Nebraska Hotel Men Will Gather in Omaha Thursday

A crowd of good fellows and up-to-the-minute business men are going to get together in Omaha Thursday and Friday. Those are the dates assigned for the meeting of the Nebraska Hotel association, and more than 200 men are expected to attend the convention and help to solve the problem of becoming better hosts to a wealthier and more populous Nebraska.

Omaha's hotel men, those genial landlords whom we have always with us, are going to chaperone the party. Their idea of superintending a convention is set forth in a proclamation reading:

"The town is yours on September 21 and 22. You will not be permitted to pay for a thing if the Omaha hotel men see you first." The program of entertainment includes "round table" talks, auto rides, theater parties, banquets, dinners and smokers. Pleasures, however, must mingle with simon-pure business during the two days. Present problems, like hotel rates, hotel help and the relation of food prices to the business, will be treated in papers to be read by members.

R. D. McFadden, Wellington Inn, is president of the state association and I. A. Medlar of Omaha is its secretary-treasurer. P. E. Philbin is chairman of the arbitration committee.

Hope to Improve Young Boy's Morals By an Operation

The surgeon's scalpel will be brought into play at the request of juvenile authorities to improve the morals and brighten the future of a boy, when Glen Gibson, a sturdy youth of 17, will go on the operating table for the removal of adenoids and tonsils. Gibson was sentenced to serve ninety days in the county jail when he appeared in police court on a vagrancy charge growing out of his association with undesirable companions. After being confined in the county bastille his case was investigated by Probation Officer Miller and Juvenile Judge Leslie. Conference with a doctor resulted in the decision to give the youth a fresh start by removal of obstructions that have deterred his intellectual progress since he was a tot. Gibson, large for his age, has agreed to the operation rather than serving the time in jail. After his recovery he will be placed in the custody and care of a friendly farmer.

The couple were married April 1, the bride being 17 and the groom 29. A posthumous child is mentioned in the settlement.

How You Can Remove Every Trace of Hair

(Toilet Talks) A stiff paste made with some powdered delatone and water and spread on a hairy surface about 2 minutes will, when removed, take every trace of hair with it. The skin should then be washed to free it from the remaining delatone. No harm can result from this treatment, but be sure it is delatone you get and you will not be disappointed.—Advertisement.

DAYS OF CHIVALRY RIGHT IN NEBRASKA

Women Are Honored in Nearly Every County in the Great Cornhusker State.

NAMES PUT IN BIG BOOK

By A. R. GROH. The days of chivalry, we are told, are dead. They are. We know it and we are glad of it. Sir Roderick Nom d'Un Chien Castle-Chateau no longer rides up and down the country in his nobby spring suit of sheet iron, seeking out the person who dares to deny that his lady Amosa de Beaulieu is the most beautiful woman in all the world, and altogether beautiful. Sir Roderick Nom d'Un Chien Castle-Chateau sometimes married his lady and she lived unhappily ever afterward until such time as Sir Roderick very chivalrously had her strangled or suffocated or beheaded. That kind of chivalry is dead and we are glad that the late Don Quixote de la Mancha was unable to revive it. 'Tis Different Now. There is another kind of chivalry that is alive today. Men don't ride about in armor breathing "death and a blood." They practice their chivalry differently. They buy their wives and daughters automobiles and talking machines and silks and satins and chocolates. They build them fine homes and take them to California and Europe, and everything. That's better than sitting in a tower while some boob in armor went about making a fool of himself your name, isn't it, madam? Nebraska bears the unmistakable mark of being A No. 1, XXXXX and a yard wide in this fine modern chivalry. The Proof. "The proof" you demand. "The proof," Well, if you need any proof, we have it right here in the postal guide. Forty-nine towns and cities in Nebraska bear the names of the dear creatures—forty-nine—count 'em. When Nebraska's chivalrous sons named their towns, they seem to have sought to honor their wives, daughters, sweethearts. "An accident," you skepticize, "a mere accident." All right, then. How many Nebraska towns are named after men, do you think? A beggarly eight—Abie, Arthur, Donald, Henry, Herman, Irwin, Max and Orlando. But look at the girls! Dante had his Beatrice. So has Nebraska, down in Gage county. Longfellow sang of Hiawatha. Nebraska has a Hiawatha, in Dundy county. England had her Elizabeth and Alexandria. So has Nebraska in Cherry and Traver counties. In Sand Hills, Too. Cherry county has also an Ethel and a Fern. Custer county delights in the presence of Merna, Lillian and Doris. And Holt county, the most chivalrous of all, has its Amelia, Martha, Josie and Inez. Beautiful Venus is in Knox county and modest Violet in Pawnee. Blushing Aurora abides in Hamilton county and fair Blanche in Chase. While, here in Douglas county we have our Florence. No wonder the one-time great American desert now "blossoms like the rose!" Half a hundred thriving towns and cities immortalized sweetly by the names of fair women! Rose and Rosalie. Velma, Stella and Virginia are in Garden, Richardson and Gage counties. Bertha, Marian and Pauline are in Keith, Redwillow and Adams counties. Rose and Rosalie are found in Rock and Thurston counties. And here is the roster of the other girl-named towns, with the counties in which they are situated: Alda, Hall; Alma, Harlan; Almeria, Loup; Edith, Blaine; Elsie, Perkins; Elva, Grant; Elyria, Valley; Erma, Garfield; Esther, Dawes; Fora, Arthur; Frances, Wheeler; Gracie, Loup; Helvey, Jefferson; Malinda, Sioux; Junia, Adams; Lulu, Sheridan; Loma, Butler; Lena, Arthur; Mary, Brown; Nora, Nocolis; Orella, Sioux; Vesta, Johnson; Wauneta, Chase. Isn't that a dainty dish to set before the king? Orators Can't Have Monopoly of Street. Elmer E. Thomas, representing the anti-saloon people, and G. C. Porter, socialist candidate for congress, asked the city council to set aside Douglas street between Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets from 8 to 10 p. m. as a quiet zone wherein a public forum may be held without disturbance from automobiles and other mundane mechanism. The city dads will not set aside this street as a zone, but Superintendent Kugel of the police department will endeavor to divert traffic as a "safety first" proposition, unless he should be enjoined by some of the business interests of that block. Major Warner, Formerly Of This City, is Dead. Major George Warner, aged 70, a past commander of Mt. Calvary Commandery No. 1 of the Knights Templar and a prominent citizen of Omaha twelve years ago, is dead at New York. Word of his death reached here Monday night. Major Warner left Omaha to be assistant adjutant at Battle Mountain sanitarium, a soldiers' home, at Hot Springs, S. D. His health failed him two months ago and he went directly to New York for special treatment. His convalescence was retarded one week ago when he fell on a sidewalk and broke his hip bone. The funeral will be held Thursday.

Dandruff Soon Ruins The Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't. It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it. You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—Advertisement.

BOTH PARENTS CLAIM BODY AS THEIR SON

Was the Boy Killed by a Train Floyd Adair or Spencer Morgan?

X-RAY PHOTO MAY DECIDE

Is the boy killed at Dawson, Kan., late Sunday night Floyd Adair, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Adair of South Omaha, or is he the son of B. F. Morgan of Kansas City? Parents of both lads claim the body as their missing offspring. Police, doctors and coroners are trying by every method to effect a positive identification. The Adair family of South Omaha was preparing to bury the body yesterday when Mr. Morgan viewed the corpse and pronounced it his dead son, Spencer, who left home Friday night. The grandmother of the Adair boy thereupon expressed willingness to take a most solemn oath that the boy was her beloved grandson. Buckshot in Teeth. Mr. Spencer offered as proof the statement that Undertaker F. F. Kinsey of Dawson, who handled the body shortly after the fatality, found buckshot in the dead lad's teeth. The Kansas City parent said the finding of the buckshot was proof positive that the body was that of Spencer, his son. So positive are both parents that the corpse is their son that authorities sought some other means of identification than those already offered. "My son once had his right arm broken," said Mr. Morgan. "My son once had his left arm broken," said Mr. Adair. Yesterday an X-ray was used on the body to find traces of the fracture. Dr. Tyler will make the report on the finding. Indigestion—Bad Breath—Sour Stomach. If you suffer any of these take a dose of Dr. King's New Life Pills tonight. Only 25c. Tell your mother Resinol will heal your skin

"If she will wash those sore, itchy places twice a day with Resinol soap and hot water, and then put on a little Resinol Ointment, I am sure the trouble will soon disappear." That is good advice. Patches of eruption may not be anything serious at first, but they cause so much discomfort and so often develop into eczema, or other severe ailment, that it pays to use the Resinol treatment right away. Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap have been prescribed by physicians for many years, and contain nothing which could possibly injure the tenderest skin. Sold by all druggists. For free sample of each, write to Dept. 4-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.
