WILSON DESIRES MARSHALL UPON TICKET WITH HIM

Baker Arrives at St. Lou's With Platform Drafted by President and Direct Word He Wants Hoosier as Mate.

MOREHEAD'S HAT IN THE RING

Nebraska Governor Announces He Will Permit His Name to Go Before Convention.

M'COMBS PLEADS WITH MOOSE

St. Louis, June 13.—Secretary Baker arrived here late today from Washington bringing a platform drafted by President Wilson and direct word from the president himself that he desires the renomination of Vice President Marshall.

After surveying the situation Governor Morehead announced tonight he would allow his name to go before the convention as a candidate for the vice presidential nomination.

St. Louis, June 13.—National Chairman McCombs sent the following telegram today to Bainbridge Colby, the progressive leader of New York, in reply to a statement of Mr. Colby suggesting that the progressives should go slowly in determining their future course and to do every justice to President Wilson in their consideration.

"I have seen your statement. Colonel Roosevelt appears to have sent his former and enthusiastic followers stumbling to destruction. The progressive democrats cordially and sincerely offer them safety."

Three names are under consideration today for the chairmanship. They are: United States Senator Willard Salisbury of Delaware, Homer H. Cummings of Connecticut, vice chairman of the present committee, and Colonel E. M. House of New York.

President Wilson has indicated that any one of the three is agreeable to him.

Wilbur W. Marsh, national committee man from Iowa, is most likely to be chosen as treasurer to succeed Rolla Wells. Henry Morgenthau probably will again be chairman of the finance committee.

The new national committee meets Saturday and expects to select the chairman at that time. The committee men generally agree that they would prefer to name as leader one of their own members. Mr. Cummings is almost certain to be the man if the chairman is taken from within their own number.

Wilbur W. Marsh of Waterloo, Ia., led the fight for the Clark works from Iowa and the middle western states at the Baltimore convention four years ago and his selection, it was urged, would further heal any scars that may remain from that contest.

Marshall For Vice President.

Prospects of a fight over a vice presidential nominee diminished today as incoming delegations lined up for the Vice President, Marshall. Some of the candidates themselves declared they would not attempt to oppose him.

The situation as to the Roger Sullivan boom, which neither Sullivan himself nor his supporters took seriously, is this:

Senator James Hamilton Lewis declared that if Sullivan's friends persisted he would take the field as a vice presidential candidate with the avowed purpose of dividing the Illinois delegation and thus aid in killing off the Sullivan boom.

Governor Morehead of Nebraska, another vice presidential candidate, reached St. Louis today and said he had started in to diagnose his own case and find out whether his boom was healthy. The governor said if he found it waning in strength he would withdraw before nominations were made.

Supporters of William J. Bryan in the Nebraska delegation said today that an effort made to have Judge W. H. Thompson, a Bryan member of the delegation, make the speech nominating Governor Morehead, had failed.

There was some talk today of a coalition of western states to secure the nomination of a western man.

Governor Stewart of Montana, who arrived today, disclaimed vice presidential aspirations.

DEMOCRATS MAD AT CHOICE OF HUGHES

Unterrified in Dumps Because Republicans Are Getting Progressive Support.

BRYAN TO REMAIN QUIET

BY EDGAR C. SNYDER. St. Louis, Mo., June 13.—(Special Telegram.)—The democrats, and there are quite a bunch of the unterrified in town, are mad because the republicans took Hughes off the supreme court bench to run for president. They are also mad because Colonel Roosevelt deserted them in their hour of need. And they do not hesitate to express their profound disgust over the situation.

These good democrats feel that the republicans put one over on them and they are vociferous in their expressions of "outrageous political ethics," whatever that may mean.

Mr. Bryan, of our state, caused great relief to the leaders, when shortly before noon today he announced that he had no intention to throw any monkey wrenches into the convention machinery. He declared he would not seek to enter the convention by proxy, if such a thing in a nation is permissible, and he further declared that he would not urge any "inks unsatisfactory to the leaders. So much for our distinguished citizen. I will have something to print about ex-Secretary Bryan and his relationship with the Nebraska delegation later.

Robbing the Judiciary.

When Representative Hull of Tennessee, suggested that a plank disqualifying the federal judiciary from elective offices was suggested, it was snapped up eagerly by the democracy here assembled in the "Mound City," fittingly named for a democratic convention. The brave boys of the democracy went after Hull's suggestion like a bass after a minnow and ran down stream full length of the line until hauled up short. Somebody reminded them that they themselves, in this very town, in 1904, had ravaged the bench by depriving it of Judge Alton B. Parker and nominating him for their president.

But the democrats refused to give up their idea; they insisted there was a difference between the state judiciary and the supreme court of the United States.

Going To Congress.

Today another angle appears to the proposition. They now intend to take the question up in congress as soon as they return to the national capital. A joint resolution will be introduced, according to present plans, proposing an amendment to the constitution of the United States to be submitted to the states for ratification providing that the justice of the supreme court shall be available for elective office until five years after leaving the bench. Six democratic senators last night in a conference approved this idea.

Democrats Discouraged.

So much for this. There is a feeling of depression among the rank and file over the announcement of so many leading progressives of their adherence to Mr. Hughes. That George W. Perkins, George Von L. Meyer, Senator Cummins, Henry Allen and others should come out for Mr. Hughes is very discouraging. They fear that it will spoil their plans to invite wholesale recruiting to the democratic ticket from the ranks of the "bull mooseers."

There is divided counsel in the leadership over the course to be pursued in the speeches before the convention and the statements to be given out as to the personal attacks on Hughes and Fairbanks.

Senator Stone, in his statement last night, dealt in personalities to a degree which some of the leaders thought unwise, while others approved his utterances.

Bryan in Press Box.

I like to write about Mr. Bryan, the late secretary of state, because he is a Nebraskan. Mr. Bryan, whom they all have a profound admiration for, although off the political map for the time being, will remain unobtrusively in the press box. This will be the first democratic convention in twenty years that he has not dominated.

Three times out of the last five national conventions he was nominated for president. In 1904 he was not nominated, but he was recognized as a powerful factor in the party when Alton B. Parker was nominated against Bryan's advice and was overwhelmingly defeated. What happened in 1912 is remembered.

Price to Name Morehead.

Locally the situation is interesting because Governor Morehead's name is going to be presented to the convention by Mr. Price. This was decided on today at the conference, which eventuated in nothing after three hours of balloting and talking, largely the latter.

Conference of Rail Chiefs and Toolers About to Break Up

New York, June 13.—The answer to the question as to whether the representatives of the railroads and their employes would break off negotiations as the result of their dispute over wage adjustments still hung in the balance when the forenoon session of their conference adjourned today.

The railroad managers continued today to answer the 105 questions propounded by the union men regarding applications of the new wage schedule, but the proceedings were frequently interrupted by heated discussions which did not evidence a harmonious adjustment.

The railroad managers had still more questions to answer when the conference adjourned at 11 tomorrow. Immediately following the adjournment both sides declared that in all probability the conference would break up tomorrow without anything being settled.

HUGHES AGAIN STATES ATTITUDE TOWARD HYPHEN

Republican Candidate Says He Views All Problems From Standpoint of Americanism.

REPLY TO GERMAN-AMERICANS

Those Who Support Him Are Supporting an Out and Out American Policy and Nothing Else.

BACKS UP FORMER STATEMENT

New York, June 13.—Charles E. Hughes, in response to questions put to him today by newspaper men in regard to his attitude towards the support offered him by the German-Americans, said it was "one of undiluted Americanism."

"I stated my position very clearly," said the republican presidential candidate, "in my statement to the convention. My attitude is one of undiluted Americanism and anybody that supports me is supporting an out and out American policy; absolutely nothing else."

Mr. Hughes dictated his statement on "undiluted Americanism" in response to repeated requests of interviewers and in the face of his previously announced determination to say nothing further on issues of the day until his formal notification of nomination. He met the correspondents by appointment and dictated the statement standing in a group of about forty newspaper men and other callers.

Only Authorized Statement.

It was the only statement he made during his talk with newspaper men that he would permit to go out as authorized by him.

At the same time it was made clear to callers that the nominee should use what he thought was the most emphatic language he could have used on this subject in his telegram last Saturday to Chairman Harding of the republican national convention.

Mr. Hughes, it was said, intends to meet doubt that has been raised in a manner which he believes will clear it up. It will be a long campaign and a strenuous campaign, according to the present outlook at headquarters, and there will be opportunity to go into details before the American people.

The nominee, leaders said, probably will start early on his speech-making tours. These and other details, however, yet remain to be decided.

Indications today were that Mr. Hughes would remain in New York until he begins his speech-making tours, with the exception of his contemplated visit to Brown university next week.

Will Choose Chairman Later.

One of the few developments of the day at Mr. Hughes' headquarters was an announcement by Lafayette B. Gleason, secretary of the republican national committee, and also of the New York state republican committee, which indicated that it will be several days yet before any decision is reported on the question of the man who is to succeed Charles D. Hilles as chairman of the republican national committee. Mr. Gleason said that a subcommittee of the national committee would in a few days call upon the nominee to discuss the matter.

Another development was the announcement from the candidate's headquarters that moving pictures would be employed to aid his campaign. It is planned to throw on the screen throughout the country pictures of Mr. Hughes "in order that the people may again become familiar with Charles E. Hughes, because he has for so long a time been virtually out of public life." The screens also will display important passages from Mr. Hughes' telegram to the national convention accepting the nomination.

Oscar S. Straus, former candidate for governor of New York on the progressive ticket, sent a telegram to Mr. Hughes today pledging his support.

Crippled Children Safely Carried from Burning House

Cleveland, O., June 13.—Rainbow Cottage, home of 200 crippled children at South Euclid, near here, caught fire at 3:30 this morning. A general alarm summoned aid from Cleveland.

The fire started in a frame building thirty-five feet from the dormitory. An intense heat broke the windows and set the sills afire, forcing 11 to flee. All the children were carried to safety through the efforts of ten nurses.

Several Americans Reported Killed at Chihuahua City

El Paso, Tex., June 13.—A persistent rumor was current in El Paso today that several Americans had been killed in a native uprising at Chihuahua City. The rumor was attributed to a dispatch received over the telegraph lines of the Mexican Northwestern railroad, but officials of the company denied that such a message had been received.

Allies Bombard Bulgarian Coast

Paris, June 13.—A Saloniki dispatch to the Radio agency says that allied fleets are bombarding the southern Bulgarian coast from Port Lagos to Dedegatch. The population is fleeing inland, the dispatch says.

"It Looks Like Wilson," Sa Soys B. L. T. After Taking One Look

BY B. L. T.

St. Louis, Mo., June 13.—(Special Telegram.)—

WRITTEN AFTER A SURVEY OF THE DEMOCRATIC HOSTS. I don't like Emma Goldman's style, Ben Reissman is a bore, I cannot view the things they do, Without a shouting pain.

But on one item of their creed, I'm with them heart and soul; Emma and Ben are patriots when they plug for birth control.

In a letter to the managing editor of the New York Evening Post Mr. Hughes disclosed a secret ambition to report a national convention, "to be an up-to-date correspondent and say a few things." It is unfortunate that circumstances made the assignment impossible, for there is not a newspaper man here who would not cheerfully relinquish his job to Mr. Hughes for this week at least. A less inspiring field of operation was never offered to the serfs employed on the Fourth Estate. A New York thrall, writing to the Vox Pop or the New Republic, reports to disclose the secrets of his prison house. "A reporter's success on the average," he says, "depends upon how skillfully he can weave ordinary facts into a story that shall be topped by both-faced headlines." Here, if anywhere on earth, is an opportunity to test his skill as a weaver. The facts are so ordinary that the minutes of a meeting of the Knights of Pythias would seem flamboyant in comparison.

One might gather half a column of notes by sitting in the lobby of the Jefferson and watching prominent (at the waistline) democrats go by. Unluckily, the hotel management has removed everything that would serve as a background for the scene. (Continued on Page 2, Column 2.)

CARRANZA MAY FALL IN STORM OF PATRIOT HATE

Spread of Anti-Foreign Sentiment Threatens Overturf of De Facto Government, United States Learns.

FUNSTON ARRANGES TROOPS

Border Commander Makes Disposition of Soldiers Sent to Help Patrol Line.

BANDIT REPORTED CAPTURED

Washington, June 13.—There are indications that officials here feel that the de facto government is itself threatened by the spread of anti-foreign sentiment.

El Paso, Tex., June 13.—Dispatches from Mexico City to the local Mexican consulate state that the first chief is receiving a flood of congratulatory messages and pledges of support from officials and citizens in all parts of the country as the result of his recent note to the United States.

News of the capture of Captain Manuel Escobas, who was said to have been responsible for the death of General Jesus Carranza, brother of the first chief, a year and a half ago, was conveyed in the dispatch.

San Antonio, Tex., June 13.—General Funston announced today that four of the eleven companies of coast artillery ordered into the department would be given station at Eagle Pass, four held at Fort Sam Houston for emergency use and the remaining three sent to Columbus. Upon arrival of the companies ordered to Columbus a battalion of the Twentieth infantry, now there, will return to El Paso, completing the regiment at that point.

It is General Funston's intention to hold the three companies of engineer troops here.

Railway Wag Conference Seems Near to Deadlock

New York, June 13.—The conference of railroad managers and officials of railroad men's unions, representing about 350,000 employees, look perilously near a deadlock today.

This was the result of the application of what the men called a "yard stick" to their demands. In this the railway officials declared that "time paid for under one rule is not to be paid for under another rule or rules."

This proposal was regarded so unfavorably by officials of the unions that A. B. Garretson, president of the Order of Railway Conductors, the chief spokesman for the employees, said:

"It does not look at all promising for a continuation of this conference."

Scores Are Rumored Dead in Elevator Fire at Baltimore

Baltimore, Md., June 13.—Fire which followed an explosion in a main elevator of the Pennsylvania railroad at Canton, a suburb, destroyed the huge structure this afternoon, together with about 1,600,000 bushels of grain. Two steamships loading at the elevator also caught fire.

Reports of loss of life persisted. Some estimates were that twenty-five to fifty men, elevator employes and members of the crew of the Wel-len Van Driel, had been killed.

Two Boys Drown In Missouri River

Attempting to save his younger brother, who had been carried out into the swift current of the Missouri river, Carl Jacobsen, 12 years old, was drowned in the swirling waters of the stream, as was his brother, Elmer, 9 years old.

The double tragedy occurred at the foot of Washington street on the South Side about 7 o'clock yesterday evening.

Together with several other boys, the Jacobsen lads went in bathing about 6 o'clock.

Elmer, a sturdy little lad, was having a merry time swimming about in the treacherous waters of the Big Muddy. He ventured too far from shore, however, and got into the swift current about fifteen feet from the river bank.

Heroic Attempt to Rescue. Carl, the older brother, saw his plight and plunged into the stream. The heroic attempt proved in vain, for the strong current carried them both far out into the river.

Their companions were forced to stand helpless on the bank and see them carried to their death.

The police dragged the river, but hopes of recovering the bodies have been given up.

The father of the boys, Christ Jacobsen, 1516 Washington street, a cabinet maker, their mother and three sisters are grief-stricken.

THOUSANDS ARE READY TO MARCH FOR FLAG TODAY

Final Plans Completed for the Greatest Patriotic Demonstration in the History of the City.

EXPECT 35,000 TO MARCH

Thousands of School Children Will Stand Along Line of March and Sing.

TO START PROMPTLY AT 2:30

The day of the parade has arrived. The patriotic flag parade, with which Omahans are to celebrate Flag day in Omaha, is to move promptly at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from the assembling point at Twenty-fourth and Farnam street.

Unless all signs fail, the greatest masses of humanity ever seen on the streets of Omaha, outside of the nights of the electrical parades during the Ak-Sar-Ben session, will be seen when Grand Marshal General Harries blows his shrill whistle and leads off.

Indications are that between 30,000 and 35,000 persons will march. School Children Along Sidewalks.

Thirty thousand school children are to be banded along the sidewalks, on the court house lawn and steps, and in other convenient places. Multitudes of humanity will be massed along the sidewalks to see the spectacle.

And such a spectacle as it will be! Not a horse in the parade, not a banner, not a trumpet, not a badge, not an automobile—nothing but a waving, rippling, pulsing ocean of flags, American flags—a riot of red, white and blue.

Divided Into Divisions.

The parade is to be divided into sections and divisions. A number of sections make up a division.

Eighteen bands will play in the parade, and nothing but patriotic airs will be heard.

As the paraders come down the street almost from curb to curb, the school children massed along the sides will sing patriotic songs, of which they will be furnished with printed copies.

Vast Chorus to Sing.

During the course of the parade, perhaps shortly before the disbanding point is reached, the vast column will be halted, and there, standing in the center of the street, the 35,000 persons will lift their voices, a thunderous chorus, chanting the patriotic strains of "America." The vast crowds of school children along the sides will join in the song at the same time.

Following is the line of march:

Starts from Twenty-fourth and Farnam at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon. Line of march: East on Farnam to Fifteenth, north to Capitol avenue, east to Fifteenth, south to Douglas, west to Thirtieth, south to Farnam, west to Fifteenth, to Harney, west to Sixteenth, west to Leavenworth, west to Twenty-fourth.

Exercises at Hansom Park.

Following the big parade, the Elks division will proceed to Hansom park, where they will hold flag day exercises, as is their custom on flag day, with General George H. Harries as speaker.

All business houses of importance will be closed during the afternoon, and employes in every plant have been urged to parade. Enthusiasm has grown steadily during the last few weeks for this big event, and with the indications for fair weather, the parade bids fair to be a grand success.

Fair weather or foul, however, it has been announced that the parade will move on schedule time, and, above all that it will move, no matter what the weather. Organizations not at the assembling places at the scheduled time when the parade starts will be left.

The Menoma chorus of 145 voices will proceed along the line of march about a half hour before the parade starts, making stops at Eighteenth and Farnam streets, Seventeenth and Farnam streets, Sixteenth and Dodge streets, Sixteenth and Douglas streets, and at other corners.

The ministers of Omaha have been requested to assemble at the Young Men's Christian association at 3 o'clock to march in the parade.

SONG ALL WILL SING AMERICA

I. My country 'tis of thee, Sweet land of liberty, Of thee I sing; Land where my fathers died! Land of the Pilgrim's pride! From every mountain side, Let freedom ring!

II. My native country, thee— Land of the noble free— Thy name I love; I love thy rocks and rills, Thy woods and temple hills, My heart with rapture thrills, Like that above.

III. Let music swell the breeze, And ring from all the trees, Sweet freedom's holy day; Let mortal tongues awake; Let all that breathe partake; Let rocks their silence break, The sound prolong.

IV. Our father's God! to Thee, Author of liberty, To Thee we sing; Long may our land be bright, With freedom's holy light; Protect us by Thy might, Great God, our King!
