While the Calumet restaurant was Grain Inspector Bankrupt-George McAllister, a grain inspector living at 2105 Binney street, filed a petition in bankruptcy. Liabilities, $2,600; assets, rowded about Monday and dozens of persons looked on, a masked robber said to be a former employe of the Granted Absence Leave-Miss Mary Austin, teacher at Beals school, has been granted a year's leave, that she may attend the University of Cincin-nati. place, held up the night cashier. Clarence Bussy, and escaped with the week's payroll of the night force, mounting to $125.

Restaurant employes say they recognized him as a 19-year-old youth named Lisle Messa, who worked as bus-boy for several months.

Before he entered the restaurant the robber loitered about on the out-side for nearly half an hour, and was the object of much comment, as his head was almost entirely covered with a white gauze bandage, indi-cating that he had been in an acci-dent of some kind.

Not Recognized at First.

Loses Three Finger Tips Samuel Ritzo, employed at the Skinner Manu-facturing company's plant, caught his right hand in the machinery and suf-fered the loss of three finger tips. Ho was removed to St. Joseph's hospital for treatment. Several taxi drivers and others who were standing outside spoke to him for a few minutes. He said he had for treatment. Hanighen in New Field—When the city clerk read a lot of paving bids during a meeting of the city council, the commissioners were surprised to hear the name of J. J. pulling an automatic gun. "Hand me the pay envelope or I'll plug you," he exclaimed to Bussy. Bussy, thinking he was joking, told him to "beat it." "You'd better fork over or I'll shoot," the robber replied. Bussy "forked." The man hastily jammed the-money into his pockets and ran, tearing the bandage from his head.

Dodges Through Building.

Policeman O. P. Peterson was passing and gave clase, but the robber fled through a stairway over the Welch restaurant and out through the alley and into the Continental hotel at 110 South Fourteenth street. From missioner He Must Enforce there he made his escape. Messa lived at the Continental hotel for the last three months. Other lodgers said that ince months, order lodgers said that just after the rob-bery he dashed into the place, ran to his room and then ran out again. Search of his room revealed a big pile of cheap yellow-back novels.

 General Passenger Agent Basinger of the Union Pacific has returned from the west, where he went to line up a tourist route to the Grand Canyon of the Colorado for next year. On the trip from Salt Lake City he was accompanied by Passenger Trafic Manager Fort, Governor Spry of Utah, and a number of prominent citizens of Salt Lake.
 According to Mr. Basinger, the proposed route is practical and will become one of the Union Pacific feastures for western tourists next seas son. To reach the canyon by way of Salt Lake, tourists will be carried on the san Pedro road to Lund, 245 miles south of Salt Lake. From there to the canyon they will go by automobile, over a state road, a distance of 150 miles. This road, for some thirty miles, follows along the rim othe canyon, terminating at a point opposite the trail up from Williams, on the Santa Fe.
 Mr. Fort said that the automobile drive is delightful, as well as scenic running through deep gorges and over high mountains. The trip from Lund can easily be made in a day.
