CHOOSING THE SCHOOL

BOYLES

The big men and women—those who have climbed to the top—are successful because of Business Training. They had the knowledge of HOW to do the things ordinary people cannot do. You can't get that training from business men—they're too busy succeeding to stop to teach.

Therefore—
You Can't Attain Your Full Success Until You Obtain a Business Education

Boyles College Training opens the world of business to you—teaches you how to think and how to do as business men desire. It gives you the ability to get the job—to get the good position at the start. It gives you the ability to hold down the job—and to get a still better one.

Boyles Training teaches you shorthand, stenotypy, touch typewriting, bookkeeping, telegraphy or Civil Service Service preparation for Government mail carrier, railway postal clerk, bookkeeper or stenographer, and guarantees to place you in a good position as soon as you finish the course.

The Nebraska Military Academy located at Lincoln is a home school where a large number of boys are taught annually the arts and sciences combined with military drill that makes many men. Col. R. D. Hayward, the president has had long experience dealing with boys. The equipment of the school is all of the very best and the attendance at Nebraska Military is increasing every year.

BROWNELL HALL.

Omaha School for Young Women and Girls in Its Fifty-Third Year. Brownell hall was founded in 1863. Its founder, Bishop Talbot, designed it as a church school for girls. Much of the original money was raised in the diocese of Connecticut, and it took its name from Thomas Brownell, third bishop of Connecticut.

The first building was north of the city of Omaha, at Saratoga. In 1865 the school was moved to the corner of Sixteenth and Jones streets. The present building was begun on the site given by Herman Kountze in 1886. The building is of stone, brick and iron. It has three great stairways and several independent exits from the building, and there is a fire escape extending from the top floor down the outside of the east end of each wing. It has a gymnasium sixty-five feet long, forty feet wide and twenty feet high, giving ample room for indoor basket ball, captain ball and other games, and is equipped with Swedish apparatus.

The infirmary consists of a suite of rooms and private bath. A trained nurse is in charge. It has an elementary department, also, for little boys and girls. It gives preparation for all the colleges of the North Central Association, as well as for Bryn Mawr, Mount Holyoke, Radcliffe, Wellesley, Vassar and Smith colleges.

WENTWORTH Military Academy

Where Boys Do Things

Wentworth life satisfies the natural cravings of healthful boyhood. Each day is full of activities. Scholastic work is made "live" and interesting by men in sympathy with boyhood. Theories of study are made personal and practical in field maneuvers, flag signaling, field telegraph, telephones, bridge building, hikes, camping, etc.

Pleases the Boy Satisfies the Parent

Here is the oldest Military School west of the Mississippi and the largest in the Missouri River Valley. Boys are successfully prepared for College, University, Technical Schools and Business. It is rated an "Honor School" by U. S. Government, the highest rating given.

Scholastic Honors

The School has high Academic standards and is noted for scholastic honors. Graduates are admitted without examination to the leading colleges and Universities. Boys who have lost interest in study respond to Wentworth life. Individual instruction by men teachers.

Athletic System

Reaches every boy. Unique, practical, effective. Supervised outdoor life results in mental vigor and ambition. Physical fitness makes mental and moral strength. Self control is characteristic of Wentworth graduates. For catalog address

UNIVERSITY HAS HIGH STANDARD

Nebraska's Great Institution Is Not Surpassed by Any Other School in the Country.

CAMPUS CONSTANTLY GROWING

The University of Nebraska has grown so tremendously in its comparatively short history that it is today acknowledged the equal of any university in the land.

The main part of the state's great institution of learning occupies six square blocks in the heart of the city of Lincoln. Other adjoining land has just been bought. New buildings are continually in course of erection.

This spacious campus is separate from the big and well-equipped college of agriculture located in the outskirts of the city.

The faculty is made up of men who are famed throughout the country and some of them all over the world. No university has finer buildings and few have more buildings than Nebraska's state university.

Has Many Colleges.

The great institution is divided into colleges as follows: The graduate college, the college of art and sciences, the teachers' college, the college of agriculture, the college of engineering, the college of law, the college of medicine, the college of pharmacy, the school of commerce, the school of fine arts, the school of agriculture, the graduate school of education.

Its summer session is an eight-weeks' course primarily for teachers. In university extension it offers courses in many departments, for which college credit is granted.

The board of regents of the university, has charge also of the Nebraska Experiment station, the Nebraska School of Agriculture at Curtis, the experimental substations at North Platte, Valentine and Scottsbluff.

It is thoroughly co-educational, women having all the advantages that men have, in which respect it differs from most of the eastern universities. The next term opens Wednesday, September 13.

FREMONT COLLEGE.

A Splendid, Large and Rapidly Growing Institution at Fremont, Neb.

The large catalogue of the Fremont college gives some idea of what a large institution this is and the variety and scope of its courses. But a visit to the spacious college grounds located on a beautiful level campus shaded by many trees and equipped with many buildings gives a better idea. Eighteen different courses are offered from which students may choose with certainty of getting just the training they want.

"Our reserve fund is merit, good work, economy of time, honest effort, perfect development of true manhood and womanhood and the elimination through scholasticism of vice and all its allies," says the president. "We have no time for frivolity, haughty or useless expenditure of time or energy. We realize that students enter and parents send their children here to be instructed, not only in books, but in the broader and better cultivated walks of life, courtesy, gentility, honest effort, true industry, high motives, protection of virtue and the legitimate rights of others."

Believing this responsibility to be just and right we utilize every moment in advancing, promoting and cultivating the highest and best attributes in the human soul."

TRINITY COLLEGE

An Educational Institution Attractively Situated Near Sioux City.

The Fathers of the Third Order Regular of St. Francis have built up a thriving college at Sioux City. Trinity college is beautifully located about two miles beyond the city proper.

New buildings, with all the modern improvements and conveniences and up-to-date methods, make this institution a good one. It gives mental, moral and physical training and has commercial, academic and collegiate courses. It reopens September 3.
