

GERMANS NO LONGER HATE THE FRENCH

Noted Inventor, Fresh From Flanders' Firing Line, Predicts End of Dynasties.

WIRED CHRISTMAS PARADE

"I was there, thank God, not to kill any body but to help them," asserted W. V. Robeson of the Royal Army Medical corps of France and England, who was in Omaha yesterday.

Mr. Robeson is an inventor of note, associated with Thomas Edison for the last five years, and was en route home from the Edison new process mill at Silver Plume, Colo.

Inventor of Note. Mr. Robeson is the inventor of a preservative that keeps cotton from mill-dewing in any climate.

"I believe that this indescribably horrible war is marking the end of the dynasties," he said. "A feeling of universal brotherhood is springing up everywhere.

"The most impressive sight I saw was in London last Christmas. Soldiers of the allies, Englishmen, French, Serbs, New Zealanders, Canadians, and so on marched in colossal review while the bells rang out in mocking contrast their Christmas message of 'Peace on earth, good will to men.'"

"Spurned by America. The Lewis gun is the great weapon of the European war, a gun invented by an American, but refused by this government.

"This is a war of science. Why do you hear no more of gas attacks? Because the allies stopped this terrible thing by loading their machine guns with chemical pellets which, when shot into the approaching gas cloud, dispelled it."

"Why are the Zeppelin raids becoming less terrible? Because, by means of rays of light, the gun fire on them is so directed that they are brought down too often for their safety.

Electrolysis Serious To the Water Pipes. Electrolysis is becoming a serious menace to the mains of the metropolitan water system.

The current which returns through the rails after having served its purpose in the mechanism of cars, occasionally travels to a water main and depreciates the metal to the extent of causing a break.

Member Wead of the Water board states he expects a government expert will come to Omaha to give the municipal water department the benefit of investigations made by the federal experts.

Carmen on Roads In Northwest Will Ask Higher Wages

St. Paul, Sept. 27.—Leaders of the Brotherhood of Railroad Carmen in the northwest met in St. Paul today to discuss a plan to demand higher wages from the Great Northern, the Northern Pacific, the Canadian Pacific and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroads and recognition of the union by the Great Northern.

The carmen, it is said, were disgruntled over the passage of the Adamson law, providing an eight-hour day for trainmen, as they contend that the law did not include them.

Some of the leaders of the carmen predict that a strike will ensue if the demands to be formulated at the meeting should not be granted. The railroads have not yet been directly addressed by the carmen.

MYSTERIOUS TRIPLE TRAGEDY IN HOTEL

New York Man and Supposed Wife Shot by Woman, Who Kills Self.

OTHER WOMAN MAY DIE

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 27.—The woman who shot and killed J. C. Graver of New York seriously wounded his female companion and then committed suicide in a prominent hotel here early today has been identified as Mrs. Harry Belzer of 315 Euclid avenue, New York, by a sister of the dead man.

Mrs. Apman told the police Mrs. Belzer's maiden name was Margaret McAndrews and that the woman had not been living with her husband recently. Graver, she also told the police, was a widower and had been very friendly with Mrs. Belzer.

From cards found in Mrs. Belzer's handbag the police at first believed she was Mrs. J. C. Ledur, or Leduc. The wounded woman in the hospital, at first supposed to be Graver's wife, has not made any statement.

Mrs. Apman will go to the hospital later in the day to see if she can identify her.

Wounded Woman Silent. The wounded woman, in the hospital here, refuses to say anything regarding the shooting, nor will she confirm statements that she is the wife of Graver.

The name of the woman who did the shooting, it was said by the police, may be Mrs. Joseph Clarence Leduc and not Ledur.

The police learned from a woman guest at the hotel that Mrs. Ledur waited a long while in the hotel corridor last night for Graver and his supposed wife to return.

Graver Prominent at Home. New York, Sept. 27.—J. C. Graver was well known here in police and humanitarian circles. For ten years he was chief probation officer of the court of special sessions.
