KANSAN'S ROMANCE RUDELY SHATTERED

Matrimonial Paper Courtship and Marriage Makes New Convert of Celibacy.

GOES BACK TO THE FARM

His Week in Omaha. Sunday a. m.—A simple Kansas farmer. Sunday p. m.—Suiter for the hand of Ada Stephens.

Sydney Robison, 34 years old, a farmer of Corning, Kan., rues the day that he answered an advertisement in a matrimonial paper and came to Omaha imbued with the desire to return to the farm with his bride.

The story of the Robison-Stephens romance smacks of the dime novel. With his money nearly gone and his spirit broken, Mr. Robison appealed to Assistant County Attorney Ray J. Abbott for relief from the bonds of matrimony, after three days of married life.

This Is the Life—Maybe. After perusing matrimonial papers for weeks he finally selected Miss Ada Stephens of Omaha as the lady most desirable to reside over his farm home.

His investigations regarding the character, physical well-being and associations revealed no stumbling blocks and he consented to become the step-father of the 15-month old child of Miss Stephens, who she declared was born of her first marriage.

Plans were immediately made for the packing of the household furniture and effects for removal to the farm in Kansas.

Wednesday morning, when Robison returned to the sister's home to accompany his wife to the railway station, he found her suffering from an epileptic fit, he stated.

Robison now declares that he had no knowledge that his wife was subject to these attacks. He asks that the marriage be annulled on the ground of fraud and deception.

His thrilling week in Omaha has made him a convert of celibacy. He's going back to the farm.

The Bee's Fund for Free Milk and Ice

J. H. McDonald, retired merchant tailor, who was confined to his bed for a few weeks during the hottest weather, living mostly on a milk diet, made a vow that if he got well enough to write a check the first thing he would do would be to send $10 to The Bee's Milk and Ice Fund.

So, as soon as he was able to get to his office, he mailed the check with the wish that it might help some of the poor children.

A bit of sickness or privation does, indeed, make one realize the hot weather sufferings of helpless little ones—those whom The Bee's fund cares for.

Offers to Buy More Humane Device for Killing Stray Dogs

Dean Tancock, Benjamin J. Stanley, H. S. Mann, P. J. Healey and J. R. Ringwald of the Humane society called on Superintendent Kugel of the police department and offered to install, at the dog pound, an improved type of electrical apparatus for killing dogs. Before taking action, these men will visit the pound and witness a demonstration of the present apparatus, which Mr. Kugel believes is humane.

Three Army Deserters Give Themselves Up Here

Three deserters from the army have given themselves up to Sergeant Fred Hanson at the local recruiting office in the last three days. One of them deserted at Del Rio, Tex.; one at Fort Bliss, Tex., and one at Calexico, Cal.

Robison went to the court house bright and early Monday morning and was granted a license to wed by Deputy Clerk H. H. Stubbendorf. The couple were married by Justice C. W. Britt, the sister of the bride, Miss Jessie Larson, acting as witness.

Prepare for Honeymoon. Plans were immediately made for the packing of the household furniture and effects for removal to the farm in Kansas.

Wednesday morning, when Robison returned to the sister's home to accompany his wife to the railway station, he found her suffering from an epileptic fit, he stated.

Robison now declares that he had no knowledge that his wife was subject to these attacks. He asks that the marriage be annulled on the ground of fraud and deception.

His thrilling week in Omaha has made him a convert of celibacy. He's going back to the farm.

NAMED AS MEMBER OF THE WAR COLLEGE.

LIEUT. COL. D. E. MCCARTHY.

Colonel Daniel E. McCarthy, stationed here from March 17, 1907, until March 8, 1911, as chief quartermaster of the Department of the Missouri, has been ordered to report September 15 at Fort Leavenworth as member of the war college.

The colonel while a resident of this city won many friends by his congeniality. He and Mrs. McCarthy were active socially. They resided at Thirty-ninth and Harney streets.

Since leaving Omaha the colonel was assigned as quartermaster of the Central department at Chicago and served at San Antonio and Texas City.

NO MEN FOR PAYING DELAYING THE WORK

City May Take Over the Contracts to Insure the Streets Being Paved.

SUMLIER IS PASSING FAST

Wanted—Women to work on paving jobs. Apply at city hall. Acting Mayor Butler suggests that some of the women of the city might help out the paving situation. Scarcity of men is given as an excuse for not going ahead with the work.

Three paving contractors continue to be so dilatory that Commissioner Jardine of the public improvements department has asked the city legal department for an expression as to just what authority his department has in the matter of taking over the contracts which have gone by default. Some of these paving districts were started last spring.

"I know one thing, this department can finish the jobs, and we intend to finish them if the three delinquent contractors do not show signs of life within a few days," announced Commissioner Jardine.

City Engineer Bruce has given the contractors final notice of the intentions of Mr. Jardine. The department wants to have these districts completed before the paving season closes.

North Twenty-fourth street is one of the districts causing considerable complaint. Although this street is torn up for many blocks, but five men have been at work for several days.

Missouri Pacific Tells of New Work Expenditures

The Missouri Pacific railroad has spent $1,300,000 in extending and improving its lines in Nebraska in the last seven years, according to the railroad's statement in the hearing of the rate case. The road is seeking a permanent injunction to prevent the State Railway commission from enforcing the 2-cent fare law. The state will present its side of the case October 20, probably at Lincoln.

His investigations regarding the character, physical well-being and associations revealed no stumbling blocks and he consented to become the step-father of the 15-month old child of Miss Stephens, who she declared was born of her first marriage.

Weight or Measure Is Choice Offered To Crude Oil Users

Users of oil-burning furnaces are being reminded just now that under city ordinance No. 9142, passed on February 8 of this year, they may demand during the coming season that oil deliveries be made on the basis of weight rather than by liquid measurement.

The ordinance contains the following optional clause:

"Provided, that the provisions of this ordinance shall not apply to any sale or contract of sale in which the parties thereto have expressly agreed upon in writing, to the contrary, signed by the parties hereto." City Attorney Rine, who drew the ordinance, made this statement: "While the ordinance gives the option of allowing the oil consumers to contract for deliveries under the liquid measurement system, it, however, does protect consumers who may demand that oil shall be delivered by weight, as defined in the ordinance."

The liquid measurement clause was placed in the ordinance to satisfy dealers who appeared before the council committee of the whole at the time the ordinance was discussed.

The city legal department maintains that the optional clause in no manner vitiates the ordinance in the event that any consumer or consumers demand the weight measurement.

The ordinance was introduced by Mayor Dahlman, and upon the request of C. J. McDonald, secretary and manager of the Nebraska Oil and Furnace company, Mr. McDonald said: "We contended and still contend that the weight measurement offers the better protection to consumers, as under this system the consumer is given weight tickets, while under the liquid measurement system there are several undesirable features. I do not see that the optional feature of the ordinance does much harm. We however, prefer to use the weight measurement."

The Standard Oil company is sending to next season's prospective fuel oil patrons contract blanks which read: "The party of the second part agrees to receive the oil distillate defined in section 1, at and for the price of 5 1/2 cents per gallon, delivered by tank wagon, and agrees to accept liquid measures for all deliveries, instead of requiring deliveries based on provisions of Omaha city ordinance No. 9142, such deliveries to be made as the party of the second part may require and as they order, but not less than 500 gallons at any time."

The contract price last season was 4 1/2 cents per gallon.
