CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Features of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade.

Chicago, June 1.—First offerings of the 1916 crop came on the wheat market today and quickly brought about a material downturn in prices. The result was a heavy close, 1¼@1⅝c to 1¾c down, with July at $1.05⅝@1.06⅛, and September at $1.07⅜@1.07½. Corn lost ⅛@⅝c to ⅝c and oats finished ⅛c off to ⅛c up, and provisions at a decline of 10@40c.

Although at first the wheat market showed some signs of strength, prices began to descend as soon as word went around that Oklahoma was offering to ship newly harvested wheat within a fortnight. Cutting was said to be already going on in the southern part of Oklahoma. Bearish sentiment increased later owing to the absence of any important export call.

Need of rain in western Kansas was chiefly responsible for the early advance in the wheat market here. One prominent expert said that if rain was delayed another week the crop would surely be in bad condition. Deterioration was noted also in the crop outlook of the Texas Panhandle.

Corn declined with wheat. Besides, cash demand here was slow, notwithstanding that considerable improvement in the amount of trade was reported in the south and southwest.

Oats displayed a good deal of resistance to selling pressure. Houses with New York connections were credited with much buying of July delivery and with selling of September.

In provisions, the big stocks at Liverpool acted as a weight on the market. Under the circumstances an advance here in the price of hogs failed to make any impression.

Coffee Market.

New York, Feb. 1.—There was a further decline in the coffee futures here today with most of the active months making new low ground for the movement. Offerings were not heavy but there was very little demand in evidence and after opening at a decline of 3 to 6 points, September sold off to 8.58 and March to 8.84, or about 9 to 10 points net lower. Expectations of increased offerings as the new crop begins to move in Brazil seemed to encourage buying, while sellers were held in check by the present relatively firm prices, views of primary shippers and prices showed slight rallies on covering in the late trading. The close was 3 to 6 points net lower. Sales, 15,000; June, 8.46c; July, 8.47c; Aug., 8.54c; Sept., 8.61c; Oct., 8.68c; Nov., 8.76c; Dec., 8.75c; Jany., 8.80; Feb., 8.85c; March, 8.88c; April, 8.94c; May, 8.99c.

CATTLE—Receipts were large for a Thursday, 208 cars being reported in. Still the total for the four days amounts to only 18,820 head, being slightly smaller than last week, but larger than a year ago.

Heavy beeves of good to choice quality were in active demand and free sellers at prices that were a little higher again than yesterday. A piece of a load sold up to $10.75, which is as high as was ever paid on this market, the same top having been reached once before, and that was in December, 1914. The medium to commoner grades were slow and lower. The fact is that medium and common yearlings are 50@75c lower than a week or ten days ago.

Cows and heifers were in good demand at steady prices. Very few stockers and feeders were in sight, but what few there were sold in yesterday's notches.

Quotations on cattle: Good to choice beeves, $10.00@10.75; fair to good beeves, $9.60@10.00; common to fair beeves, $8.50@9.60; good to choice heifers, $8.00@9.00; good to choice cows, $7.75@8.00; fair to good cows, $6.75@7.75; common to fair cows and heifers, $4.50@6.75; good to choice feeders, $8.00@8.75; fair to good feeders, $7.75@8.00; common to fair feeders, $6.75@7.75; good to choice stockers, $7.50@8.50; stock heifers, $6.75@8.25; stock cows, $5.75@7.50; stock calves, $7.25@8.75; veal calves, $9.00@12.00; bulls, stags, etc., $6.50@8.50.

HOGS—Shippers did not buy so heavily today, and got what hogs they wanted at no more than steady prices. Packers came out with bids that were as much as 5@10c lower, but sellers could see no reason for making any such concession when all other markets were stronger, and nothing sold until bids became almost steady. The strength did not stop here, however, for after a few hogs sold on a slightly easier basis trade got up to a fully steady level, and toward the close was, if anything, stronger, some of the late sales being quoted in extreme cases as much as 5c higher. After trade once got under way movement was fairly active, and a good clearance was made by midforenoon.

General quality of today's receipts was much poorer than yesterday, there being a much smaller proportion of good to choice stock here, and a liberal percentage of trashy lights. For this reason values on paper failed to reflect the market accurately as average cost was, if anything, easier, while most of the individual sales were no less than steady, and many looked stronger. Most of the hogs sold at $9.60@9.65, but there was a liberal sprinkling of common lights on down to $9.00. Tops were steady at $9.65. The strong undertone to the market is best shown by the fact that while the percentage of good hogs on offer was larger than usual, nearly everything was cleaned up in good season.

SHEEP—Offerings were of a very mixed character this morning, a little bit of everything being on sale. Lambs predominated in the offerings, but with rapidly strengthening prices elsewhere, and a lively call in spite prices advanced sharply, being in most cases a big quarter higher than on the previous day. The outturn was unevenly distributed and amounted to even more than a quarter in some cases. Quite a few clipped lambs were on sale, most of which sold early. A pretty good kind of handies sold to $10.85, while good, weighty kinds were bought around $10.50@10.75.

No big strings of spring lambs were here, most of those offered being natives. A deck of real choice native springers made $11.00, a price which has been in the discard all week, with other small lots scattered on down. Tail ends of the California, which were anything but desirable, found the spring very slow, but bulk of the supply sold in good season.

Offering of old ewes were also mostly in small lots, but prices showed the coarter scores mixed on merits. Near clippers on offer reached $8.35, with quite a few of a fair sort around $7.75. Wooled ewes of good quality met a fairly active finish, mild for shearing at $8.15. A few head of clipped wethers made $8.35, and a small package of choice 85-pound clipped yearlings brought $10.00. Neither of these figures are quotable on full load lots, as they are far out of line with any other market.

Quotations on sheep and lambs: Lambs, spring, $9.50@11; lambs, good to choice handy, $10.50@10.75; lambs, fair to good handy, $9.75@10.50; lambs, fair to choice heavy, $9.50@10.25; lambs, fair to choice yearlings, $8.50@9.50; yearlings, fair to choice mixed, $7.50@8.50; wethers, fair to choice, $7.50@8.25; ewes, good to choice, $6.75@7.25; ewes, fair to good, $5.50@6.75.

ROTARIANS FEAST AND PLAY TRICKS

Monthly Dinner of Club at Henshaw One of Most Original Events in the Organization's History.

PURE FUN AT EVERY TURN

Omaha Rotarians made merry, regaled and were regaled at the monthly dinner at the Henshaw rathskeller last evening, staging a composite vaudeville and minstrel show, carnival, four-ring circus and feast of Bacchus, minus the wine, that would have done credit to a holiday celebration of French art students before the war.

There was not a dull moment, nor a quiet one, from the time the Rotarians filed into the rathskeller, donned screamingly-colored, various-shaped carnival hats, armed themselves with squawkers, whistles, paddles and divers other merry-making instruments, until they toddled out of the hotel, stuffed with food and weak from laughter.

Cabaret and Then Some.

Had a Sherlock Holmes looked in on the festivities he would have deducted that the Epicurean bedlam was a free-for-all cabaret show participated in and viewed by representatives of all the nations of the earth, Mars and East Douglas street.

Kaisers sat next to Johnny Bulls, Chinese manderins swapped yarns with Japanese mikados, Charley Chaplins kidded quaker deacons, and so on down the line. Every Rotarian wore some kind of a carnival hat; some of them fitted and some of them didn't. No one cared whether they did or not.

After the guests had gorged themselves and were unable to remonstrate, Ringmaster O. S. Goodrich and President Harley Moorhead managed to make themselves heard long enough to announce the star acts and contests.

First came a hallohoo contest between four erstwhile staid business men, but the while, short-skirted, kittenish, "dancing girls."

Earl Ward, R. M. Dozier, Frank Norton, W. N. Updike and C. W. Adams disported themselves before the expectant Rotarians, the contest being marred only by the falling off of Mr. Adams' skirt and the accusing of Mr. Ward of trying to flirt with the dingmaster. By applause the crowd finally designated Mr. Ward as the winner, and he was awarded the prize, a silver-buckled leather belt.

Ringmaster Goodrich next led on for approval Frank Haskell, Al Scott, Dr. C. B. Atzen and Howard Day, who, attired in baby bonnets and waists drank milk from bottles for a prize. Two of the contestants were disqualified for tearing the nipples off and drinking from the necks of the bottles. Mr. Scott won a silver handled pocket knife for his prowess as a milk drinker.

Sextet of Chaplins.

A sextet of Charley Chaplins, consisting of Dr. J. B. Fickes, Al Bloom, Paul Wehrner, John Gleason, Howard Goulding and Dr. W. K. Foote, provided thirty minutes of hilarity, dashing around in true "flim" style in a fashion that would have made many a canned drama comedian turn emerald with envy.

With pliant canes, tiny moustaches and gunboat shoes the Rotarian Chaplinites tipped over chairs, kicked up their heels and otherwise shocked their patient brother club members.

The applause for the Chaplin act was so deafening that the hotel clerk came down and said a Des Moines traveling man occupying quarters on the top floor of the Hotel Fontenelle had telephoned that the noise was disturbing his rest. At least, that was rumor around the banquet room.

Mr. Wehrner finally managed to perspire out some Chaplin steps that the other Rotarians couldn't execute and he was presented with a pair of gold cuff links. He averred afterwards that he wouldn't work that hard again for a hundred shares in a radium mine.
