Fines Them Both—Judge Foster was unable to decide as to which party was the aggressor in the fight between Clem Duncan, 2302 North Twentieth, and Arthur Bly, 2907 Seward street, which resulted in Bly's scalp being half cut off and Duncan's finger nearly severed at the Millard hotel kitchen last night. To be strictly impartial he gave each a $25 fine. Loses Piece of His Nose—Nick Ludwig, 2021 California street, was the victim of a painful mishap. Ludwig's driver of an ice wagon, while delivering his product to the Stoddard & Meredith saloon, 214 South Fourteenth street. As he went to open the door at the rear of the elevator to deliver the ice, the elevator descended rapidly, taking a slice off his nose. Kugel Says That Pedestrians Ought to Use More Care In connection with several fatal automobile accidents in Omaha this week Superintendent Kugel of the police department made the following observations: "I have no defense to offer for motorists who exceed the speed limit or who are otherwise careless, but I know from observation that many pedestrians do not exercise reasonable care in crossing streets. I have just received several reports of children in certain sections of the city purposely running out in front of cars and holding out their arms to be touched by passing automobiles. Pedestrians should share the responsibility of our growing traffic problems and motorists also should have consideration for pedestrians. It is not a one-sided question." Mr. Kugel said that every time his children leave their home he or Mrs. Kugel warns them against automobiles, and he believes other parents might well follow that example. Reznicek Wants Back His Taxes He Says He Paid Twice Suit to recover $136.44 in taxes from the city of Omaha and Douglas county, the first of its kind ever filed, was brought Friday by attorneys for John Reznicek. The petition alleges that taxes on three mortgages have been collected twice. It is asserted that Reznicek holds three mortgages: $1,300 by Louis D. Hopkins, $3,000 by Gottlieb E. Deucher and $5,000 by Ida D. Kelly as security on notes. When the assessor visited Reznicek he listed these mortgages among his personal property and paid the $136.44 taxes. At the same time the owners of the property declare they paid the same tax.

MRS. CUNNINGHAM KILLED UNDER AUTO

Wife of C. G. Cunningham Struck Down as Alights From Street Car.

DRIVEN BY C. H. STOCKDALE

The second killing within twenty-four hours due to speeding automobiles on Farnam street near Twenty-sixth occurred yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Christina Cunningham, aged 50, wife of Colonel C. G. Cunningham, prominent Omaha business man, met death under the wheels of an auto driven by C. H. Stockdale of the Lininger Implement company. Mrs. Cunningham was killed while waiting for her husband, who had telephoned her a few moments before that he was coming on the next Farnam street car. She was a bride of three months, a peculiar coincidence being that at 3 o'clock on May 17, she married Colonel Cunningham, and three months later, to the very hour, death parted them. Stockdale was demonstrating a car to a prospective purchaser. He asserts he was moving slowly and that she saw him and heard his horn. When he was near the place where she stood, however, she stepped into the street and in front of the machine, which could not be stopped in time to save her, said Stockdale. She was knocked down, her skull crushed and both legs broken. The occupants of the car picked her up and rushed her to the Leonardo da Vinci hospital, where death relieved her sufferings a few hours later. Stockdale was arrested, but was later released on a $5,000 bond upon the order of County Attorney Magney. Mrs. Cunningham was formerly Mrs. Christina Gunn, sister of John S. Paul, prominent banker of Florence, who is now in Washington. When Mr. Cunningham's son was injured in a foot ball game several years ago and was crippled for three years, Mrs. Gunn nursed him faithfully until the end and acted as housekeeper at the Cunningham home at 419 Sweetwood avenue. Last May they were married. Colonel Cunningham is 70 years old and is prominent in Economic league activities. He is western manager for a St. Louis paper and printing firm, and is also interested in real estate. The lady was taken to the Brailey & Dorrance parlors and the funeral will be held probably Sunday. "We were going out together to look at a piece of property for a new home," Mr. Cunningham told a Bee reporter. "I had just telephoned to her that I was on my way home, and she said she would meet me at the street car. I missed her and thought she had changed her mind and went out alone, so I went out there and then returned and was told that she had been killed."

Hot Weather Here On Another Visit Our old friend, hot weather, is with us again. Thursday the well-known thermometer was driven up to 96 before the shades of night began to fall and bring some relief. Out in the state the maximums ranged from 92 to 99 degrees, the latter figure prevailing at Superior. The only place in Nebraska with any rain to speak of was Culbertson, with .62 of an inch. The weather officials in Chicago, according to dispatches from there yesterday, predict that maximum temperatures in most sections between the Rocky and the Allegheny mountains would range from 95 to 100 degrees today. The temperature in Chicago at 9:30 a. m. was 90 degrees and going up rapidly. Air disturbances in the northwest, low barometric pressure and south winds are to blame for the new hot wave. The month of August in Omaha is 48 degrees hotter than the average August. This figure is for the seventeen days past, which makes each daily average temperature 3 degrees hotter than the average. Lieut. McGuire to Stop in Omaha for Few Days

Mr. and Mrs. P. S. McGuire, 1314 South Thirtieth avenue, are expecting their son, Lieutenant H. D. McGuire, U. S. N., to stop off in Omaha for a visit of a few days the latter part of next week. Lieutenant McGuire is on his way to the Mare island navy yards, where he is to take charge of the compass department. Lieutenant McGuire was recently one of the officers on the submarine K. 6. He was appointed to Annapolis by Senator J. H. Millard in 1904 and graduated in 1908. Since that time he has been service in South America, China, Japan, the Philippines and Mexico.

Lydar Gets His Papers and Will Be Able to Enlist

Lydar Einar Gustave Golbranson Christofferson, the little chap with the big name who waited five days last week in the navy recruiting office to receive the papers that would prove him an American citizen, will be able to enlist, after all. A letter came from the cashier of the State bank of Olmstead, N. D., proving that his father took out his naturalization papers and therefore Lydar is a citizen. Lydar was sent home Thursday, but will come on again and be sworn in.
