Justice Kubat Meets Negro Friend of Many Years Ago
C. H. Kubat, justice of the peace, at the close of a session of his court, made this announcement: "One block over to the right is the Grand hotel; the best hotel in town." The words were meaningless except to a venerable negro who sat in a corner of the court room. The negro was John B. Showers, 86 years of age.

Showers' face beamed with enthusiasm when he had time to allow his memory to respond to the words of the justice. "Ah surely knows that you had been in Cedar Rapids, foh dere it was moah dan thirty years ago ah said dem very words: "One block over to the right is the Grand hotel; the best hotel in town."

The justice and the negro compared notes and renewed old acquaintance at Cedar Rapids, Ia., where both lived many years ago. Mr. Kubat had not seen Showers for thirty years. Showers settled in the Iowa town fifty years ago and was a well-known character.

The negro was in the justice court as plaintiff in a suit wherein he was allowed $6 on a claim for wages. He was represented by Attorney McGuire of the legal aid department of the Welfare board.

Porter Shot Through Breast Is Held to District Court
Glenn Grove, the 21-year-old porter at the Her-Grand hotel barber shop who was shot through the right breast last Friday evening by Police Officer Joe Baughman, who says Grover was trying to hold him up at the point of a revolver, had his preliminary hearing in police court and was bound over to the district court under a $1,000 bond on the charge of assault with intent to rob.

In the police court were Clarence Grove, a brother, and Robert Grove, his father, from Evansville, Kan., where he is one of the big potato growers of the state. The father says that the boy could have had no necessity for robbing anyone, as he had repeatedly offered to send him money if he ran short, and another brother in the city would have been glad to have loaned Glenn money had he been in need. The elder Grove said he would arrange for bond this afternoon.

Greeks Say Their Club Nonpartisan in Politics
The Demethos club, a local organization of Greeks, are anxious to make it known that their body has no affiliation with the recently formed partisan Greek political club, whose announcement of organization was published several days ago. The president of the Demethos club says, "Our number is made up of the leading Greeks of the community, who, so far, have not become thoroughly acquainted with either party and will therefore vote nonpartisan. We of the club are for the best interests of the state and community and are not bound to any clique or set in the political field."

CITY BUMPS INTO LIGHT MIX AGAIN

Council Grants Company Permit to Lay Conduit After Work is Already Started.

PREPARES NEW ORDINANCE

The city commissioners find the electric light situation a hard problem to solve. The latest phase of the question refers to conduits. Among the pending features are: A suit relating to franchise rights to distribute current for light and power purposes, municipal plant and improvement of street lighting.

The Omaha Electric Light and Power company is just now laying a conduit along the curb on the south side of Farnam street, Twentieth to Twenty-fourth streets, preliminary to repaving. At an executive session of the council, the commissioners decided to grant the company a permit, although it is said the work was started before a permit was asked. It is understood this new conduit extension is for the particular use of the proposed new ornamental lighting system along Farnam street.

Reserve Space for City. Commissioner Butler stated he will on Thursday morning offer a resolution to require that space be reserved for the use of the city in all conduits hereafter laid.

On March 8, 1902, the city council passed an ordinance requiring that on and after October 1, 1905, electric current wires would be required to be placed in conduits within the following district: Eighth street; Capitol avenue to Leavenworth; west to Thirteenth, thence south to Jackson, west on Jackson to Eighteenth and north on Eighteenth to Capitol avenue. That ordinance was not modified. The light company, however, has gone beyond those limits of its own volition and recently made an extension on West Leavenworth street.

Prepares New Ordinance.

Corporation Counsel Lambert has prepared for introduction Thursday morning an ordinance which provides that the city may issue permits for conduits for distribution of electric current in any district or districts beyond the limits defined in the old ordinance. Under the proposed new ordinance the city reserves the right to revoke the permits at any time and reserves the right to use any portion of the streets for drains, pipes, sewers, conduits or subways. Provision also is made that the city shall have charge of restoration of the surface of streets into which conduits may be laid. One clause stipulates that these permits for conduits shall in no way effect franchises or franchise rights.

Another provision is that these conduit permits may be issued only to companies already holding a lawful right to operate.

Gasoline Prices May Take Drop Here

Following the announcement of a raise in ice cream comes the compensatory news that gasoline has gone down-in Chicago and Iowa.

The price of gasoline in Chicago has been reduced 1 cent a gallon to dealers, the price being 17 1/2 cents.

Manager Richardson of the Standard Oil company here declared he had not yet received the news and was unable to state when the price would be reduced in Omaha.

The manager of another large local gasoline concern made this statement: "I expect gasoline will drop 1 cent a gallon in Omaha on Thursday, or during the last of the week."

Babies Grow Fat On Milk Bought by The Bee's Fund

An 11-month-old infant at Thirty-second and Burt streets increased in weight from nine and one-half pounds to sixteen pounds since the establishment of the Visiting Nurse association baby stations and the milk and ice fund of The Bee at the beginning of the summer.

The mother is Mrs. Mary Wittuski, living at 3201 Burt street.

Report of this case was made at a meeting of the association in the city hall. The weights given are exact and show the possibilities of proper care of babies in the summer time. The mother of the infant had nearly given up in despair when a nurse visited the home and drew upon The Bee's fund. The nurse also gave directions for bathing, clothing and feeding. The child is getting along splendidly and is in the best of health at this time.

The baby stations have cared for 121 infants this season. "You cannot estimate the amount of good that has been done this summer through the milk and ice fund. It cannot be estimated in dollars and cents," said a nurse at the Visiting Nurse association's headquarters. The association attended forty-one maternity cases during the month ending August 15.

STRIKE TALK CUTS DOWN THE TRAVEL

Passenger Agents Are Busy Answering Questions-But Autoists Rolls Along.

VACATIONISTS HURRY HOME

The railroad strike situation is already exerting its influence upon passenger traffic, local ticket agents aver.

While city folks like to be far, far from the maddening crowd when they know that they can scrub back to the apartment house zone in a night or so, it's a much different matter in the light of a possible tie-up of the country's transportation facilities. Reservations for tickets to vacation places are being canceled daily, railroad passenger men report. Also, many who have planned trips are almost daily visitors at the city passenger offices to inquire "if they'd be stranded some place if they made their trip at this time?"

As the ticket agents are in no wise better informed than anyone else on the strike situation, the obvious reply is that "they can't give guarantees with tickets that a railroad tie-up wouldn't leave them stranded high and dry in some out-of-the-way vacation spot."

Some Hurry Home.

The seriousness of the situation is causing vacationists in large numbers to hurry back to their home towns before the "choo choos" themselves take an enforced vacation.

The national vacation places in the west are reporting that erstwhile recreation seekers are seeking the nearest railroad stations with the idea of getting "back home" as soon as possible.

Meanwhile the motorist, with the price of a few gallons of Mr. Rockefeller's dividend-maker available, is vacationing with a care-free mind and remarking that "he should worry."

City Approves Assessment Against Property Owners

The city council, sitting as a board of equalization, voted to approve the plan of assessment covering curb and gutter on Florence boulevard, Grand avenue to north city limits, in the sum of $12,235.54. Protests of property owners were overruled. Protestants maintained the city was morally bound not to assess the cost of this improvement against the abutting property.

Northwest Crops to be Better Than Expected

"The harvest as a whole in territory served by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway is considerably larger and of better grade than was expected a short time ago," said an official today. "While the wheat crop in parts of Minnesota and the Dakotas will be light, encouraging reports are coming in from territory west of the Missouri river, especially the Gallatin valley, Musselshell valley and the Judith basin, and from Idaho and Washington."
