

COMPANY FORMED FOR RIVER TRAFFIC

Omaha Business Men Incorporate to Boost Traffic on the Missouri River.

TO BUILD AND RUN BARGES

To promote navigation of the Missouri river and to enable merchants in river towns to compete with rival dealers, the Missouri River Navigation company, formed by fourteen prominent Omaha business men, has filed articles of incorporation. The company is capitalized at $5,000 with shares at $1 each. The incorporators are Herbert M. Rogers, James S. White, John W. Gamble, H. M. Christie, A. L. Williams, E. S. Swobe, F. J. Hughes, Irving F. Baxter, Watson Townsend, H. I. Adams, J. W. Metcalf, William L. Holtzman, Ezra Millard and Victor White.

According to the incorporation papers filed with County Clerk Dewey the company is authorized to operate wharves, docks and warehouse, to purchase real estate, navigate the river with freight boats and barges, and to increase competition between business men of the river towns.

Better transportation facilities, increased valuation of property through placing it available for water front purposes, and the development of business between towns on the Missouri, are set forth as purposes for which the company has been organized.

Articles of incorporation of the Runyan Cushion Wheel company have been filed with County Clerk Dewey, the company being capitalized for $100,000. The incorporators are H. O. Wulff, D. R. Sowand, E. J. Conrad and Fred G. Burlingame.

The Bohemian Music company has been organized with a capital stock of $25,000. The incorporators are Frank W. Hodek, Charles M. Nepodal and Charles Suppe.

Wortham Comes to Prepare for Shows On King's Highway

C. A. Wortham, owner of the Wortham shows, which will furnish the amusement attractions for the king's highway at the Ak-Sar-Ben festivities next week, has arrived in Omaha to make final arrangements for the coming of his big show train, which will arrive at Cass street crossing of the Northwestern Sunday evening and be immediately unloaded. All the shows will be ready for operation Tuesday afternoon, and will exhibit every afternoon and evening until the end of the reign of King Ak.

One of the feature attractions on the Highway this year will be a realistic portrayal of the battle of Verdun. The European war furnishes a basis for this mechanical show and it has served as one of the midway sensations at the various fairs in the middle west where the company has exhibited.

The war motive is further carried out among the shows with "Over and under the sea," where a sea fight between a submarine, merchantman and U. S. S. Texas is presented.

The fun section of the highway will feature the "Monkey Speedway," where diminutive Simians drive tiny automobiles around a race track.

Omahan Pinched For Impersonating Secret Service Man

C. M. Bennett, 1427 North Twenty-second street, is in the custody of government authorities on a charge of impersonating a United States secret service officer.

Following Bennett's arrest by Hugh Mills, secret service agent in Omaha, on complaint of J. W. Williams of Davenport, Ia., an elderly man, the latter told his story to the government authorities.

The Omaha man is charged with having attempted to "settle" with Williams for $5 after the latter had shown him an alleged obscene picture and had been convinced that Bennett was a secret service operative.

Bennett will be given a hearing before United States Commissioner McLaughlin Monday morning.

All Saints' Church to Organize Boy Scout Band

All Saints' church, Twenty-sixth and Dewey avenue, is the first church to actively co-operate with the Rotary club in furthering the Boy Scout movement in Omaha. Rev. T. J. Mackay, the pastor, announces that a company of Boy Scouts will be organized Monday evening at 7 o'clock in the Wattles Memorial Parish house.

Competent advisers will be on hand, and the pastor invites boys more than 12 years old to be present. The division organized among the junior parishioners of All Saints' parish will later have the benefit of supervision by a national scout master, whom the Rotary club will bring from New York.

Hirst Methodist Church Has Change of Pastors

Rev. Joseph Stopford, who has been at Creighton, Neb., will be the new pastor of the Hirst Memorial Methodist church of Omaha, instead of Rev. George B. Trites.

A change in the assignment of the ministers has just been made by Bishop Stutz of this district. Mr. Stopford was originally assigned to Wahoo, but in the change of plans he comes to Omaha, while Mr. Trites goes to Broken Bow. Rev. Thomas Bithel, who has been pastor of the Hirst church, will go to Wahoo. Mr. Stopford will preach from his new pulpit Sunday.

Unique Shoe Store Has Opened on Douglas Street

The Star Shoe company has opened one of Omaha's most unique shoe stores at 1415 Douglas street. This new concern is owned by the Leon Bros., who have been in the hat business in Omaha for the last several years. Popular-priced shoes for men will be sold exclusively by this store.

Prisoner Waits Ninety Days for Thirty Days More

Thirty days in the county jail was the punishment meted out to William Meyers when the prisoner pleaded guilty to stealing $50 worth of lead pipe from San Pavlica July 26. Meyers has already served sixty days while awaiting trial.

Man Gets $1,990.08 By Jury's Award

Jacob Kocar was awarded a verdict for $1,990.08 by a jury in Judge Reelick's court, following a fiery trial marked by bitterness on the part of attorneys and litigants. Kocar sued James Whelan for $25,000, alleging that in a dispute over the ownership of property in the bottoms, Whelan struck him with a board, broke three ribs and bruised him to such an extent that he was in a hospital for twenty-five days. Property at Seventh and Seward is involved. The alleged attack occurred September 2, 1915.

Traffic Violators Are Handed Fines by Judge

H. Holmes and A. Young were each fined $5 and costs by the police magistrate for violations of the traffic regulations. William Bauman, S. G. Sadders and James Darrell were fined $2.50 and costs each, while Charles McNeese was discharged.
