Rourkelets Hammer Jack Halla: Lou North Holds the Links Safe; Omaha Wins First of the Series

Rourkes Hammer Daylights Out of Halla, Cream of Duckling Hurling Corps.

THOMPSON SWATS HOMER

Displaying a bang-up article of base ball that startled the fans who have been watching them the last ten days the de luxe Rourklets walloped the as lights out of the lowly Links from medit yesterday, 8 to 2

The Links were completely outassed. They never had a chance to taler, oney the combat. Lon North held Morse. cent in the hollow of his hand in very inning except the eighth, when Halla, p the Ducklings garnered their only Totals two runs, and the Rounke artiflety. immercifully hammered the offerings to the ancient Jack Halla, the class

Scare in the First.

Scare in the First.

The throbbing public was tilled with a little apprehension in the opening stairs. After Earl Scarlinarde a nitty catch of Carlish's pickers left, Tony Smith smeared a double rate from Smith smeared a double rate from Smith smeared and that general was dark some but North became wild and walked Laber, and that gene seminal conditions and the first round with a double to be accounted farkness. around A mental ship by Lattimore gave the Kourkes their first marker in the Courles share with a drive to left, and Forsythe binned. Morse nuissed it up and both Ernic and Cy were safe, after which Kildulf laid flown a neat sacrifice. Burghit a roller to Lattimore and Latty decided to make the play for first. This enabled Krueger down at the rubber if he had tried, and his failure to do so brought down the wrath of his mates upon his head!

Shag Takes Hand.

North held the Links tight in the third and fourth and Halla prevented any scoring by the Rourkes, but in the fifth Shag Thompson took a hand in the doings and started Mr. Halla on the road to ruin. With two down in this frame, Marty Krug beat out an infield hit. Thompson, after waiting for the count, cracked the pill into right field. The drive was low and hard and carried a lot of english. The ball hit several feet inside the foul line, but the drive was so hard and the english so great that the pill bounced over the fence into the bleachers and Shag gailoped home for a home rui. Krug raced in from first at a ten-second gatt. Marty didn't know the ball bounded into the bleachers and he can him seli purple to the face in his effort to score.

That drive proved the undoing of the veteral Mr. Halla, i.r. in the subsequent two frames the local slammed his curve, all over the park.
