

Nebraska AD MEN GLIMPSE STATE'S MARVELS

Visit to Hastings and Kearney Proves to Be Especially Happy.

CHICKEN DINNERS GALORE

Hastings, Neb., June 8.—(Special Telegram.)—As guests of the Kearney Morning Times and a committee from the Commercial club, with Secretary Ben Watson at the head, the touring easterners enjoyed three happy hours at that city before heading in this direction, where they arrived in their special train shortly before 5 o'clock.

W. F. Bailey, manager of the Times, and Editor Frank Brown shared the honor of being hosts at Kearney, while Colonel E. B. Finch acted as marshal of the day.

The party has now acquired considerable dimensions, having recently been enlarged by the arrival on the train of W. R. Mellor of the State Board of Agriculture and Professor C. W. Pugsley of the University of Nebraska, to say nothing of the vigorous Bert Connors, secretary of the Grand Island Commercial club, who was kidnapped.

Through the courtesy of Judge Russell Palmer of the 1733 Ranch, so named because both San Francisco and Boston are exactly that number of miles away from the beautiful spot, a tour of his place was conducted by the entertainment committee, after which luncheon was served on the lawn. It was not much of a lunch, nothing but fried spring chicken right hot out of the pan and all the other fixings that accompany such a delectable lunch.

Tobin Likely to Mourn

Tobin, boss of the Lincoln Star, says that if he has one more spring chicken dinner he'll begin to mourn sure; Charley Rosewater of The Omaha Bee was seen scratching the gravel gently with one foot just before he mounted the train, and was heard to cluck softly to himself.

The advertising blokes and the effete easterners were smitten on the 1733 Ranch, which opened up a continual array of new stuff to them. The poultry yards were especially attractive.

After the luncheon the coterie were taken to the Kearney Normal, where they were welcomed by 1,000 dandy Nebraska girls, who are studying there in the summer course. This, also, was a very pleasurable experience for the orientals. A trip to the industrial school, the tuberculosis hospital and the power plant was made by many of the party.

The residence district of Kearney, especially the paving now going on, was most impressively indicative of the prosperity of the city. The Country club and some of the stores were also seen. The usual band was present to cheer the wandering children on their way.

Have Joke on Gooch.

The boys are telling one on Gooch, the famous flour man of Lincoln. While the Nebraska Press Bureau initiation was going on in the club car at Columbus Wednesday night, a man came along with a French horn under his arm. Gooch stopped him and requested that he play something. The man obliged, rendering "Nobody Knows How Dry I Am," with great feeling. When the concert was concluded, Gooch proffered the musician a two-bit piece, saying: "Here, old chap, much obliged to you." The musician swelled all up and replied, "I don't need any tips, mister. I own that mill over there." And behold, it was one of Gooch's liveliest competitors in the milling business.

At Hastings the detection are guests of the Chamber of Commerce with the astute Adam Breede and his henchmen assisting. A big reception committee met the investigators of Nebraska conditions and took some to the Country club for a round of golf and some to the Young Men's Christian association for a swim in the pool. The latter proved the most popular diversion, since the going has been mighty dusty and dry except on the train.

Banquet at Clarke.

A banquet was served at the Clarke hotel at 8 o'clock and this was followed by a smoker at the Elks' club rooms. Tomorrow morning the easterners and their hosts will awake to find themselves in Lincoln, where breakfast will be served at the state farm. Luncheon at the Lincoln Commercial club will close the entertainment on the trip, except for golf at the Country club until train time late in the afternoon. The special train breaks up at Lincoln, the easterners keeping their own special car, however, for the jaunt back to New York, Boston and Philadelphia.

See War Horses.

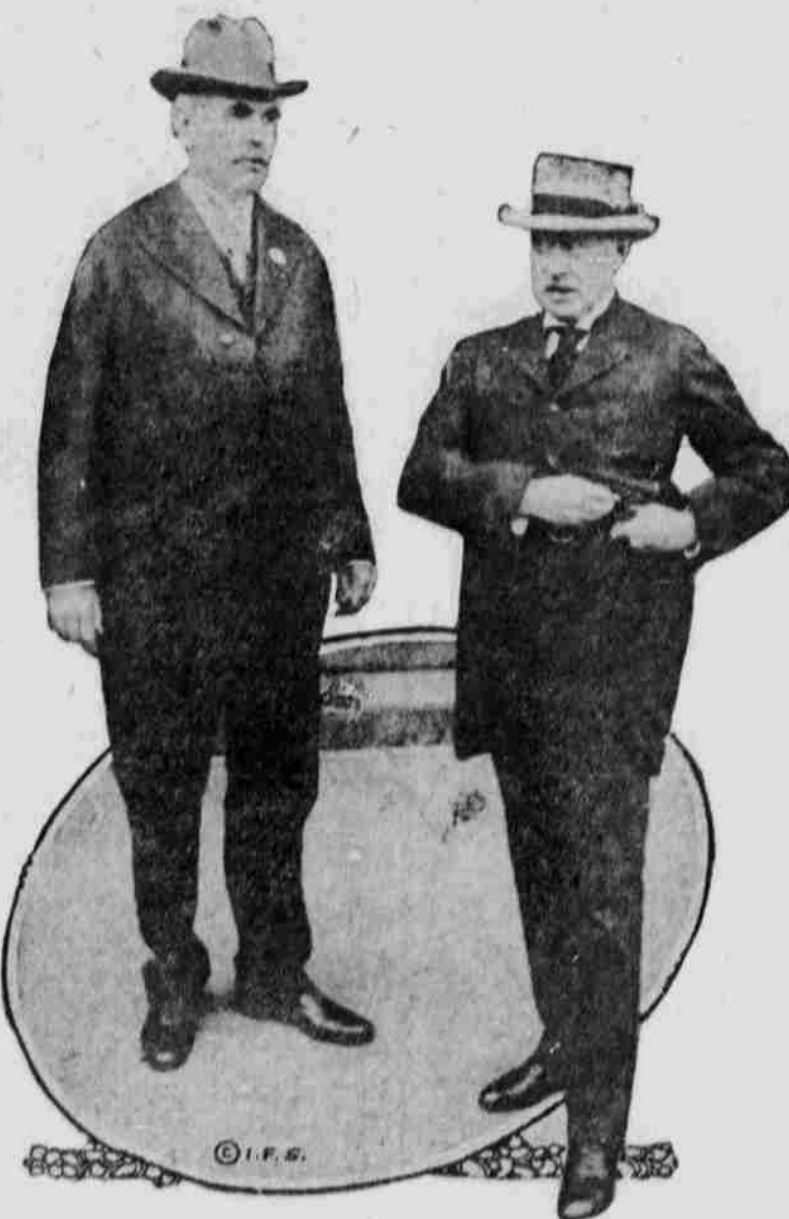

Grand Island, Neb., June 8.—(Special Telegram.)—Fifty-eight souls and Donald MacPherson, comprising the justly celebrated rubberneck party conducted by the Nebraska Publishers' bureau, awoke in this city this morning, the special train having been rolled up from Columbus on the Union Pacific during the night.

Bert Connor, commissioner of the Commercial club, was on deck when the sleepy easterners and their hosts tumbled out upon the platform, and escorted them to Liederkrauts hall, where the ladies of the First Congregational church served the most enthusiastic meal of the trip thus far. Fresh Nebraska honey, eggs, butter, cream, bacon and everything else that should be included in a super-perfect breakfast was there in huge quantities and the effete guinea from the east coast would yet be lingering about that tempting table if it weren't for the inexorable schedule.

See War Horses.

Loaded into autos the advertising demans proceeded to peruse the substantial city and its industrial features, the Grand Island horse and mule market, second largest in the world last year, and well in the lead of all this year, was the most interesting sight to the inspectors from the state. Tom Bradstreet, boss of the whole works, told his interviewees how he held his great horse sale in 1903 with one animal and a halter. Now the plant offers holds during the cash season over 1,000 horses at one time. This being the dull season there were but 700 horses in the pens.

PROMINENT FIGURES AT CHICAGO CONVENTION—On left is D. D. Woodmansee of Cincinnati, former president National Republican League of clubs, and John Hays Hammond, present president.

Most of these are for the French government.

After inspecting the barns and market, the visiting party took a spin around Tom Bradstreet's private two-mile race track near the outskirts of the city, where a few speed records were busted. The American Beet Sugar plant, which is now being rehabilitated, was visited by the visitors, who expressed considerable interest in the industry. A jaunt through the residence district finished the Grand Island part of the program and the special train pulled out for Kearney about 11 o'clock.

Gains for Master In Railroad Case

Lincoln, June 8.—(Special.)—Attorney General Reed, Chairman Henry Clarke of the State Railway commission and J. A. C. Kennedy, attorney for the Missouri Pacific Railroad company, held a conference today in the office of the attorney general and agreed upon Frank H. Gaines of Omaha as a master in chancery to take testimony on the injunction proceeding covering the raise of passenger rates in Nebraska.

Duncan Gives Figures On the Fruit Crop

Lincoln, June 8.—(Special.)—According to a report prepared by Secretary J. R. Duncan of the State Horticultural society, the prospect for a big crop of some kinds of fruit does not appear to be as good as it did earlier in the season. Mr. Duncan says: Figures given are based upon maximum amount of fruit that trees are capable of producing. Summer apples, 45 per cent crop; fall apples, 42 per cent crop; winter apples, 50 per cent crop; cherries, 42 per cent; plums, 30 per cent; grapes, 25 per cent; raspberries, 25 per cent; blackberries, 25 per cent; strawberries, 20 per cent. These figures are for the entire state, based upon reports received from each horticultural district in the state.

BOYS WHO ROBBED STORE AT RIVERTON SENTENCED

Sidney, Ia., June 8.—(Special.)—Bert McGraw and Carl Nelson were brought into district court Tuesday afternoon and pleaded guilty to the charge of grand larceny and were each given a sentence of five years at Anamosa. On the night of May 28, Kidd's store at Riverton was entered by burglars and $10 in cash, some suits of clothing, kodaks and other articles to the value of about $100 were stolen.

Harlan May Drop Supervisors.

Alma, Neb., June 8.—There is some agitation in Harlan county for a change from the supervisor form of county government to the commission system and petitions are being prepared for circulation with the intention of having a vote on the question at the general election this fall.

School Bond Election.

Fort Dodge, June 8.—(Special.)—Because of an error in advertising the election on $20,000 worth of school bonds, the Board of Education has been forced to re-advertise. The new election will be held July 11. The bond issue carried by a large majority at the first election.

HYMENEAL Crawford-Newman.

Ravenna, Neb., June 8.—(Special.)—Harry L. Crawford and Miss Margaret Newman were married last evening at the home of the bride's parents. There are two of Ravenna's most popular young people. Mr. Crawford is engaged in the furniture and undertaking business. Miss Newman was formerly in the millinery business here.

Bucholz-Kepler.

Aycox, Neb., June 8.—(Special.)—William E. Kepler, son of William L. Kepler, and Miss Sophia Bucholz, daughter of Mrs. Henry Bucholz, living southwest of town, were married today at the home of the groom by Rev. Carl Lucke of the North Branch Evangelical church. Over 100 families were invited to witness the ceremony. They will make their home on a farm southwest of town.

Farm Building and Nine Horses Burned

Allen, Neb., June 8.—(Special.)—Fire, starting from an unknown origin, at the E. H. Allen farm, three miles northwest of here, early this morning destroyed about $10,000 worth of buildings and stock. Nine horses, including two valuable stallions, and a mule were burned to death. One of the horses broke loose and escaped.

The applicants were as follows: Omaha: Hugh Agor, Wilson S. Ditzell, Norman C. Gault, Russell W. Israel, Lincoln: Arthur J. Adams, John E. Bouskath, Clifford B. Edmister, Leon A. Hickman, John E. Jackson, Darrell T. Lane, J. Lloyd McMaster, Otto E. Perrin, John L. Polk, Raymond A. Smith, Guy T. Tom Velle, Taylor H. W. Whitlow, Earl B. Young and Samuel C. Zimmerman.

WOOD RIVER ELECTION INJUNCTION DISSOLVED

Grand Island, Neb., June 8.—(Special.)—Judge Hanna, after a hearing of the evidence and arguments in the case of the writ of injunction restraining the officials of Wood River from conducting an election on the wet and dry proposition, dissolved the injunction, and the election will be had as originally called. The first election resulted in a majority of two for the drys. An irregularity was alleged and a second special election called for June 8.

Mr. Went-And-Cut-It Here's Mr. 'Gets-It'

The New Plan Corn Cure That's as Sure as the Rising Sun. "Did a man you?" says the razor to the corn. "I'll beard for you," says the corn to the razor. Razors and corns love each other. Corns love to be cut, picked, gouged, nailed, plastered and jerked out—they grow faster. Mr. and Mrs. Went-And-Cut-It saw the new plan corn cure. It's the most wonderful, simple, sure cure that ever came. It's a cure that you can use in 2 or 3 minutes. It dries at once, the corn is dissolved. Nothing is left in the skin or on the corn. It means good-night to plasters, knives, diggers, razors and tooth-picks. You can wear smaller shoes. Your corns will come right off, clean as a whistle. Never inflames healthy flesh. The world's largest selling corn cure. "Gets-It" is sold by druggists everywhere, 50c a bottle, or sent direct by J. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold in Omaha and recognized by the world's best remedy by Sherman & McClelland Drug Co. store.

FLY WHEEL BURSTS AND DAMAGES AUTOMOBILE

Avoca, Neb., June 8.—(Special.)—A very peculiar accident occurred here yesterday. A car driven by Harry Leach, with A. E. Tierney and Len Snyder, all of Weeping Water, was coming into town, and when just opposite the Mrs. Henry Wohlers residence burst the fly wheel, a part of the iron bursting the hood of the car, another part being driven a distance of two blocks, striking the Fred McGrady home, barely missing Mrs. McGrady, who was in the yard, the force of the blow driving it through the siding, then bouncing back about ten feet. Had the missile struck Mrs. McGrady she would doubtless have been instantly killed. The car was quite badly damaged, and it is a mystery how the occupants escaped injury.

Notes from Lindsay.

Lindsay, Neb., June 7.—The remains of Miss Mabel Williams, who died in Cody, Neb., last Monday, arrived today and were taken to the home of her brother, Will, on Shell Creek this morning, from where the funeral services will be conducted tomorrow afternoon and laid to rest in the Welch cemetery.

Miss Williams held a position in Grand Island and was spending her vacation visiting her two brothers, Jack and Will, here, when about a week ago she went to Cody, Neb., to visit her sister, a letter written the day before her death, stating that she expected to start back the next day. She died suddenly of heart trouble.

George Jostes, who lived around here all his life and for the last six months connected with the Ducey & Jostes restaurant, loaded a car with his household goods yesterday and shipped it to Norfolk, he and his family following today, where they will make their future home.

The plans for the dedication of the new Franciscan monastery are progressing favorably. A house coming will be the main feature.

Nebraska MR. POOL ISSUES BOOK OF FIGURES

Secretary of State Compiles Vote at Primaries of Nebraska.

WHAT THE STATE HAS DONE

(From a Staff Correspondent.) Lincoln, June 8.—(Special.)—Secretary of State Pool has written a book. It will find no place in the public libraries of the state in the section devoted to modern fiction, because it deals with facts regarding the votes cast in the primary elections of the state since the primary law was inaugurated in 1907.

It gives the total vote cast in the state at the last primary by parties in all the counties; the total vote by counties by all parties on presidential preference, delegates, electors and other important offices; gives the vote on these offices by congressional districts and is a complete showing of the figures as they were sent to the secretary of state from the different counties.

It gives the total vote in the primary for each year since the primary law went into effect, the figures showing as follows:

Table with columns for Year, Republican, and Democrat. Rows include September 29, 1907; September 1, 1908; August 17, 1909; August 16, 1910; August 15, 1911; April 19, 1912; August 19, 1913; April 15, 1914; April 15, 1915; April 15, 1916.

Republicans might well study the following figures of the primaries, which shows the republican vote strongly to the good in those primaries, yet each year a democratic governor has been elected.

This year the vote on the two parties was, republican, 102,755; democrat, 86,889; republican majority, 15,866. Will the history of 1912 and 1914 be repeated?
