

MILITIA HURRIED ON THE WAY SOUTH

Fifteen Thousand National Guardsmen From East Will Start Today.

HURRY ORDERS RECEIVED

New York, June 26.—Fifteen thousand National Guardsmen from the states of New York, Massachusetts, New Jersey and Connecticut will start for the Mexican border tomorrow, Major General Leonard Wood announced tonight.

In all there will be eleven regiments of infantry, one complete regiment of cavalry, one complete regiment of field artillery, with the usual hospital and ambulance units and signal corps for such a force.

The crack commands of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia and Florida will be started for the border Tuesday or Wednesday.

The number of National Guard troops of the Department of the East in the mobilization camps grew today to 48,000, according to Major General Wood's report to the War department. The men are prepared to entrain for the Mexican border at an hour's notice, he announced.

The day's large increase was due to the concentration of nine regiments of Pennsylvania infantry, three regiments of Maryland infantry and two regiments of Virginia infantry.

Push Muster in Des Moines.

Des Moines, June 26.—Colonel George Morgan, United States army, arrived in Des Moines today. He reported to Adjutant General Guy Logan, and immediately began the muster of the first regiment, comprising 215 men and forty-two officers, into the federal service.

It was reported unofficially tonight that the first regiment will leave for the border Wednesday.

LITTLE LADS SMASH THE STORE CASH REGISTER

"Hold those fellows that broke in the store and I'll be down to appear against them in the morning," phoned one of the heads of A. Melcher's grocery, Sixteenth and Leavenworth streets.

The place was broken into by thieves, who, after forcing a panel of the rear door, ransacked the place, destroyed provender and smashed the cash register. They were taken by Officer Peterson in the midst of their depredations.

But, despite the grocer's call, they were not held by the police. Instead the two desperadoes, Albert Conston, 723 South Seventeenth street, and Frank Jaquay of the same address, 6 and 7 years of age, respectively, were turned over to the ministrations of Probation Officer Gus Miller.

GERMAN SUBMARINE IS OVERDUE IN NEW YORK

London, June 26.—A delayed dispatch from Madrid to the Daily Telegraph says that a German submarine is due to arrive in New York on Sunday, June 25, with a message for President Wilson, "thereby surpassing the feat of the U-35, which carried a letter to King Alfonso."

At the Cheaters

Boys: Society playboys.
 Branded: "By the Way."
 Empress: "Lucky and Playboys."
 Gaiety: Playboys.
 Hipp: Playboys.
 Krug: "The Night of the Party."
 Muse: Playboys.
 Strand: Playboys.

"Meg Burns" at the Krug.
 The closing bill of the season at the Krug theater is a vehicle well adapted to the acting of the North Brothers' Stock company—"Meg Burns," an original four-act patriotic Irish play, presented for the first time on any stage.
 The play was written by Gilbert Guest, the nom de plume for a Catholic sister in Omaha. The play is constructed upon the patriotism of Ireland. Its theme is a love story intertwined into strong dramatic action and has an ecclesiastical atmosphere, in which the central figure is a parish priest.

The acting of Sport North, who has the part of the parish priest, Rev. Father O'Toole, and that of Miss Hazel McNutt, with the name part, Meg Burns, is commendable. The supporting cast is up to the North Brothers' standard.

The Krug will reopen August 26 with the North Brothers' Stock company.

Bill at the Empress.
 The Colonial Minstrel Maids, who have been seen at the Empress several times before, made their usual impression Sunday. The Penn City Trio, musicians, and Bessie Le Count, mimic, were recipients of much applause. Black and Milford, in a comedy, singing and talking number, had little trouble in getting the laughs and were decidedly popular. The picture program comprises two features, a comedy and news weekly. The "Widow of Dreams" features Grace de Carlton and Bert Delaney.

Photoplay Notes.
Bugs.—A military picture, "The Bugle Call," was certain of a warm reception from Strand crowds, who were demonstrative in their approval of the striking film, with Willie Collier, Jr., in the principal role. A laudable Keystone comedy, news weekly among them, however. No trouble occurred during the showing.

Muse.—The Muse entertained its patrons with a lively story, "The Spill of the Mixture," with Edmund Price in the leading role, yesterday. The same feature is shown again today, with "The Mishaps of 'Stuffy Buffers'" as an accompanying comedy.

Gaiety.—The audiences at the Gaiety yesterday were pleased with "What Happened at 22," featuring Francis Nelson and Arthur Ashley. Tomorrow, Victor Moore and Lew Clawson star in the melodramatic "The Attraction."

Hipp.—The Hipp yesterday served its patrons with an unusual photoplay, "Hypocrites," with Myrtle Redman in the leading role. It is a remarkable theme and shown again today.

Rioting in Panama.
 Panama, June 25.—Rioting occurred in the city of Panama today on the occasion of the elections. Eighteen persons were wounded. There were no foreigners among them, however. One man was killed in the province of Chiriqui.

TROOPER RELATES STORY OF BATTLE

Private Harris of Troop in Carrizal Fight Describes How It Was Waged.

CHARGER SAVED HIS LIFE

BULLETIN.
 Field Headquarters, Mexico, June 26.—Thirty-eight stragglers from the Carrizal engagement had reached here tonight and the number of missing was estimated officially at fifteen.

Columbus, N. M., June 26.—Eight to one, these are now said to be the odds at which the Americans struggled at Carrizal.

A survivor of the engagement, Sam H. Harris, a dusky private of Troop C, the Tenth cavalry, was brought to the border late this afternoon, suffering from wounds in his left shoulder and arm. From him came the assertion, that pitted against the eighty-four men of the American detachment, were fully 7 Mexicans. "To top it off," said Harris, "they had a machine gun and surprised us. We approached them in a peaceful way, and never had an idea that they would try to massacre us. Had we known they wanted fight, we could have given it to them. I guess they got enough at that."

Surrounded by Mexicans.

Harris' troop was entirely surrounded by the Carranzistas, he said. He escaped, wounded, from the cordon the enemy had drawn around the Americans by riding straight through their lines on his charger, which also had been wounded. He rode this horse until it fell from loss of blood, and then nabbed another fleeing animal with which he eventually caught up with other survivors who were accompanied to field headquarters. Harris' account of the battle and his escape, was expressive and colorful. Tears came to his eyes as he recounted the heroic effort of his wounded charger to bear him to safety.

"That horse sure saved my life," he said.

"I want you to know I let him see how I appreciated it. All at Attention.
 "Our troop with Captain Boyd commanding, had pulled up before Carrizal. The captain ordered everyone to dismount and we all got down. I was a horse-holder, and I took charge of some animals while their riders stood at attention."
 "Just after Captain Boyd went forward, my horses got nervous and began to prance around. I lost what was going on, looking after those fool animals."
 "Next thing I know, the shooting had started. I looked around. Captain Boyd was down and I couldn't see him. I kept on looking. There were easily 700 of the 'greasers' around us. They had come up right out of the ground, forming a half circle. Our men kept on falling."

Open With Machine Gun.
 "The first shots came from a machine gun. It was trained right on us, and, believe me, it talked fast. Every few minutes—it might have been seconds—for all I know, it would let up while the operator was putting in more clips. Then you could pick out the clicks of the rifle fire."

"It wasn't more than two minutes before the Mexicans had surrounded us. We were right there in the middle, fighting like the dickens. All around the horses were rearing and plunging. Every little bit, a horse or a man would get a bullet and go down."
 "I couldn't fight, for I had to keep after those mounts. Pretty soon my own horse, a great big fellow, staggered and whinnied. They had hit him in the neck."
 "Get" Him in Shoulder.
 "I put my hand on the spot where the blood was shooting out. Just then they got me—in the shoulder."

"I lost control of the animals completely. My own horse was whinnying and tugging on his rope. I could see fellows dropping all around me, and horses were running off, over their bodies. We did not have a show in the world and I saw it. I cut the horses loose and climbing on my own animal, hit it for the thinnest part of the circle."
 "I went right through the Mexicans. My horse brushed two of them out of the way as we charged."
 Owes Life to Horse.
 "I owe my life to that horse, sure as you live. Don't you know that animal was so brave and big-hearted that he carried me along for ten miles before he settled down to a walk. Five miles further on, his legs just gave out, and he went down."

"Man, I hope you don't ever have to say good-bye to a horse like that, at a time and in a place like that. It seemed to me I couldn't leave him. I looked back to see if there was any one following. There was not, so I knelt down and poured a little water from my canteen on his tongue. He was slipping fast, and I just let him know how sorry I was. I thanked him for the mighty big favor he did me. Yes, sir, I thanked, like he was human. And I guess he understood, for he got that look in his eyes animals have when they are grateful."
 Says Good Bye.
 "I wanted to stay longer, but he was about gone, coughing blood. No use, my stayin, when some of those 'greasers' might catch up and get me. I was bleeding, too, and in pain. I thanked him again, and said 'good-bye!'"
 "I walked and walked. A few miles on, I ran on to one of our animals. I jumped him and rode on toward Colonia Dublin. Before I got there, I ran into some other survivors, and we went on together."
 Private Harris will be kept here for treatment.

Fashions, or Woman's Health.
 The first thing many persons think of finding on the Women's Page of a newspaper is the Fashions. That is not what women most need to find there. Health is the first thing, and many women lack it. Notes telling how to preserve the health are of the greatest value and interest for women; and, if they are suffering from woman's ailments, they read with the most intense interest how other women got well from their ailments, and so they, too, get what made them well—Lydia E. MEEK TELLS WHAT IS TRUE RELIGION

Castellar Street Minister Says to Walk Humbly With God and to Love Neighbor.

DO NOT TALK OF NEIGHBOR

Rev. C. C. Meek, at Castellar Street Presbyterian church, Sunday morning declared that true religion is "to do justly, and to love mercy and to walk humbly with thy God."

He took his text from Micah vi, 8, which contains the words quoted. "Someone had asked the prophet how to find favor in the eyes of God," said the minister. "This is shown in the preceding verse, where the inquirer asks, 'Will the Lord be pleased with thousands of rams, or with ten thousands of rivers of oil? Shall I give my first born for my transgression, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul?'"

"Then the prophet answers in the words of the text, 'What doth the Lord require of thee but to do justly, and to love mercy and to walk humbly with thy God?'"

Religion Not Sacrifice.
 "True religion does not consist in sacrifice, no matter how costly. It does not consist in pomp and show. The Lord has no need of these things, for the earth is the Lord's, and the fullness thereof."

"True religion is shown by the way you talk about your neighbor, the way you feel in your heart about your neighbor. True religion is shown by the way you act toward your fellow man in all the relations of life and towards all kinds of your fellow men, no matter what their race, creed or previous condition of servitude."

"True religion consists in being Christlike. Christ was always humble. That doesn't mean that he always let everybody run over him. When He found the sacred things violated He could show a species of holy wrath, as when He drove the money changers from the temple. But his ordinary nature was humble, sympathetic, forgiving. That is true religion."

Beautiful Hair Tinting
 Nothing so robs a woman of her good looks and attractiveness as gray, streaked or faded hair.
