

LEAVES $1,000 TO BRICKLAYERS' UNION

Hugh Murphy in His Will Also Remembers Nurses and Other Employes.

BULK GOES TO HIS FAMILY

"Being a journeyman bricklayer and, once a bricklayer, always a bricklayer to a bricklayer, I hereby give and bequeath to Bricklayers Union No. 1 of Nebraska the sum of $1,000 to be used and expended in such manner as said union sees proper," reads the will of Hugh Murphy, pioneer paving contractor, just filed for probate.

The estate comprises property of estimated value of more than $100,000.

Mr. Murphy orders $2,000 paid to Mary I. France, 2569 Fort street, Omaha, his stenographer.

Among the other bequests are the following:

For the removal of the body of his mother from the old cemetery at Elgin, Ill., to the new cemetery at Elgin, $1,200. The grave is to be marked with a marble monument and inscribed with the identical markings on the old monument.

To Mrs. Mary Barr, a sister, 2652 North California avenue, Chicago, $5,000.

To Richard Murphy, a brother, 54 South Broadway, Denver, $5,000.

To Miss Anna Barnay of Omaha, for faithful service as nurse during his illness, $1,000.

To Dominic Anemy, 857 South Twenty-eighth street, Omaha, $1,000 for faithful services.

To Roy M. Hutton, 2710 Bristol street, Omaha, another faithful employe, $1,000.

To Vernon N. Short, 1113 Pacific street, for constant and loyal services, $1,000.

To Carrie A. Kolarik, another nurse, $1,000.

To R. C. Yant, Louisville, Neb., $1,000.

Abraham L. Reed is made executor and is instructed to provide a home for the remainder of their days for George Duncan, Mr. Murphy's veteran foreman, and his wife. A bequest of $1,600 is provided for the purchase of a desirable home for them.

The remainder of the estate goes in undivided fifth parts to the widow, Ellen, and his four children, Mary, Richard, Helen and Hugh.

John C. Brodie and W. H. Herdman are witnesses of the will, which is dated March 14, 1916.

Omaha Minister Preaches in Some Historic Churches While on Vacation

Rev. L. Groh, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran church, preached in two very old and historic churches during a five weeks' trip to Pennsylvania, from which he has just returned.

One of these was an old church in Schaefferstown, Pa. Schaefferstown is a little place, seven miles from a railroad. Some of the houses are built of logs. Some of the people have lived there ninety years and have never traveled ten miles away.

The church was established in 1740. Dr. Groh attended there when he was a child. In the early days they had a little bell on each contribution basket and if any parishioner was asleep when the collection was taken up the bell was rung until he awoke.

Dr. Groh also preached for some of his former members at the old Swamp church. This congregation was organized by Rev. Harry Melchior Muhlenberg very early in the eighteenth century and his church records, written partly in Latin, are still extant. Rev. Dr. Muhlenberg was one of the foremost patriots in the American colonies.

The church is not very far from Valley Forge and was used as a hospital during the Revolutionary war.

Dr. Groh preached also at the old St. John's church, Boyertown, Pa., where he was pastor for twenty-five years, with a membership of over 1,000.

Major Thomas L. Rhoades, United States army, now in charge of the United States hospital at Colon, and one of Dr. Groh's confirmants during his pastorate, was home on a vacation. Dr. Rhoades is a surgeon in the army and operated on William H. Taft in the Philippines and afterwards became Taft's military aide following the death of Archie Butts on the Titanic.

Small Towns Fear Bandit Who Held Up Florence Bank

Complaints from the vicinity of Springfield that houses were being broken into by a man suspected of being the gentlemanly bandit who held up and robbed the Florence bank, sent deputy sheriffs scurrying to the scene.

Reports are being received at the sheriff's office from towns throughout the surrounding territory telling of the believed activities of the "Gentleman Bandit" in innumerable localities.

Post cards giving the description of the robber have been sent to all officers and other interested parties in Iowa, Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado, Nebraska and the Dakotas from the sheriff's office.

Milwaukee May Name Crack Train Ak-Sar-Ben

Another effort is to be made to have the Milwaukee's crack train between Omaha and Chicago named the "Ak-Sar-Ben Limited."

About a year ago the attention of the officials in Chicago was drawn to the fact that of all the names for the Omaha-Chicago night train, that of Ak-Sar-Ben would be the most appropriate.

Local Milwaukee men argue that the other crack trains of the system—the Pioneer Limited, Southwest Limited, Olympian, Columbian—are expressive of the territories they travel.

RUPTURE EXPERT HERE

PAVERS GIVE NEW EXCUSE FOR DELAY

C. W. Hull Says There is Shortage of Both Cement and Stone.

CONTRACTORS GIVEN WEEK

"There's another alibi," declared City Commissioner Hummel when C. W. Hull appeared before the city council to explain the paving situation from the standpoint of a material man.

Mr. Hummel opened up the paving situation anew and announced he would give the contractor in Miller park district just one more week in which to show signs of life.

Mr. Hull explained there is a shortage of cement and crushed stone, due largely to lack of railroad equipment at this time. He said a stone mill at Lake View, Ia., broke down and new machinery could not be secured for repairs, thus causing a delay.

Commissioners Hummel and Jardine were appointed as a special committee to "see what can be done to arouse the paving contractors."

"It is high time that the city council takes some notice of irresponsible paving contractors and in the future invite bids from contractors out of the city to compete with these local men who are favoring their contracts outside of this city and slighting their work here," was another statement by Commissioner Hummel.

Commissioner Jardine announced that the contractor on North Twenty-fourth street actually had moved a concrete mixer to this job.

erse, and that it would also be the case with the train between Chicago and the Nebraska metropolis.

Eugene Duval, general western agent of the road, is planning to take the matter up with the Chicagoans.

Cannot Tell Red from Green And Would Join the Navy

The most color blind, or the color blindest man that Lieutenant W. W. Waddell of the navy recruiting station ever saw applied for enlistment. He had absolutely no sense of color. Given a skein of bright red yarn and told to select other skeins of the same color from a basket, he picked yellow, green, brown and purple ones, but none that matched the red one. He was Harry Beam of Birmingham, Ala., and, of course, he didn't get into the navy.

July Smashes All Sales-Records For Our Wonderful Year

Tire dealers this July sold to car owners more United States Tires than in any previous month of this year—our sales-records to dealers prove this.

And this is the year of astounding and record-breaking sales increases for United States Tires.

Such great sales growth proves two things,

—that car owners who have used United States Tires continue to use them;

—that car owners who have been using other tires are now largely buying United States Tires.

Have you joined this gigantic army of wise motor car owners?

Autoists Fined for Rule Violations

The following violators of traffic rules appeared before Judge Foster this morning and were fined:

William Bayer, 2014 North Twenty-sixth street, pleaded guilty to running a truck on the boulevards and paid $1 and costs.

Robert Rasmussen, Benson, passed a street car on the wrong side of the street and was fined $1 and costs.

L. D. Willis, 1119 City National Bank building, violated the parking rules and paid $1 and costs.

C. O. Lind, 4910 Douglas street, passed a car on the wrong side of the street; $1.

The following were fined $2.50, with sentence suspended, for speeding: H. Hudson, 2802 Farnam, and George Coaley, 2914 Nicholas street.

Garland Latta, 1722 St. Mary's avenue, who speeded on Farnam street and did not stop when signaled, was fined $15 and costs, with sentence suspended.

Mayor Jim Shakes Hands With Prexy

"Yes, I shook hands with President Wilson and he remarked he was glad I called," said Mayor Danman upon his return from the east.

"I told the boys down at Washington," he added, "that Omaha would be the logical and proper place to hold the federal bank hearing in this territory. Mr. McAdoo told me before I left he would wire me on the subject."

The mayor says Congressman Lobeck knows every nook and corner of the national capital.

"It is a real comfort to go sight-seeing with Lobeck," declared Mayor Jim.

Sent to Jail for Abusing Family

Dan Shea, 3008 Sprague street, got a thirty days' sentence to the workhouse because his wife and four children have been unable to live with him of late. Mrs. Shea was advised to advertise in the city newspapers warning saloonkeepers to refuse to sell liquor to him. The court awarded the wife $20, which Shea possessed when he was arrested.

Police and Firemen May Now Go Coatless

City Commissioner Jardine secured the adoption of a resolution by the city council permitting policemen and firemen to work without their coats in hot weather.

The resolution asks business men of the city to popularize this coatless movement.

Omaha to Try for Meeting of Bohemian Catholic Turners

In 1919 Omaha wants the national meeting of the Bohemian Catholic Turners' association.

The meeting this year is to be held in Milwaukee the fore part of September. Some eighty Turners from Nebraska will attend in Milwaukee. No less than twenty are expected to go from Omaha. Charles M. Fiska of Omaha is to head the Nebraska delegation. Mr. Fiska and other local Bohemians have been in conference with E. V. Parrish of the bureau of publicity with regard to the campaign they will make at Milwaukee to land the next convention for Omaha. The association meets every three years.
