Will Reforest Mount Taishan, Sacred to China

Tainanfu, Shantung Province, China, June 21.—Mount Taishan, the famous sacred mountain of China, where Emperor Shun offered sacrifices to heaven twenty-three centuries before the Christian era, is to be reforested through an effort inaugurated by the Chinese department of agriculture and heartily supported by Christian missionaries and Chinese educators.

This sacred mountain, which rises 6,000 feet above the sea level and has long been sought by tourists because of the wonderful contour of the peak and its historic temples, was denuded centuries ago of trees and its sides have been washed and cut by the freshets no longer checked by trees and grass.

Many trees were planted on the mountain at the time of feast of the tomb this year, which was celebrated as Arbor day throughout China.

A government official has been stationed here for the express purpose of looking after the afforestation of the mountain and a large tract of land has been planted with seedlings, which will furnish trees to be replanted on the sacred mountain.

California Bird Drives Away Mother Cat and Takes Charge of Her Brood

Pelly is her name and Santa Cruz will back her as being one of the oddest little mothers anywhere. As her name indicates she is a member of that ungainly gregarious fish-eating family known as pelicans.

Pelly's appearance probably would not have excited so much attention at the time had she not intruded herself into the domestic affairs of a tabby cat and her litter of kittens.

Pelly, however, has now made her last foraging excursion over the bay for her family for some time, as shep seagull ability has been curtailed by the clipping of her wings.

NEWSPAPER FREAKS

One Printed in Shorthand by Indians, One for Engaged Couples, Another Read in the Dark.

ORGANS IN ALL CALLINGS

One of the queerest newspapers in the world is the Kamloops Wawa, a journal printed in shorthand by a tribe of Indians who live in the interior of British Columbia.

He found the natives superstitious, ignorant and unable to write their language. He soon learned the Indian vocabulary, and then began to write it by means of shorthand signs which represented all the sounds the Indians use in pronouncing the words.

Le Jeune first explained his system to an intelligent Indian lad who lived in the central village. The boy took to it intuitively. In a few months he had thoroughly learned the art of writing his language in shorthand, and began to teach his friends.

The paper was printed on a mimeograph for the first year, but after that Le Jeune succeeded in having type set, and it is now printed on a press in the nearest city.

After about 500 had mastered the system, various parts of the Bible were translated by the missionary, and finally the Kamloops Wawa was started.

France Makes Statement About Its New Income Tax

Paris, June 21.—Under the new income tax 336,000 persons have made declarations, but only 163,107 of them were of amounts that exceed the exempt limit.

The total of the revenues declared was 2,949,000,000 francs and with all deductions made for family dependents, etc., the 2 per cent on taxable portion of the incomes will be only about 22,000,000 francs.

By categories the taxable incomes declared were: 5,000 to 10,000 francs, 76,825; 10,000 to 15,000 francs, 38,128; 15,000 to 20,000 francs, 16,989; 20,000 to 25,000 francs, 9,155; more than 25,000 francs, 22,010.

M. Ribot, minister of finance, in his new financial scheme proposes to increase the tax from 2 to 5 per cent, which would bring the revenue up to about 800,000 francs on the declared incomes. There is no basis for approximating the additional amount that will be derived from the arbitrary taxation of persons who have neglected to declare their incomes.

From M. Ribot's expose of results to the appropriation committee of the chamber, it appears that 90 per cent of the total income tax will be paid by only 60,000 persons, or 1/3 per cent of the population; 1 per cent only of the population will pay 85 per cent of the tax.
