

YAN CAMP DENIES USING INFLUENCE

Declares He Had No Part in Prompting Request for Supt. Rogers' Resignation.

"HEARD OF IT THROUGH BEE"

"I don't know where Superintendent Rogers of the County hospital ever got the idea that I was influencing County Commissioner Henry McDonald to ask for the superintendent's resignation," said County Physician Dr. Lee Van Camp, following the exclusive publication in Tuesday's Bee of the fact that McDonald had requested Rogers' resignation.

"No man lives who can tell McDonald what to do. McDonald has a mind of his own, and as for me, I didn't even know the resignation had been asked for until The Bee told me," Mr. Rogers said yesterday he has heard nothing further from Commissioner McDonald. "I wrote him asking for an explanation," said he, "and he should have received the letter last night. I should have a reply soon. I talked to several of the other county commissioners and they said they knew nothing of the affair until The Bee published the matter."

Stirs Up Much Comment

The flurry in the County hospital situation is naturally stirring up comment. Dr. G. A. Young, member of the insanity board, said: "Since Mr. Rogers has been in charge of the County hospital that institution has been managed better than at any time that I know of. He has been on the job all the time, and one could always find him."

District Clerk Smith, also a member of the insanity board, said: "You may quote me as strong as you like that Rogers' management at the County hospital has been good. In my experience as county auditor and, later on, as county commissioner, I never knew things to be in better shape out there than they have been under Superintendent Rogers. There are, of course, a lot of improvements and accommodations needed out there for the insane, and in other departments, but, considering the facilities he has had to work with, Mr. Rogers has done well."

Commissioner John C. Lynch had not heard of the demanded resignation until he had read of it. "But," he added, "if McDonald asked for his resignation, that's all there is to it."

Commissioner McDonald declares the matter will come up formally before the board next Monday. "At that time," said Mr. McDonald, "facts will be developed that will get the support of the remainder of the board."

FLOODS TIE UP RAIL LINES IN NORTHWEST

Yellowstone and Kootenai Rivers Highest for Years and Large Area is Inundated.

MILES OF TRACKS SUBMERGED

Billings, Mont., June 21.—Recent heavy rains and melting snow in the mountains have swollen the Yellowstone river to its highest stage in twelve years, it was reported here today, and serious damage was resulted at many points where the stream has overflowed its banks and inundated farms. Fear was expressed for the safety of the Northern Pacific railroad bridge at Huntley.

Tracks Are Submerged.

Great Falls, Mont., June 21.—Traffic on the Great Northern railroad in northwestern Montana is almost at a standstill as a result of floods following heavy rains and extensive melting of snow in the hills. The main line of the railroad was cut Sunday night by a washout near Eureka. Along the Kootenai river the road is submerged for several miles, some places to a depth of three feet.

Kootenai at Highest Stage.

Bonnors Ferry, Idaho, June 21.—Apprehension was felt here early today over the situation resulting from the rapid rise of the Kootenai river, which late last night reached the high water mark of 1894, and still was rising. A further rise of six inches would, it was said, result in the suspension of business.

More than 200 square miles of lowlands between this place and the Canadian border have been flooded as the result of heavy rains and melting snows swelling the volume of the river. The lower residence section of the town is under from two to seven feet of water and there is two feet of water in the new county jail and court house.

Various Forms Of Headache

"It is necessary in order to treat headaches properly to understand the cause which produce the affection," says Dr. J. W. Ray, of Blocton, Ala. Continuing he says, "Physicians cannot even begin the treatment of a disease without knowing what causes give rise to it, and we must remember that headache is to be treated according to the same rule. We must not only be particular to give a remedy intended to counteract the cause which produces the headache, but we must also give a remedy to relieve the pain until the cause of the trouble has been removed. To answer this purpose, anti-kamnia tablets will be found a most convenient and satisfactory remedy. One tablet every one to three hours gives comfort and rest in the most severe cases of headache, neuralgia and particularly the headaches of women."

"When we have a patient subject to regular attacks of sick headache, we should caution him to keep his bowels regular, for which nothing is better than 'Actoids,' and when he feels the least sign of an oncoming attack, he should take two A-K Tablets. Such patients should always be instructed to carry a few anti-kamnia tablets, so as to have them ready for instant use. These tablets are prompt in action and can be depended on to produce relief in a very few minutes. Ask for A-K Tablets at all drug stores. Anti-kamnia tablets at all drug stores."
