

POTTER BOYS LOSE TO ADAMS BROTHERS

Forty-Two Games Required to Determine Championship in Finals of Doubles.

BAIRD LOSES SEMI-FINALS

The finals of the doubles in the tennis tournament yesterday ran to forty-one games before the Adams brothers, Will and Joe, were able to win three sets from Cub and Ced Potter.

The second set with the Potter brothers on the north court with the wind in their favor was even more bitterly fought out and the speedy accurate playing brought repeated applause from a good sized gallery at the Field club to watch the match.

The third set was an off time for the Adams boys and the Potters walked away with it, 6-3, and the gallery just about decided that the Potters might do what they had been doing in their previous games, wait until the odds were against them and then come up and win, but in the fourth set only eight games were necessary to allow the Adams boys to win, 6-2.

The style of play adopted by the two teams of brothers differed widely. The Potters adopted tactics in which they are experts, driving the ball hard and fast and trying to "kill it." They did slip many of their shots past the Adamses, but as Cub Potter has not been playing a great deal this summer, his shots were not as well and accurately placed as in previous tournaments and the steady consistent play of the opponents placing their shots carefully and keeping them in bounds with great reliability finally told and the Potters drove themselves out of the game.

The wind was tricky all the afternoon and interfered with accurate placement and seemed to bother even more in the service as all four of the players made numerous double faults in serving.

Powell Defeats Baird

Meantime Ralph Powell was having the hardest game he has encountered in the tournament so far, to beat R. P. Baird, his opponent, in the semi-finals. He took the first two sets, 6-2, 6-2, and then Baird turned and beat him the same score. The final set which gives Powell the privilege of opposing either Joe or Will Adams went to him by another 6-2 score.

The Adams boys were too tired after the strenuous sets of doubles or attempt the semi-final singles, in which they are opposed and intend to play each other at 10 o'clock this morning to decide who shall meet Powell in the finals of the singles at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Columbia Fire Wins Three Straight Heats

Fremont, Neb., July 14.—(Special Telegram.)—Thursday's program furnished the best sport of the three-day meet, two of the races requiring five heats before the winner could be picked. In the free-for-all pace Columbia Fire won in straight heats, although forced to do the last two heats in 2:09 1/4 and 2:09 3/4, respectively.

In the 2:24 trot The Orphan took first money by winning the last two heats after Cecil Kirtle had won the first two and Lora D. had taken the third. Timothy Hall and Miss May Tall divided third and fourth moneys. The crowd was a disappointment.

The horses are being shipped to West Point, where a three-day program will be held next week. The summary:

2:24 trot, purse $100: The Orphan, b. g. Owens, 1:58 1/4; Cecil Kirtle, b. m. Owens, 2:00; Timothy Hall, b. g. Stants, 2:02 1/4; Miss May Tall, m. Orphan, 2:04; Lora D. b. m. Taylor, 2:06; Starling Lok, m. Stants, 2:08; Red Wing, Red Rico and Walla Walla were distanced in the first heat.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Extreme Depression in Forenoon and Sharp Rebound in Afternoon Features.

WAR ISSUES ARE WEAK

New York, July 14.—Extreme depression in the forenoon when numerous specialties dropped to lowest prices of recent months of the year, and a sharp rebound in the afternoon, when losses were largely replaced by substantial gains, constituted the contrasting features of today's financial market.

In keeping with the movement of the early week, weakness was most acute in the war issues, notably the equipments, industrial and mining, together with copper, United States Industrial Alcohol and Mexican Petroleum.

Losses in Crucible and Lackawanna Steels, American and Baldwin Locomotives, New York Air Brake, Inspiration and Tennessee Copper and Alcohol ranged from 1/8 to 1/4 points, but United States Steel at no time fell more than a fraction and was among the first to recover.

An assortment of unclassified stocks, including the fertilizers, moved with the early current of liquidation, their losses of 1 to 2 points resulting more from the lack of demand than actual pressure.

Canadian Pacific, Reading, Lehigh Valley and Norfolk and Western furnished the basis of forenoon pessimism, with recessions of 1 to 1 1/2 points, but the free absorption of Reading in the final hour helped to turn the market.

Shipping stocks were moderately heavy on light offerings, but came forward with falls later. Final prices recorded numerous gains, the only notable exceptions being Tennessee Copper, Crucible Steel and Baldwin Locomotive, which were factors of no small importance, toward the adjustment of quoted values.

ANNUAL OMAHA AUTO DERBY TO BE HELD TODAY

today by making 102 miles an hour and getting seventh position.

Ira Vail is another driver who upset some of the dope. Ira took Ralph Mulford's Hudson in hand and shot a lap at 101 and gets ninth position.

Vail will drive this Hudson, as the one he owns went cuckoo on him Thursday.

The cars will start this afternoon two in a row. Ralph Mulford will get the pole on the first line with Dario Resta occupying the higher position.

Alene will be in the second line and Eddie Rickenbacher and Dave Lewis in the third.

Dario Resta, Ralph Mulford, Ralph De Palma, Eddie Rickenbacher, Dave Lewis, Billy Muller, Art Klein and Mel Stringer were some of the other drivers out yesterday to take a few more spins before putting the final touches to their motors.

All turned some fast laps, especially Resta and Mulford.

Much speculation is rife among the speed enthusiasts over the probable winner in today's race. The wise ones are inclined to lean toward Dario Resta and Ralph De Palma, although Ralph Mulford and Eddie Rickenbacher have many supporters.

Wilbur D'Alene and Baby Pete Henderson are also granted a chance.

Rick the Favorite. Eddie Rickenbacher, of course, will go to the post with the big majority of the attendance pulling for him.

Omaha regards Rick as its own, and his winning way and genial personality have made him popular with everybody.

There won't be a tear shed, or an expression of regret heard, if Eddie leads the field home.

And Eddie will be right there to put up a battle, too. His car isn't as fast as some of the others, but he's a driving fiend, is Eddie, and he knows how to drive the Omaha track as none of the others do.

If his car holds together, he'll be up among the leaders.

The knowing ones are anticipating a brush between Resta and De Palma that should be nothing short of wonderful.

For he it known Messrs. Resta and De Palma are almost deadlocked for first place in the race for the American championship trophy.

Resta now has 1,800 points, while De Palma is right on his heels with over 1,600.

If De Palma wins the race today he will gain a good lead on De Palma that will take Ralph some time to overcome.

Thus it is the knowing ones who are looking forward with great expectancy to the race today.

On thing that is pleasing to the management is that every car qualified is ready for the gun. Dario Resta and Jack Gable, who blew pistons Thursday, were both repaired yesterday and on the track. Eddie Rickenbacher recovered from a little crystallization and Ira Vail, who broke a rod, got another mount.
