BROWNELL GIRLS GIVEN DIPLOMAS

Miss Martha Leavitt Carries Off the First Honors in This Year's Class.

LUNCHEON IS HELD AT NOON

By MELLIFICIA-June 6. Miss Martha Leavitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Heyward G. Leavitt, carried off first honors in this year's graduating class at Brownell hall, winning a magna cum laude degree. The commencement exercises for the 52d year of the hall were held at St. Matthias church this morning,

Rev. F. D. Tyner of St. Mark's church, Minneapolis, made the com-mencement address. Preparation to meet the issues of life was the point he emphasized. Bishop George A. Beecher of Hastings was another outof- town clergyman who took part in the exercises. The Right Rev. Arthur Williams conferred the diplomas and read the honor roll.

The annual commencement lunch-eon, for which 300 covers were laid, was held at noon and was followed by the annual meeting and election of officers of the Brownell Hall Alumnae association, for which Miss Marion Towle was president last

The class of 1916 includes in the college preparatory course: Misses Harriette Cora Ashbrook, Geraldine Hess, Martha Leavitt, Jeannette Mapes McBride, Helen Elizabeth Reynolds.

Post graduate course: Misses Alice ouise Forbes (York High school) Mildred Rose Krumm (Tilden High school), Edna Kent Mulligan (Bea-trice High school), Marie Katherine Sander (Papillion High school), Alice Sedgwick (Newcastle, Wyo., High school)

General course: Misses Marguerite Mary Boggs, JJane Beulah Clark, Cal-lie Hazel Faddis, Mary Elizabeth Fuller, Jeannette Greenshields, Helen Babcock Johnson and De Lisle Wilhelm Maika.

FLAG DAY PARADE NOT TO BE PREPAREDNESS SHOW

Still there is dissatisfaction among some of the women in Omaha in regard to the patriotic parade. Heads f the various organizations of men are constantly calling the Commercial club and the bureau of publicity with regard to a mooted point.

"Is this a preparedness parade, or is it not a preparedness parade?" There are some who absolutely refuse to march if this is to be a pre paredness parade, while they say they are eager to march if it be merely a patriotic demonstration.

H. H. Baldrige of the general committee has repeatedly given out the statement that this is in no way a preparedness parade, and that it is merely a demonstration to show rev erence to the flag on Flag day

SOME MISS TRAIN AT OMAHA

Fremont, Neb., June 6 .- (Special.) -On time to the second, the big Union Pacific de luxe special train. carrying the twenty-two eastern advertising men in search of wisdom concerning the great state of Nebraska, buzzed into this city at 10 o'clock this morning and were promptly clasped to the palpitating bosom of the Fremont Commercial club.

The Nebraska Publishers' bureau entourage, including the gentle creatures from the effete east, now numbers fifty-nine folks, and since Henry P orly and other prominent Nebraskans managed to miss the special train, having been given the scissors hold by Morpheus, the arrival of regular trains from Omana will doubtless swell the party comowhat.

Paper Printed on Train. The Huse boys of Norfolk have set up their modern newspaper printing plant in the baggage car ahead and publish their first edition of the "Cornhusker" this afternoon.

All of the guests were greatly in-terested in the Lane cut-off and many made notes on the facts given them on that subject by General Passenger Agent Basinger, who is on the train. After having glimpsed the wonders of Fremont's business center the travelers were taken to the Country club

As a fitting reception for a party who had spent a good deal of the previous night singing old college songs, the Fremont boosters had a forty-two-centimeter cannon at the depot, with which they fired a salute of ten guns.

Fremont Handsomely Decorated. Bright sunshine and a whiff of Ne-braska's celebrated and cooled ozone made the stay in Fremont a pleasant chapter in the story of the expedition. As was the case in Omaha, there were more automobiles on hand than there were tourists, while both the cars and and members of The Bee staff are the streets were handsomely deco-
