OMAHA RELUCTANT, BUT TAKES GAME

...es and Rourkes Seek to Present One Another With Victory.

SCORE, SEVEN TO FOUR

St. Joseph, Mo., Aug. 3.—(Special Telegram.)—Let us be charitable and say that it was the heat which caused the ball game to resemble a corner lot game in the playgrounds league. There is no other way of explaining how eighteen men could play as poorly and still have it count in the official records. The Drummers presented the Rourkes with the game and at that the men managed by Marty Krug tried hard to persuade the Hollanders to accept the game. Ordinarily they would have succeeded, but the Drummers were determined that the game should go to swell the percentage o fthe league leaders and finally the Rourkes decided that hope was futile and they regretfully annexed the game for thmselves.

First of all, Ted Jourdan, stellar first baseman of the Drummers, decided not to switch his feet, and it occurred to him that rather than do this he had best attempt a one-hand catch of a thrown ball. Result: The ball dropped from his hand and the first error of the game, which proved a costly misplay, was made. Then Walter Keating's arm and a poor throw to the plate cost the Drummers two more runs.

Rourkes There Also.

These two misplays were only a part of the ragged work of the Drummers yesterday, however. But the Rourkes were also there with the errors and the bad judgment and for some time it appeared that they would give the game to the Drummers, for after scoring three runs in the third the Omahans decided that it would be hostile in the extreme to maintain such a lead and they kindly allowed the Drummers to come right back in their half of the third with three more. Krug and Kilduff were the chief offenders for the Rourkes and this is remarkable that neither of these two often make an error. The Drummers played a listless sort of ball—a game far different than that which they presented in the game of the preceding day.

Lou North pitched a good game for the Omahas, allowing only four hits, but his support was such at times that it nearly cost him a well-earned victory. Hovlik also pitched good ball, and he, too, suffered, only more so, from the sort of support given his opponent.

Drummers Score First.

The Drummers scored first, getting a run across in the second inning on Sullivan's hit and Krug's error. The Rourkes obtained three markers in the third, as follows: North singled, Smith did likewise and Krug sacrificed, advancing both men. Thompson drew a walk, filling the bases, and Smith was out on a fielder's choice, which gave Krug a life and scored North. Forsythe was safe on Jourdans' error, and Thompson and Krug scored. In their half of the third, the Drummers tied the score, in this way: Beers walked and Hovlik was hit by a pitched ball. Wright was safe on Kilduff's error. eKating singled after Beers had been caught off second and Hovlik and Wright scored. Kirkham doubled, scoring Keating. This made it 4 and 3 and it began to look like a repetition of the game of Wednesday, when the Drummers came from behind and won the game.

But in the fifth the Rourkes scored two more runs on a double by Thompson, a fielder's choice by Marshall and a long single by Kilduff. In the sixth inning Catcher Marshall of the Rourkes was overcome by the heat and Krueger replaced him behind the bat.

...ittsburgh Releases Pitcher Babe Adams

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 3.—Charles ("Babe") Adams, pitcher for the Pittsburgh National league club, was today given his unconditional release. Waivers were asked on him several days ago, but none of the clubs in the major leagues signed him. Adams said he would go to his home in Missouri for a rest before making any plans.

Shenandoah Girl Bride of Ball Player

Shenandoah, Ia., Aug. 3.—(Special.)—Stealing a march on their friends, Miss Hazel Whitaker was married to Harry Simmons at Council Bluffs. He is better known as "Pate" and is third baseman for the Red Sox team of Shenandoah and formerly played league ball with Clinton. The bride was visiting her brother, Roy Whitaker, when the marriage took place.

Drive Into Bleachers Gives Game to Giants

New York, Aug. 3.—Fred Merkles' home drive into the left field bleachers in the eighth inning, broke up a tight pitchers' battle today between Vaughn of the Chicago Nationals and Perritt of New York, the Giants winning, 1 to 0. Vaughn only allowed two hits prior to Merkles' long hit. Perritt was hit freely and his support was weak at times, but he was invincible in the pinches. The score:

FRANK KRAMER.

Franw Kramer once more showed his ability as a match rider by winning the Alternance bicycle race at the Newark Velodrome recently. Representing America, he wass pitted against representatives of France, Canada and Australia, and came through with flying colors.

Kramer finished first with twenty-five points; Dupuy of France and Spencer of Toronto tied for second honors with sixteen points, while Goulet of Australia was last with fifteen points.

NEW YORK KEEPS UP ITS LOSING STREAK

Drops Seventh Straight Game, Detroit Winning by Score That Was 2 to 1.

PLAYERS ARE RECALLED

Detroit, Aug. 3.—New York lost its seventh straight game today to Detroit, 2 to 1. Russell out-pitched Coveleskie and Boland put two hits and a pass in the seventh tied the score. In the ninth Veach tripled and scored when Walters, in a collision, dropped a throw by Gedeon, on Young's grounder, after Veach had been called out.

On both sides the fielding was fast and the pitching good. The New York club has recalled Pitcher Shocker from Toronto, Infielder Arragon from Richmond, Va., and has notified Pitcher Cullop to rejoin the squad. The score:
