Judge Day Decides Hummel May Hire Bands He Chooses

That the resolution passed by the city council which barred nonunion musicians from obtaining employment for public work concerts, is not binding, was the decision of District Judge George A. Day, at the conclu-sion of the hearing on application for injunction proceedings brought by Ned S. Reeves, who sued on behalf of himself and sixty other nonunion

Judge Day held that the resolution was not mandatory and that the ques-tion of hiring bands is one that is entirely up to the judgment of the park commissioner. In his petition, Reeves declared the resolution passed by the council, heing discriminatory, was, therefore, unconstitutional. He also alleged that an attempt was being made to give monopoly to certain interests.

MAY RAISE LIMIT OF LIFE MEMBERS TO ATHLETIC CLUB

PROBLEM IN LARGER CITIES

Omaha retailers are going to make a renewed effort to overcome the "send on approval" and "return goods" evil in the retail trade.

They are determined that the practice of taking out so much goods and then returning them on a slight pretext must stop. The campaign against these evils is spreading rapidly all over the country and St. Louis asserts it has already reduced the evil some 50 per cent in the last

"We have lists of some of the chronic returners in our files in the association office and with the aid the association office and with the aid of these we are able to check the evil to some extent, but we must do more than we have done. I talked to the head of a large dry goods house in St. Louis a few days ago, a man whose store does a $40,000,000 annual business. When I told him the evil was not so great in Omaha as it was in St. Louis, he told me not to crow, for he assured me that the evil would grow as the town grew. He also con-vinced me that the only way to han-dle the situation is to nip it in the
