

WILSON ADDRESSES WEST POINT CADETS

President Discusses Preparedness, Militarism, Monroe Doctrine and Americanism.

NO DIVIDED ALLEGIANCE

West Point, N. Y., June 13.—President Wilson, making his first address since the presidential campaign began, today discussed preparedness, militarism, Americanism and causes of the war in Europe, peace, the Monroe doctrine, divided allegiance and the ideals of America. He declared it is the present imperative duty of the United States to be prepared, adding "mankind is going to know that when America speaks it means what it says."

General George W. Goethals, governor of the Panama canal zone, was one of the visitors here and expected to confer with the president regarding his desire to retire. He considers the canal finished.

Following his address the president walked to the battle monument where a canopy of American flags had been erected over the seat. As the president spoke he faced up the historic Hudson river. Mrs. Wilson, dressed entirely in white and wearing a bouquet of purple orchids, sat facing the president.

Following his address and a luncheon with a group of officers, the president motored around the grounds. He planned to leave at 3 o'clock for Washington.

America Must Come First. Shaking his finger emphatically, the president told the graduates of the military academy and a large audience that nobody who does not put America first can be tolerated. He added, however, that true Americans should set a good example.

The president declared the present war did not come by accident, but that it had to come. The United States wants nothing from Europe, he said, and there is nothing it wants which it must get by war. He sounded a warning that no man can tell what the next day will bring forth in world's events.

The word Americanism was used today by the president for the first time in recent addresses. He warned the graduates against militarism.

Not a Blustering Nation. The president said the United States should not be a blustering nation, a nation with a "chip on its shoulder," but a calm nation which will withhold its hands as long as possible and strike only for victory.

The president's address ran through the entire list of subjects discussed by former Justice Hughes in his telegram accepting the republican nomination and he declared the United States is ready to join with other nations to see that the kind of justice it believes in is given.

The president's speech was frequently interrupted by applause. The text follows:

"I look upon this body of men who are graduating today with a peculiar interest. I feel like congratulating them that they are living in a day not only so interesting because fraught with change, but also because so responsible. Days of responsibility are the only days that count in time, because they are the only days that give test of quality. They are the only days when manhood and purpose is tried out as if by fire.

"I need not tell you, young gentlemen, that you are not like an ordinary graduating class of one of our universities. The men in those classes look forward to the life which they are to lead after graduation with a great many questions in their mind. Most of them do not know exactly what their lives are going to develop into. Some of them do not know what occupations they are going to follow. All of them are conjecturing what will be the line of duty and advancement and the ultimate goal of success for them.

"There is no conjecture for you. You have enlisted in something that does not stop. You leave the academy, for you then only begin to realize it, which then only begins to be filled with the full richness of its meaning, and you can look forward with absolute certainty to the sort of thing that you will be obliged to do.

"But in your case there are many extraordinary possibilities because, gentlemen, no man can certainly tell you what the immediate future is going to be, either in the history of this country or in the history of the world. It is not by accident that the present great war came in Europe. Every element was there and the contest had to come sooner or later, and it is not going to be by accident that the results are worked out, but by purpose—by the purpose of the men who are strong enough to have guiding minds and indomitable wills when the time for decision and settlement come.

"And the part that the United States is to play has this distinction in it, that it is to be in any event a disinterested part. There is nothing the United States wants that it has to get by war, but there are a great many things that the United States has to do. It has to see that its life is not interfered with by anybody else who wants something.

Preparedness Imperative Duty.

"These are the days when we are making preparation, when the thing most commonly discussed around every sort of table, in every sort of circle, in the shops and in the streets, is preparedness, and undoubtedly, gentlemen, that is the present imperative duty of America to be prepared. But we ought to know what we are preparing for. I remember hearing a wise man say once that the old maxim that 'everything comes to the man who waits,' is all very well, provided he knows what he is waiting for; and preparedness might be a very hazardous thing if we did not know what we wanted to do with the force that we mean to accumulate and get into fighting shape.

"America, fortunately, does know what it wants to do with its force. America came into existence for a particular reason. . . . You are so familiar with American history, as any rate in its general character—I don't accuse you of knowing the details of it, for I never found the younger who did—but you are so familiar with the general character of American history that it does not seem strange to you, but it is a very strange history.

"There is none other like it in the whole annals of mankind—of men

DIRECTOR OF THE LATEST RUSSIAN DRIVE

GEN. A. A. BRUSILOFF, Russian Commander.

General A. A. Brusiloff, the Russian commander, whose army has broken through the Austrian lines for 100 miles on the Galician front and in five days has taken more than 100,000 prisoners. Brusiloff's objective is the great Austrian fortress of Lemberg.

gathering out of every civilized nation of the world on an unused continent and building up the polity exactly to suit themselves, not under the domination of any ruling dynasty or of the ambitions of any royal family.

"Now, what we are preparing to do is to see that nobody mars that, and that, being safe itself against interference from the outside, all of its force is going to be behind its moral idea, and mankind is going to know that when America speaks it means what it says. I heard a man say to another: 'If you wish me to consider you witty, I must really trouble you to make a joke.' We have a right to say to the rest of mankind: 'If you don't want to interfere with us, if you are disinterested, we must really trouble you to give the evidence of that fact. We are not in for anything selfish and we want the whole might power of America thrown into that scale and not into any others.

Militarism is a System. "You know that the chief thing that is holding many back from enthusiasm for what is called preparedness is the fear of militarism. I want to say a word to you young gentlemen about militarism. You're not a militarist because you are military. Militarism does not consist in the existence of an army, not even in the existence of a very great army. Militarism is a spirit. It is a point of view. It is a system. It is a purpose. The purpose of militarism is to use arms for aggression. The spirit of militarism is the opposite of the civilian spirit—the citizen spirit. In a country where militarism prevails, the military man looks down upon the civilian, regards him as inferior, thinks of him as intended for his, the military man's, support and use; and just so long as America is America, that spirit and point of view is impossible with us. There is as yet in this country so far as I can discover no taint of the spirit of militarism.

Civil Power Is Superior. "You know that one thing in which our forefathers took pride was this, that the civil power is superior to the military power in the United States. Once again the people of the United States have so greatly admired some military man as to make him president of the United States when he became commander in chief of all the forces of the United States, but he was commander in chief because he was president, not because he had been trained to arms and his authority was civil not military. I can teach you nothing of military power, but I am instructed by the constitution to use you for patriotic purposes and that is the only use you are to be put to. That is the only use you ought to be put to, because after all what is the use in being an American if you do not know what it is?

Americanism Defined. "We have talked a good deal about Americanism. It ought to be a matter of pride with us to know what Americanism really consists of. Americanism consists in utterly believing in the principles of America and putting them first as above anything that might by chance come into competition with it. And I for my part believe that the American test is a spiritual test. If an American has to make excuses for what he has done as an American I doubt his Americanism. He ought to know at every step of his action that the motive that lies behind what he does is a motive which no American need be ashamed of for a moment. Now we ought to put this test to every man we know. We ought to let it be known that anybody who does not put America first cannot consort with us. But we ought to set them the example by thinking American thoughts, by entertaining American purposes and those thoughts and purposes will stand the test of example anywhere in the world, for they are intended for the betterment of mankind."

FINISHING BLOW FOR VILLISTA BAND

Largest Remnant of Followers of Bandit Broken Up in Canon Fight.

WERE COMPLETELY SURPRISED

Field Headquarters General Pershing, June 12.—(Via Radio to Columbus, N. M., June 13.)—The finishing blow was given the largest surviving band of Villa's followers in Chihuahua at daylight June 9 by twenty men of the Thirteenth United States cavalry under Captain Otto W. Rethorst in a dashing canyon fight twenty miles north of Santa Clara, near here.

The Americans routed twenty-five Villa bandits, killing three, wounding several and capturing all their horses and saddles, some rifles and several thousand rounds of ammunition, crippling the band completely.

A night ride brought the Americans into the canyon at daybreak, where they followed fresh horse tracks. Riding at a gallop they rounded a canyon turn within 200 yards of the encampment in a grove of pines. It was a complete surprise. There, waiting for the Americans, were the Villa followers, who, half clad, grabbed rifles and fought from behind trees.

The Americans dismounted and within three minutes had routed the bandits, who abandoned everything and sought refuge in the rugged mountains. For four hours the Americans continued the pursuit, climbing over the mountains aloft and fighting from the shelter of rocks. Several Mexicans were shot, but neither the bodies nor the wounded were recovered.

Returning to the Mexican bivouac the Americans added the bandits' breakfast to their own repast. The bandits had only beef and coffee. This band is said to have been the largest surviving remnant of the force of Candelaria Cervantes, who was killed three weeks ago in a brush with Americans. The engagement is regarded as the most important accomplishment of the campaign.

Situation Seems Improved. Washington, June 13.—While some State department advisers today gave a more favorable aspect to conditions in northern Mexico others reported anti-American demonstrations, leaving the situation unchanged. The agitation has subsided in the Chihuahua City region, where the most violent outbreaks occurred.

Secretary Lansing indicated, however, that smashing of store windows, parading and speech making had constituted the greater part of the outbreaks. The rioters have not distinguished between Americans and other foreigners, it was stated, although the cause of the disorder is always given as the American troops on Mexican soil.

It is known that some feel certain propaganda is not being carried on without General Carranza's approval.

Sound and fury signifying less than nothing fill the corridors of the Jefferson. One year for a hotel described in a contribution which was forwarded to me:

The Traveling Man's Home. Sir, for comfort and homelike atmosphere I recommend the Hotel in Boone, Ia., where the gentlemanly planist pounds out ragtime for the edification of the guests in the dining room. On hearing the pianist strike up "Hello Hawaii," the proprietor's son, who is also a clerk, starts toward the piano from the center of the lobby, humming the air with increasing volume until he reaches the instrument, where, striking a pose, he bursts into full song and completes the selection to the great enjoyment of all present, not omitting himself. Meanwhile, the night clerk stands at ease in his accustomed position behind the desk smoking a good cigar. Quisque Penelon.

Honorable Sir: Having been appointed a member of the entertainment committee of the national democratic convention to be held here June 14 to 17, I had hoped to be able to meet you during this period, but find that I have been assigned to the delegation from the state of West Virginia and no doubt will be unwise to meet you in person at the Coliseum. From the other end of the wire comes the query: "How about a last line?"

And instantly, J. I. L., we thought of one: It looks like Wilson.

Doctors Will Take Part in Campaign for Preparedness

Detroit, June 13.—Aggressive assistance from medical men and medical organizations of the United States in the movement for national preparedness was asked by Dr. Rupert Blue, surgeon general of the United States public health service, in an address today at the opening session of the American Medical association's convention. Dr. Blue, president-elect of the association, gave the principal address.

Dr. Blue referred to the use of drugs as "one of the greatest social evils in this country" and urged the medical men to participate in a far-reaching campaign to discourage use of habit-forming drugs.

WHY WOMEN WRITE LETTERS

To Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co.

Women who are well often ask "Are the letters which the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. are continually publishing, genuine?" "Are they truthful?" "Why do women write such letters?"

In answer we say that never have we published a fictitious letter or name. Never, knowingly, have we published an untrue letter, or one without the full and written consent of the woman who wrote it.

The reason that thousands of women from all parts of the country write such grateful letters to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives, once burdened with pain and suffering.

It has relieved women from some of the worst forms of female ills, from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, nervousness, weakness, stomach troubles and from the blues.

It is impossible for any woman who is well and who has never suffered to realize how these poor, suffering women feel when restored to health; their keen desire to help other women who are suffering as they did.

Use Coconut Oil For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain multifid coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two spoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get multifid coconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.—Advertisement.

GERMANS AID IN ATTACK

Berlin, June 13.—(By Wireless to Sayville.)—German and Austro-Hungarian troops delivered a heavy counter attack on Russian forces advancing in northeastern Bukovina and drove them back, the official Austrian statement of June 12 says. The Austrians captured 1,300 Russians.

The statement says: "In northeast Bukovina Austro-Hungarian troops disengaged themselves from the enemy under heavy rear-guard fighting. German and Austro-Hungarian regiments by a counter attack drove back a hostile force advancing northwest from Buchacz. Thirteen hundred Russians were captured."

"On the height east of Wennezyk a Russian attack was delivered this morning, but it broke down under our fire. East of Kozlov Austro-Hungarian scout detachments captured a Russian advanced post. Violent fighting continues northwest of Tarnopol."

"Along the Ikwa and in Volhynia it was comparatively quiet yesterday. West of Kolki we repulsed a Russian attempt to cross the river. In that region, as everywhere, the losses of the Russians corresponded to their reckless use of masses of troops."

The "Gold-Standard" in Tires

VALUES spring from Conditions that are logical as the Laws of the Universe.

The best-intentioned Tire Manufacturer cannot AVOID being heavily handicapped when competing against—

- 1st—The longest Experience in Mfg. the Product.
- 2nd—The greatest Leverage on purchasing of Raw Materials at lowest prices, through ability to take largest quantities.
- 3rd—The lowest Cost of Manufacturing, through largest VOLUME of Output.
- 4th—The clearly-demonstrated INTENTION to give Consumers and Dealers the full benefit of the large ECONOMIES resulting from possession of three Cardinal Advantages above defined.

PLACE behind this set of Conditions a 47-year Record for Dependability, — Good-faith, — Initiative, — and you have a Summary which fits no other Tire Mfg. Concern, in the American field, than the B. F. Goodrich Co., which is:—

- 1st—The largest Rubber Factory in the world.
- 2nd—With a 47-year Experience in Rubber-Working.
- 3rd—With a raw-material Purchasing-Power indicated by the 130,000,000 pounds of Rubber Goods made, and marketed, during its latest fiscal year.
- 4th—With the Manufacture and Sale, during its latest fiscal year, of 60% MORE Motor-Car and Truck Tires combined, than were produced and sold by the next largest Tire Concern in America.

THE Product of such a Tire and Rubber Concern,—when marketed under such conditions,—giving the benefit of such huge Economies to Consumers may well, and logically, be considered — The "GOLD-STANDARD" in Tire Values.

Therefore:—When you pay MORE than the Goodrich Fair-List prices here printed, for ANY Fabric Tire, you are merely "contributing" the difference. Because,—You CANNOT get "better" Fabric Tires,—at ANY price! Test them thoroughly,—and see!
