

MISS ROSIE GALENEC FINDS HER FRIENDS

Young Austrian Woman Coming From Wyoming Meets Fellow Slavs and Happiness.

"ANDY" FAILED TO APPEAR

Rosie Galevec is in the hands of her friends instead of wandering about a great city among people she didn't know and who didn't speak her language.

For this Rosie can thank the young woman who found her at Thirty-third and Leavenworth streets yesterday noon, weeping and seeking the Burlington station; she can thank Detective Van Dusen who, by his knowledge of the city, guided her to the very house in which her friends were awaiting her.

When the young woman who found Rosie heard her story and brought her down town it looked like a white slave case.

Rosie said she came from Newcastle, Wyo., and was to meet one Andy Kovicevic here on his promise to get her work. But he failed to meet her. Three other friends were coming, she said, arriving Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Detectives Lend Aid.
Van Dusen was sent down by Chief of Police Dunn in company with the young woman and a reporter.

The three didn't arrive on the train from Newcastle. But Van Dusen knew a man who, he said, would know about this case. So to the saloon of Mike Brunski, 1214 South Thirteenth street, went the party. Mike is a sort of "king" among Omaha Slavs.

Mike found that Rosie came from the same part of Austria that he came from and he spoke her language. The conversation flowed like a Niagara. And when Mike heard that she came here from Newcastle he said:

"Three other people came today from Newcastle. They are here now. I will see if they know her. Then Rosie was brought into the presence of the three, a man, his wife and Andy Kovicevic. And Rosie ran and threw her arms around the woman, and kissed her, and wept and kissed her again, and wept some more. And she babbled in her native Slavic language, and she told the detective how much she thanked him.

Come to Find Work.
In Newcastle Rosie worked in a restaurant operated by a Chinaman. This heathen Chinese didn't believe in the eight-hour day and made Rosie wait table, wash dishes and do everything else about sixteen hours a day. So when her friends started for Omaha they told her to come along and they would get her work at better wages and shorter hours, because Omaha was a great city with plenty of work at good wages. (Wise people, are Rosie's friends.)

They all have plenty of money and Rosie will have her choice of several positions.

T. R. Wants Boss And Employee Sleep In Same Dog Tent

Newark, N. J., June 2.—Returning from his middle western trip, Theodore Roosevelt stopped here tonight on his way home to Oyster Bay to deliver an address at the Industrial exposition held in connection with the celebration of the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Newark. He was greeted by thousands of persons who heartily applauded him.

Before he entered the exposition building, Colonel Roosevelt stopped to address briefly a company of New Jersey National guardsmen.

"I do not believe," he said, "in weasel words or weasel deeds. I don't believe in letting 'George do it.' But I do believe in preparedness. I am glad to greet you men who represent preparedness.

"I do not believe in the kind of preparedness where the patriotic employer tells his employees to 'do it.' I believe the employer and the employee should sleep in the same dog tent if we are to have effective preparedness."

Road So Rough Nitro Explodes; 2 Missing

Tulsa, Okl., June 2.—A rough place in the road detonated 300 quarts of nitroglycerin late today, causing the death of two men, the destruction of a school house and damage to windows in Tulsa, four miles away. The explosive was being hauled on a truck to a storage magazine. No trace of the bodies of Wayne Roach, 26 years old, and Paul Clawson, 23, who were in charge of the shipment, could be found after the explosion.

STUDENTS' REUNION BANQUET OF OMAHA UNI LAW SCHOOL

Fifty former students of the University of Omaha law school which included students of the old Omaha college of law attended a reunion banquet last night at the Home hotel at which District Judge Trapp was hostmaster. Speeches were made by Judge A. L. Sutton, E. L. Bradley, Dr. D. E. Jenkins and Harry G. Palmer. The latter took occasion to challenge a statement made in one of the bar association meetings that new attorneys were lax in living up to the legal code of ethics. He said that the newly commissioned attorneys were just as conscientious as were the older practitioners at the bar.

Recruiting Office Surgeon Thinking of "Home Affairs" Gets Flustered

A large specimen of the "genus homo" was being examined by Dr. Francis B. Cochran, surgeon at the local recruiting station, said specimen desiring to partake of the glory of being called one of Uncle Sam's fighting men and incidentally draw the pecuniary emolument appertaining thereto.

The large specimen stepped upon the scales. "Eight and a half pounds," called out the doctor to Hospital Apprentice Osiek, who was noting down the plans and specifications of the large specimen upon a blank prepared for that purpose.

"Huh!" exclaimed the specimen. "What's that?" cried Osiek. The doctor blushed—blushed right out loud. Strong men averted their faces from his embarrassment. Women would have fainted if there had been any women there. Children would have cried if there had been any children there. Fortunately there weren't any there.

The doctor soon had himself in hand again. "One hundred and eighty-seven pounds," he said.

"Gosh, I thought I must a' shrunk," said the large specimen. The doctor kept himself firmly in hand until his duties were performed and then he held forth once more to a circle of admiring comrades and friends upon the beauty, amiability, weight, complexion, eyes and so on of Miss Cochran, juniorist of the Cochran family, who has just arrived at his home, 3522 Lincoln boulevard.

Bruce and Betty and the baby are the other Cochran children. (Special notice to friends: Cigars will be handed out tomorrow.)

PERSHING CONFERS WITH GEN. GAVIRA

Discuss Plans For Co-Operation Between Their Forces in Pursuit of Bandits.

THEY MEET IN PRIVATE CAR

Colonia Dublan, Mex., June 2.—(Via Wireless to Columbus, N. M.)—Plans for the co-operation between American and Mexican forces in northern Chihuahua were discussed today at the first meeting between General Gabriel Gavira, constitutionalist commander of northern Chihuahua, and General J. J. Pershing, American expeditionary commander.

The two generals met in General Gavira's private car, shunted out half way between the American field base and the Carranza camp at Nuevo Casas Grandes. Only the commanders, their chiefs of staff, interpreters and stenographers were present. The conference continued for two hours and was adjourned to be resumed late today. While it was known that the military situation in northern Chihuahua was discussed in detail at the preliminary conference, neither chieftain would divulge the details.

When General Pershing returned to camp he confined his discussion of the conference to a brief statement issued to newspaper men.

"General Gavira and I had a very pleasant and profitable talk," he said. "We went over plans which I am not at liberty to disclose and will meet again at 4 o'clock this afternoon. General Gavira outlined what he proposed to do and we discussed the situation simply as it affects us."

Asked in view of the new Carranza note if there was the slightest note of belligerency in the positions taken by the Mexican conferees, General Pershing declined to make a reply. Nor was it known here whether the conferences would be concluded tonight or whether they would be continued tomorrow.

The Allie-Chalmers manufacturing company of New York declared an extra dividend of 1 1/2 per cent on its preferred stock in addition to the regular quarterly preferred dividend of 1 1/2 per cent.
