Traps Prisoner With Coat to Hold Him

Detective Frank Murphy, winded from the chase, came puffing up to Twelfth and Dodge, where Harry Buford, police chauffeur had overtaken Jann Servia an escaping Mexican.

Harry, who is small for his courage, had the Mexican's coat pulled over the latter's head, blinding him, and he was vigorously twisting the coat-tails to keep the prisoner that way as he held him at arms length.

"Whatchu got 'im that way for?" "I didn't know he was such a big guy until after I caught him," answered Buford. "So I just grabbed his coat and pulled it over his head while he sprawled under where I tripped him, before he could see what a young fish I am."

SOCIALISTS MAKE MOVE TO END WAR

Representatives of Nine Neutral Countries Gather at The Hague in Conference.

MANY VIEWS EXPRESSED

London, July 31.—The international conference of delegates of the socialist parties of nine neutral countries was opened at The Hague today with an address by the Dutch leader, M. Toelstra, who laid stress on the disastrous consequences of the war in hampering social progress...

Military successes the speaker asserted, hitherto had been on the side of the central powers, but it seemed the zenith had been passed and the superiority of the entente allies in men and money was definitely coming into play.

The speaker, adas the dispatch, thought that no durable peace was possible on the basis of the present war map, or the definite destruction of "Prussian militarism," but socialists must see that restoration of the independence of Belgium and Poland and the constitution of a democratic Balkan federation were made essential points of any peace program.

The question of Alsace and Lorraine was more difficult, the dispatch quotes the speaker as adding, and he believed the socialist parties of France and Germany should aim at some such compromise as had been suggested before the war.

Emile Vandervelde, the Belgian minister of state, in a letter explained that he was unable to attend the congress, but said his neutral comrades "have the right and duty of speaking as to how they were suffering from the war, as it is to their interest that peace when it comes shall be just if it is to be durable."

DISCUSSING RED CROSS SITUATION

Ambassador Page Sends Note Stating Position Taken by Allies.

TALK OF CLOSED DOOR

Washington, July 31.—With the apparent intention of closing the negotiations in which the United States has endeavored unsuccessfully to secure permission to send Red Cross supplies through the allied blockade lines into Germany and Austria, the allies' governments have submitted through Ambassador Page at London a detailed summary of their reasons for refusing such permission.

The communication, handed to the ambassador by the British foreign office and made public tonight by the State department, declares passage of such supplies "has been forbidden in the case of every blockade established in the past," and suggests that if the American people really desire to send relief supplies into the Teutonic countries they can find a way by financing Red Cross hospital units to take the places of those whose recent withdrawal led the allies to impose the restriction against shipments.

Without hospital units to supervise distribution the allies contend there can be no guarantee that the supplies will not be put to military use.

WOMAN GIVEN TWO DAYS

To Make Up Her Mind for Surgical Operation. She Refused; Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"One year ago I was very sick and I suffered with pains in my side and back until I nearly went crazy. I went to different doctors and they all said I had female trouble and would not get any relief until I would be operated on. I had suffered for four years before this time, but I kept getting worse the more medicine I took. Every month since I was a young girl I had suffered with cramps in my sides at periods and was never regular. I saw your advertisement in the newspaper and the picture of a woman who had been saved from an operation and this picture was impressed on my mind. The doctor had given me only two more days to make up my mind so I sent my husband to the drug store at once for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and believe me, I only took four doses before I felt a change and when I had finished the third bottle I was cured and never felt better. I grant you the privilege to publish my letter and am only too glad to let other women know of my cure."—Mrs. THOS. MCGONIGAL, 3428 Hartville Street, Phila., Pa.
