

MARSHALL VOTED GUILTY OF HAVING 'INSULTED' HOUSE

Lower Body of Congress Sustains 'Contempt' Charges Brought Against Federal District Attorney.

HE IS ORDERED INTO CUSTODY

Sergeant-at-Arms Ordered to Bring Prosecutor Before Bar of the Chamber.

PENALTY REPRIMAND LIKELY

Washington, June 20.—Contempt charges against H. Snowden Marshall, shall, United States district attorney at New York, because of his criticism of a house subcommittee, were sustained by the house today by a vote of 208 to 85, and the sergeant-at-arms was ordered to take Mr. Marshall into custody and bring him before the bar of the house.

It is expected that a public reprimand will be the sentence imposed on Mr. Marshall when he is brought before the bar of the house. The action is thought growth of impeachment proceedings brought against him by Representative Buchanan.

Will Issue Warrant. Speaker Clark probably will issue a warrant tomorrow, but some of Mr. Marshall's friends said tonight he might anticipate its service and appear voluntarily. Although house leaders have indicated they would be satisfied with a reprimand, a more severe punishment, including imprisonment, might be imposed should the house so decide. A vote on that question will be taken later.

An all-day debate preceded the vote today, Representative Moon, chairman of a select committee which investigated the contempt charges, leading the fight against Mr. Marshall. He declared the district attorney had offered an outrageous suit to the house. Representatives Garner and Webb of North Carolina and other members said failure to sustain the charges would constitute a repudiation of the subcommittee and an endorsement of Mr. Marshall's attack on it.

Natural Reply to Make. Representative Graham of Pennsylvania, defending the district attorney, said the subcommittee had opened a public publicity campaign to which Mr. Marshall's statements were but the natural reply of an indignant man. The subcommittee had erred, he said, in opening hearings in New York and in trying to obtain information from members of the grand jury there.

The vote was not partisan. The impeachment proceedings were started by Representative Buchanan after the district attorney's investigation of the alleged unneutral activities of Labor's National peace council, which resulted in the indictment of Representative Buchanan and others. Other charges against Mr. Marshall related to the general conduct of his office and particularly his conduct of the Rae Tanzer perjury case.

Marshall's Letter. Contempt charges were preferred after the district attorney had written a letter to the investigation subcommittee branding his work as "irregular and extraordinary" and declaring it was attempting to protect a member of congress by ruining a district attorney. Although the subcommittee has recommended that the impeachment charges be dropped, Representative Buchanan has asked for a hearing before the full judiciary committee and both he and Mr. Marshall will be permitted to make statements Friday.

Must Use Credit. Of course the government will later on reimburse the state for its expense in mobilizing the guard at this time, but present conditions indicate that guard headquarters will have to get supplies on credit and pay accordingly instead of going into the market and getting them on the cash basis, which in the amount which will be needed would make considerable difference to the state in the period necessary to get the guard up to the requirements.

Prohibition Law of Arkansas Again Is Declared Valid

Little Rock, Ark., June 20.—The Arkansas supreme court last night for the second time sustained the validity of the state-wide prohibition legislation passed by the last legislature and which went into effect January 1. The case was that of Charles Miller of Lafayette county, who was convicted of selling liquor and sentenced to serve one year in the penitentiary, the only penalty permissible under the law. The appeal alleged that the prohibition law is unconstitutional because it denies to the court the right to suspend sentence after conviction. The supreme court held that the legislature had the right to enact such a law because there is no provision in the state constitution forbidding such legislation.

Temperance Play Given State Sunday School Delegates

Falls City, Neb., June 20.—(Special Telegram.)—The State Sunday school convention started out on a three days' session with its arrior somewhat dampened by the heavy rain, but from all appearances the attendance will reach the expectations of the committee, who had arranged for from 1,500 to 2,000 delegates. The city is gayly decorated in rainbow colors, and the delegates are being met at the trains and taken to the park where the sessions are to be held. After registering, boy scouts escorted them to places of entertainment. The first session was held at the Christian church this afternoon with a large attendance.

Ranks of Militia Rapidly Filling

Although recruiting is moving forward rapidly officers of the guard are glad to get fresh applications. The companies are filling up but there is still a place for any who can meet qualifications. No company will be quit to the mobilization camp until it has at least sixty-five men up to standard. The officers expect to have about eighty-five men to a company before going to Ashland. This will allow for a cut by the stricter physical examination of the federal inspection party and still have the company above the minimum.

Special Den Show For Swedes Tonight

Seven hundred tickets are to be issued for the visiting Swedish singers for the special entertainment and initiation at Ak-sar-ben den tonight. The best estimates yesterday afternoon were that this would be the number of visitors to ride Samson's goat. It has been announced that there is to be no show at the den on the evening of Monday July 3. It has not been decided whether a show and initiation will be held any other day during that week or not, but the program of that evening is to be dispensed with because the next day will be the Fourth of July.

MOREHEAD IS FOR ASHLAND

Dispatches from Lincoln were to the effect that the military men believed that while the heavy rain of Monday night would encumber the moving of troops somewhat, and also the getting in readiness the state camp, everything would be in shape at the proper time.

Guard Crippled by Economy.

The last legislature was so bent on making a record for economy that the guard has been placed in a practically crippled condition during the present biennium. Had the leaders in that unhappy session had their way the guard would today be practically of little account and it would have cost thousands of dollars to have put the state in a position to give heed to the call to arms.

Must Use Credit.

Of course the government will later on reimburse the state for its expense in mobilizing the guard at this time, but present conditions indicate that guard headquarters will have to get supplies on credit and pay accordingly instead of going into the market and getting them on the cash basis, which in the amount which will be needed would make considerable difference to the state in the period necessary to get the guard up to the requirements.

Guardsmen's Pay Starts.

Washington, D. C., June 20.—Administration leaders in congress decided not to seek immediate action on a resolution to provide for making the National Guard eligible for foreign service, fearing that such a step at this time might be construed by the Mexican government as a warlike act. AMERICAN NOTE FLATLY REJECTS DE FACTO DEMAND

Formal Note to Carranza Says the Troops Will Stay Until He Restores Order.

COUCHED IN VIGOROUS TERMS

Attempt to Carry Out His Threats Will Be Followed by Gravest Consequences.

PATIENCE OF U. S. EXHAUSTED

Washington, June 20.—The American note flatly rejecting Carranza's demand for the withdrawal of United States troops from Mexico and rebuking the Carranza government for the discourteous tone and temper of its last communication was handed today to Eliso Arredondo, the Mexican ambassador designate.

It concludes with the statement that if the de facto government continues to ignore this obligation and carries out its threat to defend its territory by an appeal to arms against the American troops the gravest consequences will follow.

"While this government would deeply regret such a result," the note says, "it cannot recede from its settled determination to maintain its national rights and to perform its full duty in preventing further invasions of the territory of the United States and in removing the peril which Americans along the international boundary have borne so long with patience and forbearance."

Troops Will Remain.

Long continued outrages against Americans and their property, both in Mexico and on American soil, are reviewed in the note and warning given that the troops will be kept in Mexico until such a time as the de facto government performs the duty which the United States has not sought, in pursuing the bandits, who ought to be arrested and punished by the Mexican government.

"I am reluctant to be forced to the conclusion which might be drawn from the circumstances," Secretary Lansing declares, "that the de facto government in spite of the crimes committed and the sinister designs of Villa and his followers did not and does not now intend or desire that these outlaws should be captured, destroyed or dispersed by American troops, or at the request of this government by Mexican troops."

The purposes of the United States government towards Mexico questioned in the last Mexican note are announced in the following language: "If a denial is needed that this government has had ulterior and improper motives in its diplomatic representations, or has countenanced the activities of American sympathizers and the American press opposed to the de facto government, I am glad emphatically to deny it. It is, however, a matter of common knowledge that the Mexican press has been more

Orpet Complained Because Called Dear Instead of Dearest

Waukegan, Ill., June 20.—Celestia Youker, the "other girl" in the case of William H. Orpet, university student charged with the murder of Marion Lambert, is expected to take the witness stand tomorrow, when it is expected that the last of the state's evidence will be presented.

Much of today's testimony concerned statements alleged to have been made by Orpet to lawyers, policemen and newspaper reporters just before and immediately following his arrest. The admissibility of much of it was questioned and the witnesses in many instances were interrogated while the jury was excluded from the room. Its members were brought back to hear the admissible portions.

It was first excluded when States Attorney Dady sketched the purported contents of the letters from Orpet to Marion. Last summer they were ardent and jealous in tone. They complained because Marion addressed him as "dear" instead of "dearest" and in nearly every one reference was made to illicit relations. There was a lapse in the series while Orpet was at home in Lake Forest for the summer vacation. When he returned to the University of Wisconsin at Madison in the fall, the tone of the letters was cooler. States Attorney Dady remarked, Marion was no longer "dearest" but merely "dear Marion" and the young man who a few months before had been watching the mails for her letters to him, was now constantly apologizing for not writing to her.
