

DEMOCRATS AGAIN NOMINATE WILSON

President and Vice President Are Named by Acclamation Just Before Midnight.

PLATFORM IS NOT REPORTED

Coliseum, St. Louis, June 16.—President Wilson and Vice President Marshall were nominated by acclamation last night by the democratic national convention; the ticket being completed four minutes before Friday.

Contrary to expectations, however, the convention did not finish its work because the platform was not ready and it will meet again at 11 o'clock Friday morning.

There never was any doubt of President Wilson's nomination tonight but there was a possibility that some vice presidential nomination booms might be brought out in opposition to Vice President Marshall.

Throws Speech Away.

They melted away however, when the convention got in session and as soon as President Wilson's nomination had been made by a roaring chorus of acclamation, Senator Kern, who renominated Mr. Marshall, cast aside a long prepared speech and simply declared:

"I nominate Thomas Riley Marshall of Indiana for vice president."

To President Wilson's nomination there was only one dissenting vote, Robert Emmet Burke of Illinois, who came to the convention announcing that he was opposed to the president. His vote technically made the president's nomination 1,091 to 1.

The democratic convention reconvened shortly after 9 o'clock tonight with the announced purpose of remaining in continuous session until it had renominated President Wilson and Vice President Marshall, adopted a platform and transacted all other business that brought representatives of the party to St. Louis.

All the vice presidential booms except that of Governor Major of Missouri had been effectively killed off by President Wilson's announcement that he desired the renomination of Mr. Marshall and he only remained to receive the complimentary vote of Missouri. There apparently was no doubt that he would be withdrawn after a complimentary ballot had been cast and that the renomination of Wilson and Marshall would be made unanimous.

When the gavel fell calling tonight's session to order, John W. Wescott of New Jersey, who nominated President Wilson at the Baltimore convention, was ready on the floor to deliver the speech of re-nomination; Senator Kern of Indiana to re-nominate Vice President Marshall, John H. Atwood of Missouri to deliver the speech nominating Governor Major for the vice presidency.

Morehead Withdraws.

William B. Price of Lincoln, Neb., was to have nominated Governor Morehead of Nebraska, but while the convention was assembling, however, it became known that the Nebraska delegation planned to withdraw the vice presidential candidacy of Governor Morehead. The delegation explained that the president had not asked the re-nomination of Vice President Marshall when they brought out their governor's candidacy.

Governor Major of Missouri said the withdrawal of Governor Morehead would not change his plans to have his name presented.

Before the convention was called to order the coliseum was so full that the fire department took charge of the entrances and permitted no more to come in. William J. Bryan, however, managed to get by, and got his usual uproarious reception as he took his seat. Senator James Learned saw the Nebraskan's plight and rescued him.

Raps for Order.

At 9:15 o'clock Chairman James rapped the convention to order. The crowd yielded to the happing of the gavel long enough to hear the prayer and then renewed its demands for a speech from Bryan. Chairman James admonished the galleries. Senator Thompson then moved a suspension of the rules to permit Mr. Bryan to speak. When the motion was put there were some "noes," but the chairman ruled two-thirds had voted favorably.

A committee headed by Senator Kern of Indiana escorted Mr. Bryan to the speaker's place, while the floor and galleries roared their approval. Senator James introduced Mr. Bryan as "one of the leading citizens of the world, and America's greatest democrat."

Then the roll of states was called for nominations. Alabama yielded to New Jersey and Judge John W. Wescott nominated President Wilson. Judge Wescott spoke very slowly and with great deliberation.

Applause was given to Judge Wescott's remarks on the policy toward Mexico. The crowd was attentive and quiet. It voiced approval of America's maintenance of international law. Some of the crowd, however, were eager for the nomination.

"Name Him," They Cry.

"Name him! Name him!" came cries from the galleries. Judge Wescott hurried a little and concluded his speech re-nominating President Wilson at 10:49.

As the president's sponsor proceeded the murmur of those talking and whispering grew until, in some parts of the galleries, a sudden, loudly demanded letter or leaf. The heat had visible effect on the speaker whose head and face dripped perspiration.

As Judge Wescott closed with a mention of the name "Woodrow Wilson" the crowd broke into a great demonstration.

Moving picture flashlights blazed and flags were paraded in front of the stand. The band played "The Star Spangled Banner," while a huge banner bearing the president's likeness was unfurled from the roof of the hall.

Begin a Parade.

The delegates began a parade bearing state stanchions. The crowd on the floor and balconies rose to its feet. Many delegates stood on their chairs.

"Dixie" and other melodies by the band evoked fresh bursts of cheering. Chairman James yielded the chair during the demonstration to Representative Hefflin of Alabama. Women delegates were among the paraders in the aisles.

Senators and representatives helped carry banners. Senator Hughes personally bore the New Jersey flag.

After the demonstration had been under way 30 minutes, New York and some other delegates resumed their seats. Waving a cane over the rail at the chairman's desk, Senator Hughes renewed the clamor by leading three cheers for the president.

At 11:30 p. m. all but a few delegations had taken their places again. Chairman James sounded the first gavel rap. The demonstration had lasted forty-five minutes.

When Judge Wescott of New Jersey had placed the president in re-nomination and the nomination had been seconded by Governor Harmon of Ohio and Governor Stuart of Virginia, the delegates wanted to wait no longer and cried "vote, vote."

No Ballots Taken.

On motion of Senator Hughes of New Jersey the rules were suspended and no ballots whatever were taken. The delegates simply roared "aye."

When the names of Wilson and Marshall were called and Chairman James declared them nominated by acclamation, Senator Kern, nominating Vice President Marshall, discarded a long prepared speech and simply said: "I re-nominate Thomas Riley Marshall."

The nominations of both candidates were completed in four minutes before midnight.

Robert Burke of Illinois, a delegate who announced he would not vote for the president, raised the only voice in opposition. He was elected as an independent.

Factor in Orpet Defense Develops

Waukegon, Ill., June 16.—A factor in the defense of Will Orpet, charged with the murder of Marion Lambert, was brought out at the opening of court today when cross-examination of Dr. Ralph W. Webster, toxicologist, was resumed by Attorney Ralph F. Potter of the defense.

Mr. Potter adduced that nearly three months elapsed from the finding of Marion's body, February 10 to May 5, when Marion's coat and other garments were brought to Dr. Webster to have stains on them analyzed. The coat introduced yesterday showed three circular white spots, the marks, witness said, of cyanide of potassium.

It was brought out that the coat was not shown to Dr. Webster at the coroner's inquest.

"I formed my opinion at that time," said Dr. Webster, "that death was due to cyanide of potassium poisoning on the powder on the girl's hand and on the stomach content."

Dr. William S. McNally, chemist to the coroner's office at Chicago, the next witness, testified that cyanide of potassium in liquid form would cause death more quickly than the solid poison. He said he had found 3.99 grains of the poison in a portion of Miss Lambert's stomach which he had examined.

A solid, the witness said, could not have deliquesced sufficiently to have left the spots on Marion's coat or to have become encrusted in the lines of the hand.
