VISITORS AND THE FOURTH ATTRACT

Numerous Affairs on the Social Calendar in Honor of Both.

ENTERTAIN HOUSE PARTY

BY MELLIFICIA—July 3.

Visitors—and Fourth of July week—a happy combination indeed and one which promises to make us lead a merry pace this week, socially, despite the warm rays of Old Sol. Especially is this true since the visitors are the guests of the younger set, noted for their spirit and verve.

"And the four winds blow in from every port," these visitors, who assuredly hail from north, south, east and west.

From the sunny southland, Memphis, comes Miss Sarah Perkins to be the guest of Miss Mary Megeath. Miss Perkins was expected in Omaha at the time of Miss Megeath's debut reception, but was unable to come. Her present visit is the inspiration for a round of entertainments. Tonight, Miss Perkins' hostess gives a dinner at the Country club for her; Tuesday night Miss Naomi Towle has arranged a picnic supper; Wednesday there will be a luncheon for Miss Perkins, and Thursday Mrs. Windsor Megeath gives a bridge party for her.

From Lake County.
From the cool, lake country to which we fain would hie ourselves, comes Miss Elizabeth Becksted to visit Mrs. William F. Wappich and Miss Clyde Hoerr of Mankato, Minn., to be the guest of Mrs. F. B. Aldous. Mrs. Wappich gives a dancing party for the girls at her home this evening. Tuesday, Miss Ruth Nolan, a matinee dance at Happy Hollow; Mrs. Aldous is making up a swimming party at Valley for Friday, and Miss Kathryn Souier entertains Saturday afternoon for the two young girls and Miss Esther McVann.

Miss Annabel Dunning of Duluth is another northern visitor, the guest of Mrs. Myles McFayden. Mrs. McFayden entertains two tables informally at bridge tonight for Miss Dunning.

House Party.
An interesting house party is being entertained by the Misses Dorothy and Marion Weller, who have as their guests, two classmates from St. Mary's college, Miss Harriet Waters of Birmingham, N. Y.; Miss Bess Ritchie of Idaho Falls, Idaho, and their cousin, Miss Ellen Weart of Cherokee, Ia. The Wellers give a family picnic at the fisheries near Council Bluffs on the fourth; Wednesday, Miss Angela Shugart gives a luncheon at the Council Bluffs Boar club; Thursday, Miss Mildred Rhodes a luncheon at Happy Hollow and Saturday Miss Grace Drake a matinee party at the Brandeis, for these visitors.

Mr. Robert Whittlesey of New Haven, Conn., the guest of Mr. Fritz Bucholz, his classmate at Yale, is a masculine visitor from the east who has been much feted. Mr. Whittlesey will be an honor guest at the dinner-dance which Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Edwards are giving Wednesday at the Country club.

Mrs. Thomas Brown of Cincinnati, the attractive guest of Mrs. Edwin T. Swobe, will be the inspiration for a goodly bit of entertaining in the Country club set during the week. Mrs. Brown will be remembered as the Mrs. Lester Bridahan of Denver who frequently visited Mrs. Swobe.

Society Girls Learn First Aid.
After completing a course in first aid at the Young Women's Christian association, taught by Dr. Olga Stastny, a group of well known young women qualified for the examinations sent from the first aid department of the Red Cross society. Dr. Nora Fairchild gave the "quiz." The young women were Misses Carolyn Barkalow, Margaret Bruce, Leeta Holdrege, Antinette Burkley, Mary Burkley, Alice Carter, Stella Thummel and Mary Rathvon.

At Carter Lake Club.
The Dundee Catholic Women's circle met today at the Carter Lake club house, with Mrs. Arnold Jaeger as hostess.

The Carter Lake Women's Swimming and Bowling club met this morning to pursue their usual pastime. Dr. Clarence Patten and wife entertained at Sunday supper Miss Abbie Gail Weeden, Miss Christine Poulsen, Mr. Douglas Melcher and Mr. and Mrs. Claude H. Rock.

Another party was composed of Mr. C. W. Bonce, Miss Marie Gabler, Mr. Ed Welsh, Mr. A. T. Elwee and Mr. C. N. Maulin.

Mrs. E. F. Brailey had as her guests Mrs. Bert G. Golden and Mrs. Clara Young.

Dr. and Mrs. E. Holovotchiner and Miss Elise were accompanied by Miss Ruth Wallace.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Meyer and Mr. and Mrs. Sol Goldstrom supped together.

Dr. L. L. Irvin, Miss Leona Foster and Miss Belle White and Dr. K. P. Church were at one table.

Eighteen young men will put on an exhibition of wrestling, boxing, burlesque boxing and the like in the afternoon, followed by a children's pageant and races for boys and girls.

Late in the afternoon there will be golf-approaching contests for men and women, and in the evening will be the special dinner with dancing and fireworks.

Former Omaha Girl Married.
The following notice of the marriage of Miss Marguerite Clifford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clifford, formerly of Omaha, occupied the leading position in the society section of the San Francisco Chronicle recently:

"The San Francisco fog that has perhaps stood more abuse from the sons of Neptune than any other element in this part of the world, came in yesterday for a generous measure of blessing from Lieutenant Ole Hagen, U. S. N., since it was the deciding factor in having his marriage to Miss Marguerite Clifford take place yesterday instead of today."

"The South Dakota was under orders to go to Mexico, but the fog threatened to make sailing impossible yesterday. If it lifted, and the vessel consequently should leave, the wedding would take place immediately; otherwise it would be deferred to allow the bride another day in which to prepare for her journey to San Diego, where she will remain during the South Dakota's station in Mexican waters."

"The fog lifted at about 10 o'clock, and at 11:30 the marriage was solemnized at St. Agnes' church, Rev. J. S. Burns officiating. The bride was attended by Miss Eileen Clifford and

Lieutenant Edmund Almy was the best man. The others present were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clifford, parents of the bride; her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Roger J. Kennedy; her brother, Charles Clifford, jr., and Lieutenant and Mrs. Edmund Almy.

A wedding breakfast was served at the Palace hotel.
