LINES ABOUT LAID FOR TRIP TO EUROPE

Commission Provided for by Pending Tariff Bill to Go Abroad.

WILSON TELLS OF PLANS

Washington, July 29 .- One of the first tasks assigned to the tariff commission to be created by the pending revenue bill may be a tour of European countries, including the belligerents, to study the effect of the war on industrials and trade relations of the United States, and to re port particularly information which might aid in the adjustment of duties likely to follow the declaration of Administration officials let it be come known that the plan to send the proposed commission abroad was being seriously considered in making public today a letter from President Wilson to Samuel M. Hastings of Chicago, president of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, in reply to a telegram from the association suggesting that a special commission be appointed to visit all foreign nations to investigate economic conditions. He said whether the moment to act upon the suggestion was opportune was open to serious question, but when circumstances justified it he intended to take advantage of the revenue bill's provision for investigation by the tariff commission. The letter, in part, follows:

The letter, in part, follows:

Study Economic Relations.

"It was with real interest and appreciation that I received your suggestion for the appointment of a commission to visit the belligerent nations for the purpose of studying the means whereby closer economic relations might be brought about between the United States and Europe. The general idea underlying your suggestion had for a long time been much in my thoughts. Whether this is the opportune moment to act on it, however, is open to serious question.

"Let me say that when circumstances justify it, I shall take advantage of that provision of the Rainey bill under which the president is authorized to direct an examination or investigation by the tariff commission of trade relations between the United States and foreign countries, including the conditions, causes and effects of the competition of foreign industries with those of the United States.

including the conditions, causes and effects of the competition of foreign industries with those of the United States.

"After all, what we are interested in is to ascertain all the facts surrounding our economic life and to disconnect a fundamental thing like the fiscal policy of the government with regard to duties on imports from party politics. We shall strike to do this through the instrumentality of a permanent non-partisan commission, composed of able and experienced men, so that when the facts are once obtained, the handling of our tariff question may no longer be made the foot ball of politics.

"It ought to be possible by such means to make the question of duties merely a question of progress and development a question of adapting means to the chd, of facilitating and helping business, and employing to the utmost the resources of the country in a vast development of our husiness and enterprise.

"Through the federal trade commission, which substitutes the midde processes of helpful counsel for the husiness and enterprise.

Federation of Labor With Railroad Men In Their Demands

Atlantic City, N. J., July 29.—At a meeting of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor today it was decided to support the railroad brotherhoods in their efforts to secure an eight-hour day, preferably by arbitration, "but the federation will stand solidly behind them if recourse to a strike is necessary." An attack is to be made, it was decided, on the decision in Massachusetts that labor was not a commodity, but property.

King Christian

George Expects Solution of the Irish Problem

London, July 29 .- "I don't despair about an eventual solution of the Irish problem, in spite of the recenfailure to reach an agreement hetween the nationalists and the unionists," said David Lloyd George to-that never had hitherto been accomplished," continued the British war secretary. "We brought the repre-sentatives of the Irish nationalists and the Ulster unionists to the point of shaking hands instead of shaking fists at each other.

"Never has a better offer been made by all the British parties together. The only new stipulation ingether. The only new stipulation in-serted was one covering the British and not the Irish parliament. Freddie Welsh Is Bested by Leonard In Eight of Rounds

New York, July 29 .- Benny Leonard outfought Freddie Welsh, the lightweight champion, in eight rounds of a ten-round bout in Brooklyn tonight.

Welsh was in much better shape than when he fought the New York lightweight about four months ago. The champion weighed at the ring-side 133½ pounds, while Leonard seemed just a trifle overtrained.

During the first five rounds Leon-ard did by far the cleaner work, his jabs landing forcefully on Welsh's face and head, while he occassionally ripped in strong left and right body blows. In those rounds Welsh seemed to be too carefully guarding

his jaw and consequently fell short.

Welsh cut loose in the sixth and seventh rounds and gave an exhibition of his old-time skill, landing right and left hooks to the head and body and making a rally in a neutral corner during the sixth. In the seventh, after an exchange of body blows, Welsh was the more effective by a good margin.

But these two were Welsh's only rounds. Leonard outboxed and outpointed the champion in the ninth and tenth rounds, during which his footwork and quick dodging made Welsh's effort seem somewhat wild. Both men clinched occasionally toward the end of the bout, but Welsh was the more guilty of the two in this respect.
