

RUSSIAN CAVALRY NEAR CZERNOWITZ

Capital of Bukovina Partly Surrounded—Railroad to the North Cut.

ITALIANS REPULSE AUSTRIANS

London, June 14.—Reports from the eastern front indicate that the Russians are making substantial progress in their efforts to capture Czernowitz, the capital of Bukovina. A Reuters dispatch from Petrograd says the Russians have interrupted the Austrian communications by cutting the railroad north from Czernowitz. Heavy fighting is in progress in the eastern, southeastern and northern outskirts of the city.

A wireless dispatch from Rome quotes the Russian ambassador to Italy to the effect that Russian cavalry has reached a point twenty miles beyond Czernowitz.

Six Thousand Prisoners Taken.

Petrograd, June 14.—(Via London).—In their advance upon Czernowitz, the capital of Bukovina, the Russians have occupied the village of Sniatyn, twenty miles northwest of the city, the war office announced today.

In addition to their previous captures, the Russians have taken twenty officers, 6,000 men, six guns and ten machine guns.

30,000 PARADE OMAHA STREETS TO HONOR FLAG wounded but marching valiantly along to the stirring music of fife and drum.

Men, Women and Flags. The rest of the parade was just men, women and flags; flags and women and men; and singing thousands of children; a river of flags, a thunder of song, a mighty throng of spectators thrilling with patriotic ardor, pride of land and love for the flag.

The downtown streets began to take on a parade-day appearance three hours before the parade was scheduled to start.

All buildings were festive with the Stars and Stripes, waving in the breeze or draped in graceful folds. Automobiles whizzed about with flags streaming from them or draped over their tops and hoods. Mothers carried their flags, fathers had the flag draped around their hats, children had little flag parasols.

The street railway company was taxed to its capacity to handle the crowds, and many an ancient car was pressed into service.

Street Cars Taxed.

Soon after noon the cars began to bring great crowds down town. Some were filled with school children who sang "America," "The Star Spangled Banner," and gave their school yells right lustily.

Teachers were in charge and marshaled the "kids." Parochial school children and public school children were nearly all in their places long before the Menominee men's chorus arrived, half an hour in advance of the parade, and led them in singing patriotic songs.

One Section Late.

The public utilities division was fully twenty minutes late, and marched the full course of the parade alone, and nearly a mile behind the main parade. This division was made up of 2,500 men and women by actual count. It was through a mistake that they were left behind when the main body marched off. They had been ordered to assemble at a given hour, which was thought to be in plenty of time to get them tacked onto the parade in their proper places, as the ninth division. When they assembled at the given hour, they found that the parade had moved off with much more facility than anyone had foreseen and had in fact passed completely out of sight. Thus over half of the divisions had already covered the course of the parade and disbanded before this great division started.

At noon a basket dinner was served, and in the afternoon athletic games were indulged in. Preceding the exercises at the Chautauqua grounds a parade was given through the principal streets of the city. He was returning from the Sunday school picnic grounds, where he had taken a load of children. He was driving his car and was followed by Paul Polzinger driving another. Some accident caused Bentley's car to turn turtle and was hit by the car from behind.

Bentley was found dead in the road. He was about 40 years old and leaves a wife and two children. The two cars were said to be going nearly sixty miles per hour when the wreck occurred.

The union leaders, after stating that the railroad's counter proposition was not acceptable, decided to continue the conference, but indicated they expected it to end late today or tomorrow.

CHAIRMAN M'COMBS CALLS FOR ORDER

hope of reuniting Americans? No, Americans are re-united as never before. He meant by reuniting that two factions of his party should unite. These two factions, or parts of them, hoped to join for self-aggrandizement. Leaders of these two factions—factions powerless as entities—hoped to join hands, however stained and however divided on irreconcilable principles, for insidious purposes of overthrowing a third entity, which for the last four years stood united in a common cause; whose shibboleth is one for all and all for one; equal rights and special privileges to none; whose chief tenet of faith is that America is American and Americans are America.

Crucial Hour in History.

"This is a crucial hour in the history of the world. It is an hour when every man should take stock of himself and his principles. This is an hour when everyone should see whether in his inner consciousness he squares with the ideals of 1776, and the later periods of dramatic episode, when this country resolutely maintained peace with honor.

The nominee calm dignity in the face of circumstances which might have drawn it into the vortex of world destruction. Thought vilified by self-seekers, it has maintained friendly relations throughout the world; it has been true to the spirit of America; it has been true to the great principles of Washington, Jefferson, Madison and Jackson; it has allowed no selfish interest to blind it to the fundamentals of its faith and the country has found that its confidence has been well bestowed. The democratic party has proven itself a party of principle, a party of constructive ability, a party of performance. It has proven that ideals can be realized. United we stand for America.

"Ladies and gentlemen of this great convention, the elephant is dead; the moose is dead. Long live the American eagle."

The National Capital

Washington, June 14.—SENATE. No session; meets at noon Friday. HOUSE. Military committee ordered favorable report on army appropriation bill.

Republican Leader Mann proposed immediate adjournment "as a mark of respect for and loyalty to the flag."

Democratic Leader Kitchin opposed adjournment on account of the many bills pending, but it was voted down, 95 to 82.

Adjourned at 12:25 p. m. until noon Thursday.

NAME SUCCESSOR TO HILLES MONDAY

Action Will Probably Be Taken Then at Conference of Hughes and Party Chiefs.

MANAGER ALSO SELECTED THEN

New York, June 14.—Charles D. Hilles' successor as chairman of the republican national committee will be selected in all likelihood at a conference here next Monday between Charles E. Hughes, the presidential nominee, W. Murray Crane of Massachusetts, chairman of the national subcommittee on organizations, and as many other members of the subcommittee as can be present. Among those considered for the place is William H. Hayward, New York City public service commissioner.

Arrangements for the conference were made late today by Mr. Crane. It also was announced that the manager of the Hughes campaign probably will be selected then and that the personnel of the executive committee will be discussed. The subcommittee is empowered to name the chairman and the executive committee.

Silent Upon Subject.

No announcement concerning the nominee's choice for national chairman or campaign manager has been made, and indications are that he will consider names of available candidates until his meeting with the subcommittee. In pursuance of his policy of refraining from discussion of political affairs, Mr. Hughes declined to say tonight whether he had made a tentative choice. Mr. Crane also declined to comment on the situation.

In the meantime Mr. Hughes will continue his informal conferences here with party leaders, and his reception of old and new friends and supporters. The longest conference he held today was with George W. Wickersham, attorney general in President Taft's cabinet, who will take an active part in the campaign management. Mr. Wickersham expects to keep in close touch with the nominee from now until election day, and probably will be among Mr. Hughes' closest advisers. A report that Mr. Wickersham might be chosen campaign manager was denied at headquarters.

Hughes Goes to Theater.

The nominee went to the theater tonight. It was the first evening since his arrival here that he had not devoted to work. His present plans provide for his departure from the city over Sunday, his return here Monday to confer with the national subcommittee and his departure Monday night for Providence, R. I., where he will remain probably until Thursday. The problem of selecting a summer residence is presenting difficulties. It is likely, however, that he will remain in New York state and will choose a location in the mountains not too remote from this city.

Among the nominee's callers this afternoon were Frances A. Keller, head of the social service bureau of the progressive party; George B. Agnew, former state senator, and Merwin K. Hart, former assemblyman. The two latter callers were joint authors of the Hart-Agnew bill which abolished racing during Mr. Hughes' administration as governor of New York.

George Haven Putnam, a New York democrat who worked for the election of Woodrow Wilson at the Baltimore convention, was another caller. He came in response to an invitation from Mr. Hughes after having written the nominee a letter telling him that the paramount issue of the campaign was Americanism.

SUSPECT UNDER ARREST MAY BE THE AX MURDERER

Des Moines, Ia., June 14.—(Special Telegram).—William Mansfield, alias "Insane Blackie," under arrest at Kansas City, Kan., on suspicion of being the murderer of the J. B. Moore family at Villisca, is also suspected of other ax murders. Evidence against him is circumstantial, according to O. T. Gillette, county attorney of Montgomery county. Mansfield claims he was working at a packing house in Milwaukee at the time of the commission of the crime.

Hailstorm Causes Enormous Losses In Perkins County

Grant, Neb., June 14.—(Special.)—A hail storm which devastated a large area in this section of the state Monday night, caused damage which is conservatively estimated at $300,000.

The storm, which apparently originated a short distance south of Ogalala, passed southward across Perkins county into Chase county, turned east and then north and again crossed Perkins county into Keith county. The greatest damage seemed to be in the vicinity of Madrid, a few miles east of here. The storm swept over an area about forty miles long and twenty-five miles wide. Lambs and chickens were killed at several points and window panes were broken in many ranch houses. The greatest damage is to the wheat crop. It is estimated that there were 50,000 acres of grain nearly ready to harvest in the devastated region. Many of the fields are totally ruined and in none of them does the loss seem to be less than 50 per cent.

Rumor Roosevelt Is Critically Ill Is Contradicted

New York, June 14.—Reports today that Theodore Roosevelt was seriously ill apparently proved unfounded. He has been experiencing coughing spells recently and in a statement regarding an attack of pain suffered while he was at a pier early in the day awaiting the arrival of his son, Kermit, from South America, the colonel explained that his coughing probably had strained a ligament. An X-ray examination will be made probably tonight.

"One year ago," the colonel said, "I broke one of my ribs in the left side while riding. The horse fell and threw me. The coughing spells probably strained a ligament. It is ridiculous, but painful. So like King Gog, I arch my neck and walk lightly."

The former president held a political conference at his hotel with two progressive leaders, Raymond Robins, who was chairman of the national convention, and Harold I. Ickes, national committeeman from Illinois. The colonel would not talk politics.

Several Faint and Are Treated at the First Aid Stations

One woman was seriously affected by the heat and three school children and two women fainted as a result of the heat during the parade. All were attended at the first-aid stations established at drug stores along the line of march under the supervision of Dr. J. M. Banister.

Dr. W. H. Taylor, assisted by Miss Koeppe, revived a woman who did not give her name at the Sherman & McConnell drug store at Twentieth and Farnam streets.

Richard Johnson, Tenth and Bancroft streets, fainted near the W. A. Piel pharmacy and was revived by Dr. Frank Conlin, assisted by Miss Meikeljohn.

Dr. J. E. Pulver and Miss Larson treated a woman who did not give her name who fell into a dead faint at Seventeenth and Farnam. She recovered and was able to go home unattended.

Eleanor Smith of East Omaha and Ruth Gory, 716 North Eighteenth street, both school children, were treated for fainting spells by Dr. G.

W. Pugsley at the station at Sixteenth and Dodge streets.

A woman was seriously affected by the heat and taken to the Beaton Drug company, Fifteenth and Farnam, where she was given first-aid treatment by Dr. F. J. Stodden and Miss Kolle and sent to a hospital for further treatment.
