

Nebraska PROBE INTO CAUSE OF PATIENT'S DEATH

Howard County Authorities Demand Investigation of Responsibility for Same.

TO FIND WHETHER FORCE USED

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
Lincoln, June 16.—(Special.)—The sheriff of Howard county is demanding of the superintendent of the state asylum for the insane at Lincoln the cause of the death of Adolph Chaloud, a patient brought by him to that institution last week and who died two days later from an alleged fracture of the skull.

The certificate of death furnished by the Lincoln hospital officials stated that death was caused by "cerebral congestion attending alcoholism." This has failed to satisfy the relatives of the dead man and they have demanded of Sheriff W. H. Atwood of that county that a showing be made. Regarding the matter, Superintendent Williams makes the statement that the patient made no trouble after being received at the institution and produces an affidavit signed by Harry Elliott, the cab driver who took Sheriff Atwood and the Howard county officers with the prisoner to the asylum, which shows that the officers had some trouble with Chaloud in the cab and that the driver noticed that the latter's nose was bleeding very profusely. After they had alighted Elliott discovered that the cushions of the cab were covered with blood, but that he had not seen the officers make any attempt to check the flow. Superintendent Williams further states that the symptoms which led the hospital physicians to ascribe the death of Chaloud to convulsions caused by alcoholism might have been due to physical violence while en route to the hospital. A notation attached to the statement recites that "At which time the patient fell, striking her wall, causing a small scalp wound."

Table Rock Pioneer Sees Success Ahead

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Lincoln, June 16.—(Special.)—Edgar Wood of Table Rock, who came to Nebraska in 1869, came to Lincoln and called at the state house for the purpose of visiting a short with his comrade-in-arms, Judge Fawcett of the supreme court. Mr. Wood and Judge Fawcett served in the Sixteenth Wisconsin regiment during the civil war and were both wounded at the battle of Shiloh.

Judge Fawcett was out of the city and so Mr. Wood contented himself with visiting with Chief Clerk Lindsay of the court. Mr. Wood said the nomination of Hughes and Fairbanks had made the republican cause out in his part of the state strong.

In the opinion of Mr. Wood everything is over but the shouting by the republicans. He thinks that the progressives are well satisfied with the nominations and will get behind the republican national ticket generally.

Nebraska ORDERS OF THE RAIL BOARD

State Commission Makes Rulings After Hearings on Several Complaints.

TO LOOK AT M. P. RECORDS

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
Lincoln, June 16.—(Special.)—The State Railway commission ground out a gist of business of a more or less important nature today, among it being the following:
The Union Pacific railway is authorized to carry motion picture films the same as baggage, but at owner's risk.

A hearing will be had at Endicott on the St. Joseph and Grand Island railroad on July 3 for the purpose of hearing complaints of the people of that town for a new depot, the present structure being a converted box car, and the people who come in contact with it say the conversion is not complete.

Apple Rates Again.

On account of the probable heavy apple crop this fall, the old proposition of peddling from cars is going to bob up and Ray W. Hesselstine of Peru has called attention of the commission to that fact. It is understood that the Burlington and Union Pacific will soon make a proposition to the commission covering the matter.

The commission has authorized the Northwestern railroad to make a rate on sand from Fremont to Norfolk of 4 cents per hundred to meet the Union Pacific rate from Columbus to Norfolk.

Inspect Road's Books.

Commissioner Hall and Assistants Powell and Boyer went to Falls City today for the purpose of investigating the books of the Missouri Pacific agent in order to secure information regarding the controversy on the raise of passenger rates. About a month ago the agent at that point refused to allow Mr. Powell to see the books, but officials of the road later informed the commission that they could examine them at any time by notifying them and orders would be given agents to that effect.

Nebraskans in Washington.

Washington, June 16.—(Special Telegram.)—Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Shepard of Lincoln are here as the guests of Congressman Sloan. Mr. Charles Siana and two daughters of Wahoo, who have been attending the republican convention at Chicago, are making a visit to the east, and after spending a day or two in Boston are now in Washington for a few days.

PEARSON NAMES THREE COLONELS

Lieutenant Governor Celebrates Brief Period of Office Holding by Adding to Roster.

MOREHEAD TO BE BACK TODAY

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
Lincoln, June 16.—(Special.)—When the sun passed to rest beyond the western horizon tonight Nebraska was again without the protecting hand of an executive official, except what protection Colonel J. H. Presson of the governor's official family was able to give in his official capacity as recording clerk, for Acting Governor James Pearson had folded the mantle of executive authority about him and stolen away to his home at Morefield.

Perhaps, though, before the sun appears tomorrow morning, Governor Morehead may have shaken the dust of St. Louis from his shoulders and appeared on the scene so that dire disaster may not come to the state by reason of its temporary state of unpreparedness.

Some New Colonels.

To show that Governor Pearson is not without sympathetic feeling for those brothers in political distress who were also rans on the republican and democratic tickets for lieutenant governor as well as himself, he today is-

NO POOR GOODS

In the Big Wholesale Furniture Purchase by the Raymond Furniture Co.

We said in yesterday's paper that we would tell you more about this purchase. These warehouses are located in Waterloo, Iowa, and operated by the Security Storage and Wholesale Furniture Distributing Company, organized by individuals and factory interests. The stocks were wisely bought early in the present year by the company's buyers, after correctly forecasting the present market conditions and general high prices. The Company, for business reasons, wished to close the Waterloo warehouses as a distributing point. We saw the opportunity—we bought the stock in its entirety, at the lowest discount dollar that would procure it. Now listen for more when it is ready to show you and tagged with the prices we are able to hang on every piece of this furniture.

sued appointments and enforced the same with large official commissions making them colonels on his staff. The lucky individuals thus honored are William B. Banning of Union, a democrat; Walter Kiechel of Johnson, a republican; and Theodore E. Nordgren of Hamilton county, a republican. These men now have the official right to be called colonel and the great common people must respect them in such capacity.

Of course it remains to be seen whether their titles will stick to them longer than the title of governor stuck to Mr. Pearson, but it is surmised that as long as Governor Morehead already has more colonels than there are privates in the national guard, he will not object to a few more attached to the military splendor of his administration.

Senators Get There.
After they had walloped the Indians at Cleveland, the Senators were backed up into a corner and given an awful beating by the Tigers and White Sox.

Doane College Will Select Trustees On Broader Basis

Crete, Neb., June 16.—(Special.)—At the graduation exercises of Doane college, President Allen reported the amendments to the articles of incorporation of the college made by the trustees at the annual meeting. The chief changes relate to the election of trustees. Heretofore the board has elected new members on its own motion and without any suggestions from outside sources. Under the amended articles, one-sixth of the board will be nominated by the Alumni association of the college and one-sixth by the directors of the Congregational conference of Nebraska. This latter arrangement was perfected to strengthen the tie between Doane and the Congregational churches, while at the same time the old requirement that three-fourths of the board must be Congregationalists was modified to read, "must be members of the evangelical church." The trustees believe that this action puts Doane more perfectly in line with the modern co-operative tendencies of Protestant denominations and at the same time makes stronger and more formal its connection with the Congregational body.

BROTHER OF FULLERTON MAN IS FOUND DEAD

Wichita, Kan., June 16.—(Special Telegram.)—When J. Martin returned to his home near here today after two days' absence on a visit he found his partner, H. D. Bush, lying on the bed dead. It is believed Bush died from heart failure, as he had complained about being ill last Wednesday. Bush's mother lives in Fullerton, Neb. He has a brother living in Tulsa, Okl.

WHITCOMB GUARDED BECAUSE OF THREAT

Hastings, Neb., June 16.—Because he told attendants at the Mary Lanning Memorial hospital that he hoped to kill Sheriff Cole as he lies wounded in his room at the institution, Bert Whitcomb, the officer's assailant in the pistol duel near Pauline Monday, has been removed to another hospital and placed under heavy guard. Cole and Whitcomb occupied rooms on the same floor of the hospital.
