

RUSSIANS TAKE OVER 60,000 MEN

Slavs Continue Their Offensive Against Austrians, Forcing Way Across Rivers.

GERMANS ARE SENT TO RESCUE

London, June 10.—The Russians are keeping up with success their offensive against the Austrians from the Tripet river to the Roumanian border, a front of some 250 miles. The troops of Emperor Nicholas have crossed the Stripa river in Galicia and reached the Zlota Lipa river. Petrograd reports that 1,143 officers and more than 64,700 men have been taken prisoner since the present great drive against the Austrians began.

East of Lutsk, near the center of the advancing Russian line, General Brusiloff's troops have made important advances along the Styry river and the Kovel Rovno railway. It is reported from Petrograd that German troops have been sent to aid the Austrians.

Reach New Positions.

Vienna admits that the Austro-Hungarian troops have reached new positions on the River Styry, in Volhynia, after fighting rear guard actions with the Russians.

The Germans after their successful thrust in the Thiaumont farm have eased for the moment their infantry attacks against this section of the front on Paris reports. Their artillery bombardments, however, are continued to be heavy in the region south of the Thiaumont farm, the Capture wood, in the Famin wood, and south of Damloup. On the left bank of the Meuse several attacks by German infantry against Hill 304 have been repulsed by the French.

Italians Withdraw.

Under the pressure of infantry and artillery attacks, the Italian troops have withdrawn to new positions in the zone east of Asiago and east of the Campomulo valley. This is admitted by Rome, and Vienna officially claims further gains on the Asiago highlands. The Austro-Hungarians report the number of Italians taken prisoner since the beginning of the month as 12,400.

King Constantine has signed an order demobilizing twelve classes of the Greek army, amounting to 150,000 men. Paris considers this action as being the result of pressure by the entente allies. The demobilization order, it is reported from Athens, may bring about the downfall of the Kouloudis ministry.

Railroad Officials Investigate Fatal Accident at Bluffs

Baptist Church People of Benson To Burn Mortgage

Next Thursday evening the Benson Baptist church will hold special services and a social in observance of the tenth anniversary of its organization. A special feature for the evening will be the ceremony of formally burning a mortgage on the church lots.

The Benson church was organized in 1856 with a charter membership of sixteen. Now the membership is over 100. The present building was erected on a lot about four lots south of Main street on Sixth street.

It is moved to its present location about two years ago. It is the hope of the church to be able within a few years to erect a large and more substantial building and convert the present frame building into a parsonage.

Rev. Charles H. Burrill, who has been pastor of the church for more than three years, has resigned. The faith of Mrs. Burrill compels him to leave the pastorate for a time, but he hopes to remain in religious work.

Thursday evening there will be a musical program, an address by Rev. DeLarme of the First Baptist church of Omaha, a paper by Miss Christina Johnson, the only charter member. This paper will tell the story of the organization of the church and recount the developments. The burning of the mortgage and the social will be on the lawn. The women of the church will serve ice cream and cake. The program follows:

Ring Much Impressed With Some Republican Nominating Speeches

BY RING W. LARDNER.

Chicago, June 10.—(Special Telegram.)—At about 5:30 a boy named Parke Brown that works on the Tribune come in from the telephone booth out to the Coliseum and says he just had a message for me from the boss and the boss wanted to know why didn't I come and write something. Meaning that my stuff didn't make no difference when it is written, because I don't know nothing and let the reporters that do know something stay there and get the news, but I got to leave the Coliseum just when the most interesting thing of the day is being pulled off, to wit the demonstration for a guy named Roosevelt that nobody wants for president except the people. The reason this was the most interesting thing of the day was because it was what they call spontaneous and not bought and paid for demonstration like they give for the rest of the candidates that nobody heard of and probably won't never hear about them again.

Must Have Ring's Dope.

So I had to leave the Coliseum and come down town and go without supper so as the paper would have something to run about the convention when it went to press even if my stuff is worthless and hasn't no bearing on the subject.

But being brought up to obey those in authority, I am doing like I was told with a smile and trying not to be mad to be called away in the pinch.

I got in yesterday just as Mr. Harding was calling out the rolls of the states for nominations. The first state was Alabama and they says they did not have no candidates and from what I seen of Alabama I believe them. Then come Alaska and they says they did not have none either because all the gold diggers was down town. So then come Arizona and the chairman got up and said he didn't have no candidate and would yield Arizona to New York but one of the delegates protested and says that one of the delegates that answered to his name was not there, but had left for Arizona last night and he must be a sucker. Well, anyway the delegate's name who had been called out and who got up and says "I" was Wright and when Mr. Harding ast him if he left for Arizona last night, he says he had.

"Well, then," says Mr. Harding, "you ain't right, are you?"

"Wrong Mr. Wright."

"No," says the wrong Mr. Wright, "Mr. Wright has went home."

"Well, well," says Mr. Harding, "and who gave you the right to speak for him?"

"Well, well," says the wrong Mr. Wright, "Mr. Right gave his badge before he started home."

The general opinion amongst the convention was that this here substitute had won the badge from Mr. Right in a rummy game, but anyway it didn't seem to make no difference and New York got the floor. Doc Nicholas Murray Butler of the Butler Bros. then got up, but Mr. Harding says, "Governor Whitman has the floor," so Governor Whitman got up and the Doc set down. The governor kept his candidate's name secret till the finish, and nobody knowed for a long while if he was boosting Gyp-the-Blood or John McGraw, but finally he come right out and says he was talking about Charley Hughes, and then come the first demonstration. It lasted twenty-one minutes by an Ingersoll and was fully as enthusiastic as a Philadelphia American league base ball crowd.

Girl Leads Rooting.

Then Doc Butler give us the name of Eli Root, and a girl named Myrtle in Section 53 of the gallery led the rooting. She was a strong argument against equal suffrage. The demonstration for Eli would have lasted two or three minutes, only this girl, and she kept it going ten minutes longer because everybody loves a good soprano.

The next speaker was Governor Willis from Ohio, and it developed that he was plugging for Burton, but not the Burton that writes our automobile junk. Mr. Governor Willis's speech was a grand speech, only after he promised us he was going to close up, he forgot the name of the guy he was up there to nominate and had to keep stalling along a couple of extra hours, till the prompter put him wise.

Governor Willis's talk was a masterpiece and none of us had heard nothing like it since we left high school. Probably you can get copies of it from the Associated Press. The only thing I can recall from memory is, "I am not here to pluck the fragrant flowers of eloquence," maybe you can imagine the rest of it from that. The beauty of the governor's piece was that he kept us mystified. He mentioned McKinley and Garfield and Lincoln and Blaine so many times that we thought sure he was going to nominate one of them four. He sprung Burton as a big surprise as soon as he remembered his name.

The demonstration was something grand.

Have a Heart.

Oh, yes, another thing he says was that the republican nominee amongst other qualification, must have a heart, and everybody in the press stand was so impressed they repeated the words after him, "Have a heart."

He recited poetry, too, I think Sam Kiser wrote it.

After Governor Willis's speech several of us felt overcome and went out to smoke.

"Where you going?" ast a policeman.

"Out to smoke," says I.

"Well, you can't go out," he says.

"Under what city statute can't you leave no place only your own home?" I ast him.

"All right," says he, "you can go out but you can't come back."

Shos Up the Police.

So we went out, and when we got ready, we come back, proving the fallacy of the old adage that a Chicago policeman is perfect.

When we got back, somebody had left the door open and a crowd of Sherminites had come in out of the rain. Many of them was from the Hamilton club, and as I had been invited to lunch there once, I made no protest.

The next speaker was Mr. Lodge of Massachusetts. And he was nominating Weeks, but he did not talk for Weeks like the rest of them, but only a few minutes.

The next speaker was Mr. Miller from Delaware and he nominated Mr. Dupont of the powder mill and the subsequent demonstration, led by W. J. Bryan, was as long drawn out and as noisy as an explosion of punk with a Maxim silencer attached.

Mr. Miller named many of Mr. Dupont's qualifications, but he forgot to mention that he wears two-bit collars and eats with a fork and is good to his folks and the hired girl.

Then comes Mr. Calhoun that nominated Mr. Sherman, the man who said war was hell, and all us humorists has been joking about it ever since.

Fairbanks of the Wabash.

Mr. Calhoun's speech was followed by a grand march by members of the Hamilton club, most of which looked like they'd rather be back there. Then come Will R. Wood of Lafayette, Ind., and nominated Mr. Fairbanks and the delegation from Indiana sang "On the Fairbanks of the Wabash."

Mr. Wood's speech was unique and didn't hold off the name of the candidate till the finish but left us know right away who he was talking about so as we wouldn't think it was Nelson Jens, the South Bend funeral director.

The demonstration for Mr. Fairbanks had to be stopped by the police. After the stoppage, Mr. Harding says the next speaker would be Mr. Kendall and I was scared it was going to be Ben Kendall that works on this paper Ad lib. But this here was a Mr. Kendall, a congressman, and he says Mr. Cummins, who he was plugging, was born in Pennsylvania, educated in Illinois and married in Michigan. And now he's in Iowa and they's only one thing left to happen to him there.

Fall for Roosevelt.

Then come Mr. Fall for Roosevelt, like everybody else does but the delegates. Mr. Fall was said to of promised that he wouldn't say more than a 100 words, but he disappointed. He made a pretty long speech, and while I wouldn't say it wasn't a good speech, I would say that I could make a better one and stuck inside the hundred words. I would of said: "My countrymen (everybody says that): All these guys that went ahead of me have told who their candidates was and listed their qualifications. You know who my candidate was and is and you know his qualifications. Some of them others of course, needs a long speech of introduction because they never been heard of outside of What Cheer and Great Bend. This guy of mine hasn't never kept himself a secret. Teddy, you're a bear."

Then I would of went out and smoked.

The reason I criticise all these birds is because I don't expect to never meet them. You can bet I wouldn't be so rough with no ball player or foot ball coach.

Glad He Got the Spaghetti Necktie

Bragio Cardella, 1103 Pacific street, presented Officer Carver with a spaghetti necktie yesterday afternoon. The donor explained that he appreciated what Mr. Carver had done for his boy. Mr. Cardella is a spaghetti manufacturer. He wove fine strands of the product and inserted red, white and blue ribbons. Mr. Carver will wear the necktie during the patriotic parade next Wednesday and on July 4.

"I appreciate this present more than any gift I have received for many a day, because I know it represented a deep feeling of appreciation," said Mr. Carver.

POLICE ARREST MAN WHO CONFESSES THEFT

Scarcely an hour after Mrs. L. Harde, 704 South Seventeenth street discovered that some one had robbed her residence. Officer Krebe arrested Dan McDonald, living at the Salvation Army Industrial home, at Fourteenth and Douglas streets, charging him with being a suspicious character.

On his way to the station, McDonald confessed to having robbed the house and reaching in his pocket drew out $8.75, the amount which Mrs. Harde had reported missing. He said that he had been sent to work for Mrs. Harde by the Salvation Army and had taken the purse containing the money from the kitchen cabinet while at the place.

Observe the CORDS!

SILVERTOWN Cord Tires have no Threads in them! Nor have they the 5 to 7 layers (of Threads) as used in other so-called "Cord" Tires, and in the Palmer-Web Tires we abandoned making in 1913.

They have CORDS only,—giant Cords (as shown in picture herewith) and only two layers of these, with a layer of Rubber between to prevent friction.

Each one of these two CORDS is strong enough to lift a Man's weight.

It is the enormous Strength of these flat, rubber-impregnated, CORDS,—firmly anchored, with equal tension on every inch,—that gives to Silvertown Cord Tires their unequalled Endurance.

Witness the recent Mulford achievement of driving more than 1500 Miles, at 76 Miles per hour average, without changing a Tire.

Witness the winning of every important high-speed, or long-distance, Race during the past two years on Silvertown Cord Tires.

SUCH is the marvellous Resilience of these Two-layer (Silvertown) CORD Tires that a Car will coast 25% to 30% further on them, down a slight road incline, than would the same Car on the best Fabric Tires made.

This easily-proven fact indicates why the same Motor-power drives the same Car 17% faster than that Car could be driven on the best Fabric Tires.

It also supplies a key to the 25% saving on Gasolene, per mile, which results from the use of Silvertown CORD Tires.

But it does not, so clearly, explain the wonderful smoothness of riding on Silvertown Tires,—that luxurious sense of gliding over the ground instead of "driving" over it.

This is probably the highest attribute of the Silvertown Cord Tire—that which is most valued by the critical Car-Owner.

SILVERTOWN Cord Tires, are made with Silvertown "Safety-Tread" and with Silvertown "Rib-Tread" (shown in Tire picture) as well.

Made in "Straight-side" Type as well as in "Clincher" Type.

No Tires on earth average LARGER for their Size and Type.

The Silvertown 36x4 1/2 Tire contains 1240 Cubic Inches of Air-space.

The nearest Thread (or so-called "Cord") 36x4 1/2 inch Tire found on the Market, after a diligent Search, has only 1191 Cubic Inches, for same Straight-side Type and Size.

THE original Silvertown Rib-Tread being now closely copied by Makers of other Tires, we have identified the genuine Silvertowns with a small and slightly Trade-Mark.

That Trade-Mark is a double-diamond of red rubber, on each Tire, as pictured on upper part of Tire herewith (and as spacers between paragraphs of this Advt.).

By this, and their aristocratic appearance, shall you know them. Silvertowns can now be had through all Goodrich Dealers and Branches.

Made solely by The B. F. Goodrich Co., of Akron, O.

Silvertown Cord Tires are Standard Equipment on the following Cars:
