in gorgeous gowns—the creations of such famous modistes as Lucile, Henri Bendel and Balcom. You'll see her amid exquisite surroundings—natural scenes of rare splendor—at Palm Beach, Florida. You'll see her portray the youthful, vivacious Gloria—sixteen and beautiful.

You'll see, in Gloria's Romance, a different sort of photoplay. You'll see the thought of the noted novelists and dramatists—Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Hughes. You'll see a delightful, interesting, pleasant story told in the most elaborate form known to cinema art. You'll see an all-star cast of exceptional talent, headed by Henry Kolker. You'll see a work of literature on the screen—a novel for which Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Hughes were paid $25,000.00.

Gloria's Romance represents a new high standard in motion picture entertainment. It is, by far, the most costly film novel ever brought out. Nearly a million dollars have been expended to give you this production. Never before has such a remarkable cast been assembled for any play of the stage or screen. Never have such prominent authors been retained to write an original motion picture novel. Consider these factors: the star, Billie Burke; the supporting cast, headed by Henry Kolker; the authors, Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Hughes; the producer, George Kleine.

If you enjoy beautiful pictures—if you appreciate an exceptional photoplay—don't miss Billie Burke in Gloria's Romance. You'll like its inspiring appeal—its cheerful vein—its romantic charm. It's presented at the Muse Theatre with especially synchronized music. GO TODAY! Take the children—it's a play everyone will enjoy.
