Must Not Abuse Family—Otto Lindie, 1229 North Twentieth street, arrested on a charge of abusing his family, was arraigned in police court, and was allowed to depart with a thirty-day suspended sentence.

Buys More Bonds—The Water board authorized the investment of $37,000 more of surplus funds in bonds, making the present total investment of water district funds in bonds and warrants $1,086,000.

Rush Order for Police—Fifteen minutes after the police had received a wire asking them to locate Joe B. Byrman of Muskogee, Wis., and tell him to come home because his mother is seriously ill, he was enroute to purchase a ticket. He was found at work in Welch's cafe at Fourteenth and Farnam streets.

Garden Club Reorganizes—The Garden club of the Central High school has reorganized for this year and will hold a series of experiments, visits, to nearby farms, and hikes. Ruth Swenson was elected president of the society; Ruby Swenson, vice president; Alice Dean, secretary, and Delia Euxon, treasurer.

Mrs. Young Seeks Divorce—Charles Roy Young, clerk in the city engineer's office, has been made the defendant in a suit for divorce filed by his wife, Edith, charging infidelity and cruelty. Mrs. Young asks the custody of the two children, the household goods and sufficient alimony to care for the youngsters.

Omaha Men at Wyoming Fair—The Wyoming state fair is on this week at Douglas, Wyo., and according to reports coming to the Northwestern and Burlington offices the attendance is the largest in its history. A number of the South Omaha live stock men and a number of the Omaha railroad men are at the Wyoming fair.

Extra Help at Station—In anticipation of large crowds coming in on the trains during the balance of this and all of next week, extra porters and red cap men have been put on duty at both the Union and Burlington stations. Men whose duties are to direct strangers to points of interest up town have been hired and are on duty at both places.

Takes Case From Jury—Olaf O. Olsen lost his suit against the street railway company when District Judge Estelle issued instructions to the jury directing that a verdict be returned for the defendant. Olsen sued for $10,150 damages because he alleged he walked behind an eastbound car at Twenty-first and Cumings streets and in front of a westbound car. He maintained negligence caused his injuries. "Under the law he is not entitled to recover damages," read the instructions.

Special Trains Two Nights Next Week

In anticipation of an immense crowd in Omaha on the day of the visit of President Wilson next Thursday, the Omaha road will run a special train out from the Webster street depot at about 11 o'clock at night, going as far as Sioux City and making stops at all intermediate stations.

While the schedule has not been prepared, on its main line to a point as far east as Carroll, Ia., the Northwestern will probably run a special Thursday night. This train will probably leave at about 11 o'clock.

The Union Pacific, Burlington and Missouri Pacific are figuring on running specials out Thursday night, but have not yet arranged the schedules. If the trains are run they will likely go out on the same schedules as those of next Wednesday night, following the passing of the electrical parade.

If You Have Moved You Must See Mr. Moorhead

Mr. Voter, have you moved within the last ten days?

Have you moved since you registered for the November election?

If you have changed your place of residence, Election Commissioner Moorhead requests that you call on him at the court house.

"Hundreds of votes will be challenged at election time unless the taxpayers and voters register from their new homes. In case they are qualified voters and have not lived in the precinct the required length of time, affidavits will be required before the vote is cast," said Mr. Moorhead. "It is but self-protection to the voter that he register again if he moves from one precinct to another. Strokes of the pen at this time save trouble and expense at the election."

Newlyweds Will Make Their Future Home in Borneo

Borneo holds attractions for a pair of newlyweds who appeared at the court house to secure the little blue marriage license that starts them on their way to marital bliss. Gerald Dalton, an attaché of the British government, recently a resident of Sioux Falls, S. D., will take his bride, nee Margaret B. Dalton, to the isle soon after their marriage. They will make their home at Sarawak, Borneo. Bride and groom are second cousins and are permitted to marry under the Nebraska law. The ceremony will be performed by Dean Tancock of Trinity cathedral. Mrs. Johnson, superintendent of Brownell Hall, accompanied them in their quest for the license.

Concord Club Plans Big Rally for Fall Meeting

Plans for a big rally to be held the evening of October 12 were made at the weekly meeting and luncheon of the Omaha Concord club at the Hotel Monticello at noon. The program committee announced that it would spring several surprises in the entertainment at the first night meeting this fall.

On account of it being Ak-Sar-Ben week there will be no noonday meeting next Thursday.

Hollis M. Johnson, president of the Concordians, acted as chairman of this week's meeting.

Liver Trouble.

"I am bothered with liver trouble about twice a year," writes Joe Dingman, Webster City, Ia. "I have pains in my side and back and an awful soreness in my stomach. I heard of Chamberlain's Tablets and tried them. By the time I had used half a bottle of them I was feeling fine and had no signs of pain." Obtainable everywhere.—Advertisement.

INDIAN TROOPER TEACHING A CAMEL HOW TO JUMP—Hundreds of these sturdy animals have supplanted horses as mounts for the British and Indian troops in the Egyptian campaign. They are trained along the same lines as are cavalry mounts, the work in this respect being left entirely to the Indian troopers, recognized as the foremost riders of the world.

JEWELER-HUNTERS SHOOT WILD WORDS

Watchful Waiting Profits the Homesteader Who Dupes Greenblatt and Mudd.

LONG RIDE WHETS ANGER

An eighty-mile drive through the sand hills with loaded guns and no game is the record of B. R. Greenblatt, jeweler of Omaha, and J. T. Mudd, a jeweler of Bassett, Neb.

Strange words, seldom heard in polite society, were uttered by these two gentlemen. Greenblatt was in Bassett calling on Mr. Mudd. Mudd wanted to take him hunting, so he oiled up the car. About that time a homesteader, standing on the street corner watching to catch a ride out to his homestead, promised to show these fellows lots of game if they would drive out to the ranch.

When they had driven fifteen miles the homesteader broke the news gently that he lived twenty-three miles farther on, or a total of thirty-eight miles from Bassett.

"We're in for it and have to go through with it," said Greenblatt.

So they chugged on and on over the hills. The homesteader promised to get dinner for the party, but when they arrived he was out of coffee, out of bread and out of other necessities. He did give them a few gallons of gasoline, however, and they started back.

When dark overtook them their gasoline gave out. They pushed the car into the lane of a ranch house and asked the farmer for gasoline. He had no car, but hitched up and drove three miles to borrow gasoline of a neighbor.

The hungry hunters took charge of the kitchen while the farmer was in search of gasoline. They started a fire in the stove. They found a dish pan full of eggs, and well, the dish pan was not full when they left.

They chugged back into Bassett at 11 o'clock that night, and the nearest they came to hunting on the trip was when they saw two prairie chickens.

"They were so wild one could scarcely get near enough to see them with a field glass," said Mr. Greenblatt.

New Company to Advertise Movies

Articles of incorporation of the National Motion Picture Ticket company have been filed with the county clerk by R. P. Wessels, Dean T. Patty and Harry A. Kyler. The company will print tickets in Omaha to increase the business of theaters through advertising schemes. The concern is capitalized at $20,000.

The name of the Farmers' State Bank of Florence has been changed to the State Bank of Florence, according to amended articles of incorporation filed by Vice President T. J. Shanahan and Cashier F. A. Roach.

Thieves Slug Victim After They Rob Him

James Smith of Sioux City, stopping at the Millard hotel, was held up and robbed of $25 at Seventeenth and California by two negroes. The highwaymen, after securing his money, beat him over the head with their revolvers. He was brought to headquarters by S. Fitzpatrick, 314 South Fourteenth street.
