

Nebraska KEARNEY IS HOST TO QUILL PUSHERS

Returning Members of State Association of Editors Are Greeted There.

CLARK PERKINS PRESIDENT

Kearney, Neb., Aug. 11.—(Special Telegram).—The Nebraska Press association arrived in Kearney today at 1 o'clock.

M. A. Brown of Kearney noted some reminiscences during the fifty years that he has been in the newspaper game.

This is the last city to be visited by the editors, and many disbanded for their homes at this point, but all went away feeling that the Hub city had done its full share in entertaining them during their brief stay.

Entertained at North Platte. North Platte, Neb., Aug. 11.—(Special Telegram).—The Nebraska Press association special arrived in North Platte two hours late and stood on the siding while the editors completed their morning nap and their boxes assembled.

Rain caused a change in plans and breakfast was served at the Episcopal church instead of the state farm. The editors were taken to the state experimental farm and a few other points of interest.

The scribe continued to wonder at the prosperity of the west and said that "The Great American Desert" was coming into its own.

Officers Elected. Scott's Bluff, Neb., Aug. 11.—(Special Telegram).—At the business meeting the following officers were elected: President, Clark Perkins, Aurora; vice president, C. B. Case, Ravenna; secretary-treasurer, A. B. Scott, Nebraska Printer, Edgar; corresponding secretary, Anna A. Hunt, Ponca Advertiser.

The association will be the guests on Friday of North Platte and Kearney, arriving in Grand Island Friday evening in time for the members of the party to take late trains for their respective homes.

Guardsmen in Service Are Barred From Voting

Lincoln, Aug. 11.—(Special).—According to an opinion of Attorney General Willis E. Reed, which appears to be the opinion of Judge Advocate General E. J. Murfin of the Nebraska Guard, men in service on the board cannot be permitted to vote at the coming election unless given the authority by the state legislature and therefore there is little chance for them unless the present congress takes up the matter.

Democrat Office Holders Get Glimpse Of Call for Money

Lincoln, Aug. 11.—(Special).—Cold shivers were running up and down the backs of state house employees this forenoon and those who have not yet taken vacations were as plum as a like situation could possibly make them, for Candidate Keith Neville, who wants to be governor by virtue of heading the democratic state ticket, and his chairman, Louis Langhorst, were circulating in and out of the offices at the state house, sizing up the employees, presumably to see about how much each could be taxed on the coming campaign assessment.

Those who have taken their vacations were happy, at least more so than those who have not, for they have had their rest, but those who have had planned vacations and had waited, are now counting their loose change and wondering if life will be worth the living after the notice comes, and are beginning to understand that a political job has some drawbacks and is not all the time a continual round of pleasure.

It is going to be pretty hard on some of them, for, on account of state institutions being put on a non-partisan basis, no assessments can be made on the employees of these institutions, and consequently the state house bunch will have to dig down deeper. Just how much they will be called upon to pay is not known now, but "the worst is yet to come."

Deny That Mrs. Manchester Controls Woodman Circle

Lincoln, Aug. 11.—(Special).—Attorneys for the members of the executive council of the Woodman Circle who are endeavoring to take from Mrs. Emma Manchester her authority as supreme guardian of that organization have come before the tribunal of state justice again, and today filed an answer to claims of Mrs. Manchester's attorneys and set forth and deny that she has exercised exclusive control of the organization and that she has not had control of the field workers nor of the official organ of the organization.

They ask that the case be dismissed for want of jurisdiction, but if the court does find that it has jurisdiction it should decree in favor of the executive council and enjoin Mrs. Manchester from in any way interfering with the field work as laid down by the executive body.
