Rourkes Hike for Lincoln, Where Three-Game Series Will Start Today.

O'TOOLE BOOKED TO HURL

Because Mr. Pluvius splashed an so of moisture on Mr. Rourke's base ball diamond, the de uxe Rourkelets were denied the pleas ure of putting the skids under thh Isbellites yesterday afternoon.

The ball lot looked like the junc-on point of sixteen rivers at 2 'clock, so Pa Rourke called the fray ff. He has hopes that the park will e dry in time for the Labor day off. He has hopes that the park will be dry in time for the Labor day games.

As a result of the rain but two fames were played with Des Moines. Each team copped a fray. The third game—carded for yesterday—is lost forever, as Des Moines does not return here again this year.

Today Rourke takes his warriors into the camp of the lowly Links, or the Ugly Ducklings, either way you wish to have it. Three combats will be staged with the Holmes crew.

Marty O'Toole, who so successfully applied the fixings to the Links last Sunday, will probably be sent against them today. Otto Merz is due to come up Saturday and North probably will toil on the Sabbath.

Sunday night the 6 o'clock train out of the capital so as to arrive in Omaha Sunday. Pa is taking no chances on the railroad strike. He doesn't want to be stranded in a fown like Lincoln even if it's only for a few minutes, during which time he could dig up a few filvers.

The series with Sloux City Labor day and Tuesday is the last of the year in Omaha.

Omaha Business Men Ask Congress and Wilson to Use Car

Omaha for Coming Bout Base Ball Teams Will Travel by Automobile

Chicago, Aug. 31.—Plans for transporting National League base ball teams from city to city by automobile, trolley and boat in case of a railway strike have been made by league officials. Boat lines connect Buffalo, Cleveland and Detroit. These and the net work of trolley lines and automobile roads in states the teams traverse should solve the transportation problem, the officials say.

The same conditions apply to the American league. President Chivington of the American association expected little difficulty in transporting teams through the eastern half of the circuit, but was puzzled over the question of bringing teams from the western half to Chicago.

tell where he had hidden Daniels. He escaped from his home at the jail as the mob battered down the doors, but was captured at the Elk's home. A rope was torn from a street car trolley and was placed around Ely's neck. He was told he would be hanged if he did not tell where his prisoner was and the mob tore his clothing from his body and kicked and beat him. Ely finally surrendered to escape death and the mob entered automobiles and started with the sheriff as a prisoner for Ottawa. When the motor mob reached Otsawa, they found their prisoner gone and during the confusion Sheriff Ely escaped into a hotel and evaded a second capture.

they had, seemed like the very irony of fate. The best employment agencies we have had in a half century have been republican protective tariff measures, such as bore the name of William McKinley and others.

"With the loss of work and wages under the Wilson administration the public revenue diminished, the Underwood law proved not only disastrous to labor, but failed as a revenue producer. The melancholy experience of the years following the repeal of the McKinley law were being repeated under the Underwood enactment; the experiences of the years beginning with 1893 were being repeated in 1913. Hope was fast dying out when all Christiandom was shocked by the European war. Demands from the belligerent nations were made upon us for urgent military requirements; our idle men were recalled to the fields of industry, our foreign commerce rose to colossal figures and the golden currents sought our shores; prosperity returned to us in many merce rose to colossal figures and the golden currents sought our shores; prosperity returned to us in many quarters—not because of democracy, but in spite of it. It is not the prosperity of peace; it is not prosperity thoroughly diffused throughout the country; it is the prosperity of war, based upon the misfortunes of others; it is a prosperity which is known to be but temporary; there is no thought of permanence in it; all is spectacular, artificial, ephemeral.

After the War.

After the War.

"There is no observer who does not know that when the war ceases and the contest is transferred from the trenches to the factories, an unprecedented war of markets will be on. Our standard of wages and living will be matched against the lower wage and living standards of other countries more sharply than ever in our past history.

world's esteem, and insuring the prevalence of honorable peace with out international neighbors.

"Our opponents pride themselves upon the assumed fact that their candidate for the presidency has kept the country out of war. Their assertion is too broad; it comprehends more than the truth. We have not been kept out of war, for there has been real war in Mexico, due to our own aggression. It does not redound to our credit. That it was not greater is due to the fact that Mexico is not greater. There has been no desire upon the part of any power beyond the seas, either in Europe or in the Orient, to go to war with us.

"It is not a very difficult task for any president to keep out of war if nobody wants to fight us, and when our people thoroughly believe that an enlightened, firm diplomatic policy will meet successfully all of our international necessities.

Dealing with Mexico.

"We regard the dealings of the president with Mexico as vacillating. He has been given a free hand and had no one to blame for what he had done or failed to do himself. I have tried, so far as my influence would go, to uphold ins hands, regardless of whether we agreed among ourselves as to the soundness of his policy. In foreign affairs we have always been loyal to our constitutional leader. Our patience has been put to the test in Mexico. We have sharply disagreed with the president, but have stood by him nevertheless. We have seen things go from bad to worse; we have seen the butchery of our countrymen upon both sides of the border; we have seen millions of dollars worth of property destroyed, but between the president and Mexico, but between the president and Mexico, but between the president and the electors of the United States. Our patience is exhausted and we believe our national interest requires a new deal.
