DEMO DELEGATION UNABLE TO AGREE

Meeting at Lincoln Results in Postponement Until Night Before Convention at St. Louis.

COREY FOR STATE CONVENTION

(From a Staff Correspondent.) Lincoln, June 3.—(Special Telegram.)—Democrats elected as delegates to the national convention at St. Louis were unable to agree upon an organization at a meeting held at the Lincoln hotel this afternoon.

However, they hope to reach a settlement of the difficulties before reaching St. Louis and make selections June 13, at the Planters hotel. Just what W. H. Thompson will get is hard to tell. The committee stands 8 to 8 so things are considerably up in the air.

It is understood Mr. Thompson and J. J. Thomas of Seward would like to have the chairmanship of the committee. W. D. Oldham wants a job on the resolutions committee and H. E. Gooch would like to be on the notification committee.

At the same time the democratic state committee and the candidates for state offices were holding meetings at the Lindell hotel. As a result Melton L. Corey of Clay Center was selected temporary chairman of the state convention which will be held at Hastings.

The committee selected Governor Morehead as alternate delegate-at-large to fill the place of J. Bryan refused to take when defeated for delegate.

The vacancies in the Fourth district on alternates were filled by the selection of E. P. Mumford of Beatrice, private secretary to Governor Morehead and Dr. E. O. Weber of Wahoo.

The distinguished visitors were also shown over the historic grounds of Blue Creek, where a famous Indian chief, Red Cloud, was born, and through Ash Hollow, where the old trail came over the tableland into the North Platte valley and a notable Indian battle was fought.

CHOLERA SERUM LAW IS HELD VOID

State Supreme Court Rules That Act Gives the Makers a Real Monopoly.

LOSES SUIT AGAINST BEE

(From a Staff Correspondent.) Lincoln, Neb., June 3.—(Special Telegram.)—An opinion by the supreme court this afternoon holds the hog cholera serum law unconstitutional. The Omaha Bee wins the case brought by R. B. Howell seeking to enjoin the publication of certain articles.

In the case brought by Cushman Hall by the state for selling hog cholera serum at Omaha the supreme court holds the law unconstitutional and reverses the Douglas county district court. The court holds that the law gives the manufacturer a monopoly on the manufacture of serum.

Holding that there is no power in the courts to prohibit by injunction the publication of newspapers of alleged misleading information, the supreme court reverses and dismisses the case brought by R. B. Howell against the Omaha Bee in 1914.

Cites Constitution. Judge Rose wrote the opinion. The syllabus of the court is that: "The publication of political matter in a newspaper cannot be enjoined merely because it is false or misleading, such relief being forbidden by the following constitutional provisions: 'Every person may freely speak, write and publish on all subjects, being responsible for the abuse of that liberty; that in all trials for libel, both civil and criminal, the truth when published with good motives and for justifiable ends shall be sufficient defense.'"

The judgment of the Douglas county district court is affirmed for $8,750, secured by Francis A. Rankin against the Elizabeth Kountze Real Estate company for injuries received while a tenant of the company because of a defective threshold which caused a nail to enter her heel, necessitating several operations and permanent injury.

May Add Omitted Property. The Douglas County Board of Equalization had the right since 1903 to add omitted property to the assessment list of an individual or increase the value of his property without complaint by a taxpayer, but the owner of the property must be notified of the proposed change, according to the supreme court in the case of the Farmers' Co-operative Creamery company against Henry S. McDonald, et al. The decision of the Douglas county district court is affirmed.

Summer Catarrh Never Gets Well. A cold in summer soon passes into catarrh. Dust, pollen and heat keep up a constant irritation on the tender membranes of nose and throat. Nature accommodates herself to this condition, but it often leaves chronic catarrh, which never gets well of itself.

Peruna Overcomes Catarrh. It cleans out the poisons from the system, purifies the blood, reinvigorates the membranes, soothes their soreness, and starts the victim toward Wellville. Thousands once afflicted owe present health to its administration. Treat your cold in time, use Peruna regularly, and you will not have catarrh. But if you have neglected it, don't worry. Let Peruna do the work. It's proved its usefulness by 44 years of success. Tablets or liquid—whichever is more convenient—at your druggist. The Peruna Company, Columbus, Ohio.

YORK MOTORING PARTY SEEING CAPITAL SIGHTS

(From a Staff Correspondent.) Washington, June 3.—(Special Telegram.)—For the next two weeks Washington will be well-nigh deserted, the exodus of senators, representatives, secretaries and officials of departments already having begun, with Chicago as their objective.

While the official life of the capital will be notable for its absence, the great tourist public will be coming to Washington, and in that number will be many automobilists.

There arrived yesterday from York, Neb., an auto party made up of H. S. Harrison, W. A. Harrison and their wives, who left their pretty Nebraska city fourteen days ago, stopping leisurely en route. The Harrisons are going to New England, to Boston and the Maine coast and are enjoying their long auto trip splendidly. During their stay in Washington the Harrisons have been entertained by Congressman Sloan, in whose district they reside.

OFFICIAL DETAILS OF BIG SEA BATTLE

enemy's battle cruisers and we have their admission that they had lost two battleships. "The admiralty has a report of the sinking of four German light cruisers and the Germans have acknowledged the loss of six destroyers. There is good hope that the German loss is even greater but we do not intend to make any estimates until we have complete official reports from our commanders who do not report the loss of antagonists without definite evidence.

Zeppelins Not Important. "Zeppelins did not play the important part attributed to them. Only one appeared. It remained in action a very brief time, retiring under heavy fire, evidently badly damaged. Weather conditions were such that it is doubtful whether any air craft would have been of much service.

"The enemy sprang no surprises. We saw nothing of any 17-inch gun. "The weather conditions were the hardest bit of luck our fleet encountered, as may be judged from the following paragraph from the official report: 'Regret mitsy weather of 31st saved enemy from far more severe punishment.'

"From the standpoint of actual strength the navy's losses in personnel, while great was not serious as we have plenty of men to replace them.

"With a fight like Wednesday's action occurring every day we could stand the loss much better than the Germans. Our battle fleet is still intact, while we still have considerably more battle cruisers than the Germans. It is interesting to note that the sober estimates in the Reichstag do not confirm the great victory so

STRIKERS GOING TO HARVEST FIELDS

Many Have Gone—Quite a Few Have Returned to Work at Increased Pay.

SOME JOBS ARE STILL IDLE

It is estimated that a large percentage of the building laborers who struck some three weeks ago, have now departed from Omaha for the harvest fields in the south to begin the movement northward with the harvest. Many of the laborers do this every year, but work at building construction when the harvest season is not on. Now that the strike has continued a little longer than they at first anticipated, many found it more profitable to leave town and enter the harvest fields of the south. Those who have families or homes here, however, are still here and still striking.

Here and there building jobs are beginning work again, in most cases, it is said, at an increased wage. Work has been resumed on several jobs. Kiewit & Son put some laborers to work on the apartment house job at Thirty-third and Dodge. Selden-Breck are working a force of men on the Sanford hotel job. Some men are working at the Blackstone Family hotel and at the Ford hospital job. No work is in progress on the new Masonic temple, on the First National Bank building, and numerous other jobs in the down-town district.

jubilantly announced by the German press. With our battle fleet intact we still hold the North Sea and we have prevented the enemy from accomplishing any definite object."
