Taught Farm Work (Correspondence of the Associated Press.) Rome, May 25.—Boys' farm colo-nies as one means of providing for the future cultivation of Italy's soil and for the employment of the or-phans of farmer-soldiers killed in war, are being established throughout the country districts of Italy. The colonies are being organized by a society founded especially for this purpose under a plan drawn up by the National Institution of Agricultural Mutual Insurance. No fewer than twelve such colonies are now being founded.

founded. Boys from the ages of 7 to 15 years are being taken into these schools, where they will be kept at an annual expenditure each of $100, the funds to be furnished in part by the districts where the farms are maintained. The plan is to keep the boys on the farms until 21 years of age. They will be taught cattle raising, breeding of silk worms, rotation of crops, treatment of the soil and use of modern agricul-tural machinery of the American type.

type. After the age of 21 it is planned to set up the boys as independent farm-ers by the sale of lands and equip-ment to them on favorable terms.
