

BELLEVUE ORATOR FOR PREPAREDNESS

George R. Lunn Tells Graduates That They Must Take Burden of Citizens.

DR. KERR TAKES UP THE WORK

"I believe in preparedness. I used to be a pacifist, but I do not believe in peace at any price," said George R. Lunn, socialist mayor of Schenectady, N. Y., in delivering the main oration at the Bellevue college commencement yesterday in the new gymnasium.

The title of the speaker's address was "The Challenge of the Present." He declared that the real limit of all the evils in America today lay at the door of the voter, whose indifference and neglect made them possible.

Miss Anne M. Johnston, president of the senior class, read an essay entitled "The Function of the College in Modern Education and Culture." The paper was several times referred to by Mr. Lunn in the course of his address.

Retiring President Nicholl introduced Dr. David R. Kerr, president of Bellevue college from 1890 to 1904, who will again assume the presidency on July 15. Dr. Kerr spoke of the memories of old times the program of the morning had awakened in him.

President Nicholl spoke feelingly in conferring the degrees. He regretted that he was not to be at Bellevue next year, as he expected to enter Columbia university.

The commencement procession was held under the direction of Prof. Oscar Schmiedel.

Tukey and Burns Take No Chances

Harry Tukey and Sam Burns believe in preparedness. For this reason they appeared in the office of the clerk of the federal court and filed their photographs and personal descriptions to be forwarded to the secretary of state in Washington. Pictures and descriptions of Mrs. Tukey and Mrs. Burns were also filed. Passports will be secured from Washington.

They are going to be prepared against possible arrest as German spies when they take an automobile trip next month into Canada.

When they are held up by some officious Johnny Bull they will flash "the papers" (as they say in the b'gosh drama).

BRANDEIS STORE EMPLOYEES TO MARCH ON FLAG DAY

The Brandeis stores announce that they will close at 1 p. m. on Flag day to give their employes an opportunity to march in the great Flag day parade. Letters have been distributed throughout the house to the employes calling attention to the fact that this half holiday is given for the expressed purpose of affording an opportunity for all persons, male and female, to participate in this great parade. The buyers and executive heads have been constituted captains and they will assemble the different groups and all will be under the head of one generalissimo.

It is expected that hundreds of the store employes will march. The 5 o'clock closing is to start June 15.

GOVERNOR ASKS ALL SALUTE FLAG

Executive Directs State House and Other Public Buildings Be Decorated.

DIRECTS SCHOOLS TO ASSIST

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
 Lincoln, June 8.—(Special.)—Flag day will be celebrated in Nebraska on June 14, and Governor Morehead has issued a proclamation in which he directs that the state house, other public buildings, and the public schools of the state display the Stars and Stripes and that the schools take part in some demonstration along the lines of education as to what the flag means. The proclamation reads:

"The 14th day of June of each year has come to be recognized and celebrated throughout the nation as Flag day.

"We have no occasion in the year when patriotism can better be expressed than on that day. The American people are patriotic at all times; the love of country is characteristic of all our citizens, whether native born or by adoption. This has been manifested in time of war as well as peace, on a thousand battle fields, they have vied with each other in defense of the flag and our glorious banner has been aptly in the blood of men from almost every country under the stars. It has been borne aloft by the hands of those who have come to us from all nations, and there is nothing that removes differences and contentions as quickly as a shot at our flag. I am speaking in general terms; there may be those who have no sentiment, whose souls are so dead that they to themselves have never said: 'It is my own, or my adopted land.' But our people, as a rule, love our institutions. Here we dwell in the enjoyment of liberties, secured to us by the patriotism and sacrifices of our forefathers. Our flag expresses the truth that this is a government of the people, for the people, and by the people.

"Our flag means more to us today than ever before. It floats untroubled in the breeze, to which the people of other nations are looking with earnest eyes in the hope that from the government which it represents, shall come forth a decree that will lead to the cessation of hostilities and bring to the world, universal peace.

"In keeping with the proclamation of the president of the United States, I, John H. Morehead, governor of Nebraska, hereby earnestly request that on the 14th day of June, all of our people, those having charge of the state house and public institutions of the state, and our public schools in particular, display the flag, set apart a portion of the day to explain to the pupils the significance and meaning of the day, instilling into the minds of young and old, the essence of patriotism, that it is not something that alone expresses itself in times of war, but in times of peace. That the flag is not simply a piece of bunting, but is an emblem of all that we have and are as a free and independent republic. Let the people assemble in their places of public meetings and do

THOUSANDS READY TO FOLLOW FLAG

Many Organizations Lined Up to March Along With Old Glory Next Wednesday.

ROUTE OF PARADE OUTLINED

Flag day parade arrangements are almost complete, the time set, the line of march determined and close to 20,000 men and women pledged to march. The parade will start from Twenty-fourth and Farnam streets at 2:30 o'clock next Wednesday. The line of march is east to Sixteenth, north to Capitol avenue, east to Fifteenth, south to Douglas, east to Thirtieth, south to Farnam, west to Fifteenth, south to Harney, west to Sixteenth, south to Leavenworth and disband. The paraders will march sixteen abreast.

 School children who will sing patriotic songs and give the flag salute will be massed at three points along the line of march, at the court house, where there will be 5,000, principally from the parochial schools; at the federal building and somewhere between Eighteenth and Nineteenth and Farnam streets.
 Individual flags for each marcher will be provided by the general committee. Byrne-Hammer company employes will carry a large flag, 35x48 feet, which they are making. The flag will be carried flat.
 E. V. Parrish of the Commercial club will send out 30,000 cards printed in different languages, urging all foreign-born citizens to march in the parade. Mrs. J. H. Dumont of the women's committee will urge every minister to speak of the parade from the pulpit Sunday morning.
 Sixteen bands have been engaged and four more are authorized.

PHILL HALL VISITS CAMP OF OMAHA HIGH CADETS

Valley, Neb., June 8.—(Special Telegram.)—Adjutant General P. L. Hall visited the cadet encampment yesterday afternoon with his staff. He inspected the camp and judged the company lines at the regimental parade in the afternoon. Company B, Captain Edward Ziffel commanding, placed first. Company D took second honors and company E, third. The morning troop parade line was won by company F, in command of Fred Wolrath. Company G took second, and company H, third.

Recommendations have been handed in by the commissioned officers for the officers for next year. Captain Edward Ziffel won a bet of $10 by capturing a cadet trying to run the guard Monday night.

To End Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness and head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear a watch tick tell how they have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you will have been the means of saving some poor sufferer from perhaps total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Strangler Lewis Arrives in Omaha To Start Training

Ed. "Strangler" Lewis, who is matched to tilt with Joe Stecher in Omaha July 4, arrived in Omaha yesterday morning. Lewis breezed into the city surrounded by a crew of training partners and handlers and will start active work at once. Billy Sandow, his manager, arrived last Sunday and made plans for the training camp at Carter lake. The "Strangler" will go into camp immediately and subject himself to a stiff course of training. He will remain in Omaha until after the match is held. He is staying at the Castle hotel.
