

RUSS CONTINUE DRIVE IN GALICIA

Ozar's Troops Cross to Western Banks of Three Rivers—Continue to Advance.

KAISER IS ON EAST FRONT

Petrograd, Aug. 15.—(Via London.)—The rapid Russian advance in Galicia continues. Russian troops are crossing to the western banks of the Zlota Lipa and Bystritsa-Solotvina and are advancing along the upper Strips, the war office announced today.

The announcement says: On the evening of August 14 a German albatross appeared over the town of Nesvij. A Russian aviator drove it to earth. The wounded pilot and the observer were captured.

"Our advance westward in the region of the upper Strips is continuing. On the rivers Zlota Lipa and Bystritsa-Solotvina our troops are crossing successfully to the western banks.

Turkish Position Taken.

"Caucasian front: Our offensive in the region of Sakkakiz, Persia, resulted in our capture of a very strong Turkish position in the vicinity of this town. The enemy pursued by our cavalry is retreating hurriedly to the south.

"On the Baltic sea on Monday morning two of our hydroplanes undertook a raid on the enemy's aerodrome near Lake Agern in Courland. Notwithstanding a bombardment by anti-aircraft guns and a counter attack by seven German machines, our aviators dropped bombs successfully on the enemy sheds. Many bullets struck our machines. One of the enemy machines was struck and turned over in the air, falling to the ground enveloped in smoke. Two others alighted on the sea, having received injuries. Our hydroplanes returned safely."

Kaiser on East Front.

Berlin, Aug. 15.—(Via London.)—Having returned from the Somme region Emperor William has gone to the eastern front.

"The emperor has again left for the eastern front," says an official statement issued here today, "after having visited, toward the end of his stay of several days on the western front, the army of the crown prince and accompanied by the commander-in-chief, various units behind the battle front."

The Austrian official statement of August 12, received here from Vienna, says the attack by German and Austro-Hungarian troops in the Carpathians is progressing successfully and that 700 Russians were captured August 11.

In the Italian theater, the statement adds, several strong attacks by the Italians on the heights of Gorizia were repulsed, the Austrians taking a number of prisoners.

Austro-German troops under General Count Von Bothmer are offering determined resistance to the Russian advance along the upper Strips, in northern Galicia. They have completely repulsed strong attacks in the Zborow-Koninchy sector, according to the official statement of the war office today.

Music Will Eliminate War Says Mme. Gadski

MME. JOHANNA GADSKI @ MISHKIN, N.Y.

Mme. Johanna Gadski, the famous singer, claims war would not be possible if everyone spoke and understood the same language, lived in the same atmosphere and strove for the same ideal. "Of all the arts," asserts the great Wagnerian soprano, "music alone has a truly universal significance. There are plenty of people to whom pictures, sculpture or literature may make no appeal whatever, but it is extremely difficult to find anyone utterly lacking in musical instinct. Therefore I claim that the great art of music is the one solid ground for a true internationalism, the one realm in which matters of politics, commercialism or of petty hostility can be transcended. For if we do not find concord and harmony in music, where on earth is it to be sought?"

CRISIS IS NEAR IN THE RAILROAD WAGE QUESTION

would accept the principle of an eight-hour day and leave the working out of its application to the Interstate Commerce commission or some body formed for the purpose.

Secretary Tumulty issued the following statement: The president spent an hour and a half this morning with the representatives of the railway managers. After the conference he said that it was impossible as yet to report on the results; all that he could say was that a very candid and honest discussion was in progress about practicable bases of settlement.

Plan May Not Be Feasible.

Whether this plan can be worked out will not be known until President Wilson presents it to the brotherhood leaders. The railroads are understood to be ready to concede the principle of the eight-hour day, providing concessions be made by the employes so too heavy a burden will not be placed upon the railroads.

The men take the stand that they principally want the eight-hour day on conditions that it shall be enforced whenever possible. The railroads are said to believe it impossible to accept the eight-hour day unless a workable system of application can be built up. Members of the managers' committee said they had no plans for the future and did not know whether they would be called to the White House again.

The managers took the position that the eight-hour day and the collateral issues are inseparable and that it would not be practicable to accept the eight-hour day and submit the other question to arbitration.

Representatives of the brotherhoods heard of the proposal with interest, but insisted, however, that the proposition was not a new one. None of the brotherhood officials would commit himself on what the attitude of the employes would be toward such a proposal, but they did not appear optimistic over the likelihood of its proving acceptable.

It was pointed out by the employes' representatives, however, that if such a proposition were tendered in concrete form to them they could only refer it to the general board, composed of 600 committee chairmen, now in New York.

Evade Questioners.

After an hour and a half of conference with the president the managers' committee left the White House by a side door, hoping to evade questioners. Elisha Lee, the chairman, said: "We are entirely in the president's hands and have agreed with him that he will make any statement."

While the managers were at the White House, the brotherhood leaders conferred among themselves and awaited the call for their conference. The general opinion among them was that the president was putting the burden of averting a strike up to the railroads and that the prospects for a settlement were good. Having agreed practically to the principle of arbitration, the brotherhood leaders inclined to the view that the controversy could be settled by the railroads granting the basic eight-hour day and arbitrating the demands for time and a half for overtime; or features and having the railroads make a flat agreement to put in the eight-hour day.

The attitude of the managers as they went to the White House was said to be one of yielding something.

BRITISH RETAKE LOST TRENCHES

Nearly All Positions Lost to Germans in Sunday's Fighting Are Regained.

FRENCH GAIN ON MEUSE

London, Aug. 15.—Nearly all of the remaining trenches northwest of Pozieres, on the Somme front, in which the Germans gained a footing on Sunday, have been retaken, the war office announced today.

The announcement follows:

"As a result of local fighting northwest of Pozieres, during these two days we have retaken nearly the whole of the remainder of the trenches in which the enemy gained a footing early yesterday. Last night we also forced entry into the enemy's trenches near Mouquet farm, returning to our lines with eleven prisoners."

French Capture German Trenches.

Paris, Aug. 15.—French troops captured German trenches on a front about 300 yards long and 100 yards deep north of the Chapel of Sainte Fine, at the intersection of the Fleury and Vaux roads on the right bank of the Meuse in the Verdun sector last night, says the war office statement today.

On the Somme front the French artillery was very active at Bellefleur and Lignons. Elsewhere the night was calm.

German Official Report.

Berlin, Aug. 15.—(Via London.)—After attacks of the greatest violence on the Somme front, continuing until late last night, the British obtained a footing in first line German trenches on the Thiepval-Pozieres front, the war office announced today.

Carranza Officer is Killed by U. S. Guard

San Antonio, Aug. 15.—A lieutenant of the Carranza army was shot and killed by an American provost guard at Colonia Dublin three days ago, according to a report to General Funston today by General Pershing. The dispatch mentioned no names. General Pershing said the Mexican officer was fired at a Mexican railroad brakeman.

The provost guard ordered the officer to halt and the latter fired at the American. The provost killed the lieutenant. He was exonerated.

PETS GALORE AT SPRING LAKE SHOW

Tots and Others Bring Variety of Dogs and Felines to Exhibit.

CHICKENS AND BIRDS, TOO

"If they see a cat they'll surely run after it. One is 8 years old, and I don't know how old the other one is," replied Catherine O'Leary, tiny miss who held in leash a pair of pretty French poodles at the pet show which was held yesterday afternoon at the Spring Lake park public playgrounds. Catherine was accompanied by her brother, Eddie, and the pair took much delight in showing their pets. They live at 2813 E street.

Miss O'Leary apparently knew whereof she spoke when she referred to the antipathy her poodles had for feline society. No sooner had she informed her questioner than who should come along but Marie Knowland and Ethel Backus with their kittens. "Daddy" and "Buster," the poodles, lunged like a pair of lions to get at the kittens.

First of Series.

The show was the first of a series to be held in the playgrounds during the next two weeks. There were fifty-four animals and birds at Spring Lake. H. S. Mann of the humane society; City Commissioner Hummel and Superintendent English attended the exhibition and spoke to the children on the care and humane treatment of animals and birds.

"Now, how many times did I say you should feed your pets each day?" asked Mr. English.

"Three times," chirped a sweet little miss, holding her attenuated kitten in her lap.

"Four times," shouted a red-headed boy, who was custodian of a large dog.

Brings Bottle-Fed Kitten.

Willis and Helen Kellogg brought "Tige," a fat Boston bull dog. Notwithstanding his unusual embodiment, Tige is quite a pet and is a good watchdog. Eddie Panuska, 1523 Canton street, exhibited his kitten, which he fed from a nursing bottle. Jean Storrie of 4406 South Nineteenth street, about the size of a minute, carried her pet hen to the show. The hen was a restless specimen, probably being frightened by the dogs and cats. When Jean dropped the hen the show was nearly broken up by the rush of dogs after this feathered pet. The frightened hen was caught and restored to its honored place in the show.

Ruth and Jane Roberts, 4115 South Twenty-third street, piloted "Buttons," a bull dog that hates white dogs. Every white dog at the show shook as if it had the ague when Buttons arrived on the scene.

Wee Bit of Canine.

Claire McLane, 4220 South Twenty-first street, showed "Sport," a tiny fox terrier pup, the smallest dog at the show. This canine exhibit was so small that it hurt his face to bark, but many visitors petted Sport and said he was a cute little dog. One of the cats nearly scratched Sport when the latter cut up some Charley Chaplin capers.

There were rabbits, canaries, geese, and all kinds of dogs and cats. Nearly 200 visitors attended the show.

Bishop Johnson Quits.

Brownsville, Tex., Aug. 15.—Bishop E. S. Johnson of Sioux City, Ia., chaplain of the Second Iowa infantry, today tendered his resignation to the War department in order that he might fulfill an assignment of the Methodist church as bishop of Africa. He was appointed to this work before the National Guard was called out.

Increased Pay for Railroad Men.

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 14.—Increases in wages averaging 1 1/2 per cent for shop men, section foremen, underwriters, telegraphers, dispatchers, and laborers employed by the El Paso & Southwestern railroad system, were announced today. Increases do not affect the pay of trainmen or engine men, it was said.

Rockefeller Industrial Plan Called Failure by McLennan

Colorado Springs, Colo., Aug. 15.—A wide range of labor topics are dealt with in the annual report of John McLennan, president of the Colorado State Federation of Labor, submitted to the convention of the federation here today.

The so-called "Rockefeller Industrial plan," adopted by the Colorado Fuel and Iron company, is declared to be an "unqualified failure." The industrial commission and workmen's compensation laws of Colorado are severely criticized in some respects and praised in others. Conditions in the coal mining fields are reviewed and a glowing report is given of the growth of unionism in the state and legislation deemed necessary is outlined.

Generally, the report says, better feeling appears to prevail between employer and employee in the state and in the coal fields improvements noted are credited to the results of the strike of 1913-1914.

Paralysis Epidemic Takes Turn for Worse

New York, Aug. 15.—The epidemic of infantile paralysis has taken a turn for the worse despite the continuation of unusual cool weather. During the twenty-four hours ending at 10 a. m. today, 163 new cases of the disease and thirty-nine deaths were reported, an increase in new cases of nearly 100 per cent over yesterday's figures.

Failure of physicians to report cases over the Sunday holiday was suggested as a reason for the increase. Since the epidemic began there have been 6,532 cases and 1,464 deaths.

New Jersey's state-wide quarantine against the plague was put into effect today. Special guards were placed at all terminal points to prevent children under 16 years of age from entering the state and local restrictions of the most stringent character were ordered at the various coast resorts.

Dog That Bit Little Tots Has the Rabies

The head of the dog which bit little Jeanette Mehr, 5 years old, and her baby sister Beatrice, 18 months old, Sunday afternoon, was recovered at the dog pound Monday afternoon by Police Surgeon Philbrick and Dr. Nicholas W. Wohl, pathologist and bacteriologist, at the Nicholas Senn hospital, who examined it and found the dog to have been affected with rabies. Dr. Wohl will give the children the Pasteur treatment as a precaution.

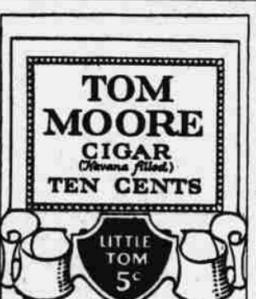

Dr. Wohl says that it is unwise to kill the dog which is suspected of rabies. A better method is to confine it so that it can do no more harm and observe it for four days. If at the end of that time the animal is still alive it is not affected with rabies.

Arm Amputated and Dies.

Lake City, Ia., Aug. 15.—John J. Coady, a democratic politician, county supervisor for fifteen years, and candidate for state senator in the Twenty-seventh district, died here tonight, having the amputation of an arm for blood poisoning.

Gompers Answers Criticism Made by Senator Sherman

Washington, Aug. 15.—Samuel Gompers made reply today to Senator Sherman, who yesterday denounced him in the senate as a "public nuisance," during a characterization of certain labor leaders as arbitrary and tyrannical.

"It is impossible for me to be arbitrary or tyrannical," said Gompers, "for there are no such powers vested in the president of the American Federation of Labor. I have not the power to deliver the vote of any man or group of men."
