A SOC. ED., A MOTOR RIDE AND A STORY

Being the Harrowing Facts in Connection With a Woman Journalist's Experience.

AND ALSO AN AFTERMATH

By MELLIFICIA—July 18.

There was a society editor who dwelt in a town hard by the Missouri river, laboring on a great home and fireside companion, otherwise a "metropolitan disseminator of the day's muck." Take your choice.

Once in the course of the day's labor, she confided to the thousands of readers of the columns, how some charming matrons of society had gone on a lark, substituting summer widowers and bachelors as companion-playfellows, instead of their husbands.

It so chanced the very same evening that two summer widowers and two gay Lotharios called on the said s. e. and invited her to go automobiling which, as the evening was very warm, she consented to do.

"Ho, ho, ho!" laughed they, and the ringleader of the widowers quoth: "We have a great scheme. The best way to suppress publication of one's larks is to take the scribe with you. Being 'particeps criminis,' the incident is closed."

Which is why this story was written. Summer widowers needn't develop such a strong sense of security.

At the Field Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Flitton will have as their dinner guests at the Field club this evening, Mr. and Mrs. Will C. Carpenter, Mrs. Harry E. Perkins of San Francisco and Miss Esther Reitze of Denver.

Today the weekly bridge luncheon and tournament occupied the members of the Field club. Mrs. F. A. Shottwell entertained at luncheon for Miss Kathleen Carrigg of New York, who is spending the summer with her sister, Mrs. E. C. Abbott, and Dr. Abbott. Yellow Coreopsis was used on the table and the place cards were blue birds. The party played bridge during the afternoon.

Mrs. W. H. Walker entertained seven at the luncheon today. Parties of four were entertained by Mrs. R. M. Jones, Mrs. H. M. Goulding, Miss E. R. Wilson and Miss Freda Lange. Mrs. Virginia Lyball and Mrs. C. J. Merriam also had guests at luncheon.

Events to Come.

Little Bobbie's Pa

By WILLIAM F. KIRK.

Missus White was over to our house last night & she brot her littel boy with her, his nam is Waldemar & he thinks he is smart. His ma thinks he is smart, too.

My darling Waldemar, she sent air to pa & ma, has about him the allent air of one who is one day to becum grate in the counsels of the nashun.

That's good, sed pa, the nashun needs sumbody. I am getting old.

My littel son is a dreamer, sed Missus White. Sometimes I think he senses vishuns that are not for the ordinary eye.

He looks it, sed pa. Is it good for his stumck to have them vishuns?

He never thinks about his stumck, sed Missus White. He is not a wurdly boy.

Wen the old stumck goes back on one, sed pa, it doesnt ask one whether one is wurdly or not. I ought to know, pa, sed I, used to be able to give my stumck a pritty raw deal. But now I have to treat it like a primy donny or it will kick.

Then I asked Waldemar to cum out in the yard & play catch with me & he cum out but he cudent catch a ball & he threw like a gurl.

I am having a perfectly ripping time, he sed to me, what?

I didnt say anything, I sed.

You are an odd boy, what? he sed.

I didnt say a word, I toald him.

Then I asked him if he wanted to put on the boxing glvs with me & he sed If you dont tell mother I will do so with grate zest, he sed to me.

So I got my glvs & whisseld for Skinny Dugan to cum & sed the fun.

I wont hit you vary hard, I sed to Waldemar.

You better, he sed. I am going to hit you as hard as I can. Then he hit me on the noas three (3) times befor I cud git up my hand to stop him & wen I got my hand up he hit me four (4) times in the stumck.

The Bee's Fund for Free Milk and Ice

SAVING BABIES. A contribution to The Bee's fund may save the life of some baby—a baby who otherwise may not be alive and well in September.

Many famish every summer for want of cooling ice and fresh, pure milk.

A dime or a dollar from you may save a life and give you a feeling of satisfaction that is priceless.

Scores of helpless little ones are being nurtured by the nurses through The Bee's fund. Still more will be helped during the hot weather, if YOU contribute.

EVERY CENT goes to buy milk or ice.

Little Bobbie's Pa

Then he stopped and sed We shall call that the end of the first round. We shall call it the end of the fite, I sed. You hit like Tom Sharkey.

I am vary profishunt in the manly art of self defens, he sed. My big brother belevs in pre-paredness. I shall be very glad to give instruksuns.

So I got all the kids together & we cleck-ted Waldemar president & treasurer & boxing master of our club. & he made a speech.

Wen we went in the house I toald pa and ma about it & pa sed Well, well, so he is clever, is he. It reminds me of my boyhood days, pa, sed, wen I was president of every-thing & the idol of all the kids.

A-hem, sed ma.

Yes, sed pa, my childhood was full of glory, but I used to be nice to the humbel littel boys, too.

A-hem, sed ma. Onst a heero, al-ways a heero. I was certainly a fortunate maiden to attract yure wunderful attentshun. A-hem.
