Marked Increase in Activity at Headquarters of the Various Republican Candidates.

ARE IN THE FIGHT TO FINISH

Chicago, June 3.—There were numerous conferences between party leaders today, but so far as could be learned no agreement on candidates was reached and there was no development that accurately indicated which candidate is likely to be nominated for president by the republican national convention.

While on the surface the fight appears to be between Roosevelt and Hughes or Roosevelt against the field, there was a marked increase in activity at the headquarters of the various "favorite sons" candidates. Managers of the Root, Weeks, Burton, Fairbanks, Cummins and Sherman booms insisted that their candidates would remain in the fight until the end. They declared after tabulating the vote claimed for Roosevelt that the successful candidate would be either one of the "favorite sons" or a dark horse.

Will Try Root First. The plan of the old organization leaders is said to be to try and win first with Root and if they fail in this effort to give Burton, Weeks, Fairbanks and Sherman a tryout in the convention in the order named. In the event of failing to put over any of these the plan is to try and win with a dark horse, according to reports in circulation.

Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio and Governor McCall of Massachusetts were mentioned as possibilities.

Friends of Roosevelt claim he will win after the formality of giving the "favorite sons" candidates a complimentary vote had been disposed of, while Hughes supporters declared that their candidate would be nominated early in the proceedings.

There was a suggestion made today that committees be appointed by the republicans and progressives to confer in an effort to decide on a candidate acceptable to both sides, but George W. Perkins, chairman of the executive committee of the progressive party, said he had not heard of the plan.

In our statement issued in January we made the first advance in the interest of harmony and we think it is up to the republicans to make the next move," said Mr. Perkins. "Of course, we are for Roosevelt and we think we have an unanswerable argument that he should be named by the republicans. We are willing to confer with the republicans on the question and if they will not accept him and suggest another man we are willing to talk about it. We do not know what the republicans will do at their convention, but do know that the people want to vote for Roosevelt for president next November."

Not Paying Their Expenses. Mr. Perkins took occasion to deny that he or the progressive party's executive committee are paying the expenses of the delegates to the progressive national convention. "Every delegate to our convention is paying his own expenses," said Mr. Perkins. "I want to make that clear. When I was here last winter I reserved a lot of rooms in Chicago hotels for the use of our delegates, but these options have since been turned over to the individual delegates, who are paying all their own railroad fares, hotel charges and other expenses. Four years ago our national convention paid for itself and we expect to do the same this year. We have already sold enough boxes to pay the rent of the hall."

Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio, temporary chairman of the republican convention, may be made the permanent chairman of the gathering, according to a plan discussed by party leaders today. Senator Sutherland of Utah is the only other man mentioned for the place thus far.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts is said to be slated for chairman of the committee on resolutions, which will draft the party platform.

Meyer Issues Denial. George Von L. Meyer, in charge of the Roosevelt republican headquarters, issued a statement denying that any attempt will be made to use the Chicago preparedness parade tomorrow in the interest of Roosevelt.

United States Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania was among the prominent arrivals of the day, and his quarters was soon the meeting place of prominent republicans from different parts of the country. Among those who conferred with the Pennsylvania senator were former Senator W. Murray Crane of Massachusetts, former Senator Charles H. Downing of Indiana, who is supporting Fairbanks, William L. Ward of New York, former congressman Dwight of New York, who is backing Elihu Root; John T. King, a delegate at large from Connecticut; and Alexander P. Moore of Pennsylvania, a Roosevelt supporter.

The Pennsylvania delegation of seventy-six will be split up among at least four candidates. Senator Penrose said Philander C. Knox, he added, would receive the votes of the great number of delegates in that state. Governor Brumbaugh, he said, would get about twenty-five votes; about five delegates would vote for Roosevelt and some for Hughes. As for himself, he said, he did not know who he would vote for on the first ballot, but he thought it probably would be for Knox.

Fulton Makes Statement. Senator Fulton of Oregon, delegate and a supporter of Hughes, said:

"The statement set forth by the opposition to Justice Hughes' nomination to the effect that Frank H. Hitchcock is not authorized by Justice Hughes to represent him is absolutely untrue. So far as my information goes, Mr. Hitchcock has never at any time claimed to act by authority of Justice Hughes. He is, but Justice Hughes has no authority over him. He can certainly state it in the Hughes committee who are behind the movement to reject his nomination and not Justice Hughes himself. Every movement of this character must have some directing force."

The Oregon delegation is desirous of assisting in the work of bringing about the nomination of Justice Hughes and in the work of cooperating warmly with Mr. Hitchcock.

We desire to co-operate with all who agree with us that Hughes is the man to nominate."

The New York Line-Up. The line-up of the New York delegation on the first ballot continues to be a source of much speculation. The several headquarters of the New Yorkers who are split up principally between Hughes, Roosevelt and Root, but out of ten delegates today favorable to their respective candidates. Tonight it was said that the delegation on the first ballot would probably give thirty-four votes to Root, ten to Roosevelt and forty-three to Hughes.

At the headquarters of Senator John W. Weeks, Massachusetts candidate for the presidential nomination, it was announced that Senator Cabot Lodge would present Senator Weeks' name to the convention.

CONTESTS REQUIRE TIME.

Howell Urges Regularity Be Made the Test.

Chicago, June 2.—Plans of the republican national committee for a speedy conclusion of the delegate contests pending before it were blocked today by a mass of evidence and argument presented from the congressional districts of Georgia, in each of which there is a contest.

Committee action yesterday when the four delegates-at-large from Georgia known as the Jackson faction, after their leader, Henry S. Jackson, and credited with favoring the candidacy of Elihu Root, were seated, which it was believed presages a similar disposal of the district contests, did not result as expected. Several delegates of the opposing or Henry Blun, faction, who were said to be ready to vote for Justice Hughes, were seated by the committee after a ten-hour session.

Work Without Rescess.

The committee worked without a recess throughout the day and a night session was announced by Chairman Hilles. As a step toward reducing the number of contests from southern states R. B. Howell of Nebraska urged that the test of regularity be applied to every contest.

His attitude was seconded by Senator Smoot, who insisted that the test of the standing of a contesting delegate should be whether all the steps taken in his selection were regular and in accord with the state and party laws.

This stand did much to prolong the hearing of the several contests, as each contestant argued that his selection was regular, and details of the selection of precinct committees and district convention delegates were presented to the committee.

Throughout the afternoon J. W. Hart, committeeman from Idaho, presided, and Chairman Hilles took a seat with the committee.

Culls From the Wire

The federal trade commission announced that it would hold hearings June 12 and 13 to give the interests concerned an opportunity to explain the rise in the price of gasoline. The commission is investigating the price increase under a recent resolution. Jobbers and refiners of petroleum products from Nebraska, Colorado, Texas, California, Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma, at Kansas City attending the annual convention of the Independent Oil Men's association, Zone 2, declared that prices of gasoline depend upon the weather. If this summer is as rainy as last the price of gasoline may go down, but if the season is favorable to traveling the price at least will stay where it is and possibly may go a notch or two higher.
