MRS. JOSIAH EVANS COWLES of Los Angeles, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, will be guest of honor at the opening meeting of the Omaha Woman's club, Monday, Mrs. Cowles is en route to the state federation convention which opens in Hastings Tuesday. Mrs. Cowles arrives Monday morning and will be entertained informally at breakfast by Mrs. F. H. Cole, General Federation chairman of civil service reform. Mrs. H. L. Keefe of Walthill, formerly recording secretary for the General Federation, will come in to spend the day and will be another guest of Mrs. Cole.

At noon there will be a luncheon at the Fontenelle for Mrs. Cowles when those present will be the board of directors, and past presidents of the Omaha Woman's club, as well as presidents of all the federated clubs in the city. The party will then adjourn to the Metropolitan hall for the meeting which opens at 2:30 o'clock. Greetings will be extended by Mrs. Cole; Mrs. S. S. Caldwell, president of the Tuesday Morning Musical club; Mrs. W. G. Ure for the Fine Arts society; Mrs. Harvey Newbranch, for the Association of Collegiate Alumnae; Mrs. John Yeiser, for Dundee; Mrs. O. S. Brooks, for Benson; Mrs. P. J. Farrell, for South Omaha Woman's clubs, and Mrs. R. L. Frantz for the Woman's club of the Railway Mail Service. Then comes the address of Mrs. Cowles. Mrs. Florence Basler-Palmer will sing.

A reception will follow between the hours of 4 and 6, when a bevy of young girls will assist in serving. Mrs. E. M. Syfert, president of the Omaha Woman's club, gives a small dinner at the Fontenelle for Mrs. Cowles and Tuesday morning she leaves with the local delegation for the Hastings meeting.

Department meetings will follow close upon the Omaha Woman's club opening meeting. The first meeting of the oratory department will be held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock in the club rooms at the Metropolitan building. Following the business meeting Miss Amy Woodruff, the director, will discourse on correct breathing, demonstrated with exercises. "Children of Earth," by Alice Brown, will provide the program for the literature department's program Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Metropolitan building. Mrs. C. L. Hempel will give the program, with the assistance of Mrs. Franklin Shotwell.

The home economics section will not meet on Thursday of this week because of the Ak-Sar-Ben attractions scheduled for that day. The next meeting will be held in two weeks. The new department of the Woman's club whose work is devoted to parliamentary practice will begin its class work October 17 at 2:30 p. m. in the east parlor of the Metropolitan hall. Any club members who wish to enroll in this department may do so at that time.

Art, current topics, music, philosophy and ethics, and political and social science departments will hold their next gatherings next week.

South Omaha Woman's club had planned its opening meeting, a reception at the home of Mrs. J. W. Koutsky, for Tuesday of this week, but owing to the Ak-Sar-Ben festivities, as well as the fact that the president and delegates will be in attendance at the state federation meeting, the reception has been postponed until October 17. The literature department, however, will hold its first meeting October 10 at Library hall.

Both the Omaha Story Tellers' league and Major Isaac Sadler chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, open their club season Saturday. The Story Tellers will have a luncheon at the Commercial club that day, followed by a one-minute story from each member. The stories will probably be of grand opera, since that is to be the year's topic. The Daughters will be entertained at an informal reception musicale at the home of Mrs. E. G. Eldridge Saturday afternoon. A short business meeting will be held and the yearbooks will be ready for distribution.

The Association of Collegiate Alumnae will have no departmental meetings this week, but the drama section will come together Thursday, October 12.

A feature of the coming convention of the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs at Hastings will be the get-together meeting of state chairmen at a dinner Wednesday evening at the Clarke hotel. An Omaha woman, Mrs. K. R. J. Edholm, state health chairman, will be toastmistress at the dinner, when Mrs. Cowles will be a guest of honor, and two other Omaha women, Mrs. F. H. Cole and Mrs. C. W. Hayes, whose departments are scholarships and legislation, will also respond to toasts. The gathering was arranged by Mrs. W. H. Orris, state industrial chairman, and Mrs. Edholm. The state president, Mrs. J. N. Paul, and the vice president, Mrs. George Beels, will talk. Other speakers and their subjects are:

LAST evening the country clubs closed in a blaze of glory. Large dinner and dancing parties, the biggest and best of the season, made the big summer gathering places gay and glad yestern. This has been a most successful season because of the charming weather. Golf and tennis have kept the outdoor enthusiasts busy. Luncheons and dinner-dances have been the field of the enthusiastic young folks. Visitors in great numbers have been in our midst, and the clubs have proved the coolest and most inviting places for their entertainment. The Country club was the scene of several large dinner parties last evening, among the most notable being those given by Mr. and Mrs. Barton Millard, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Redick and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hosford.

Field club members entertained royally at their closing party. Treated parties and individual dinners ranging in number of guests from twenty down and from two up made the dining and dancing halls brilliant. The four or five hundred members who have enjoyed so many pleasant occasions at the Happy Hollow club this summer turned out in force for the grand finale. Large parties of twenty-five and groups of eight and ten were the most popular numbers, and mingled with the two-somes and four-somes who thronged the club house.

Carter Lake club had one of its special parties on the closing night. The gala masked ball, with its carnival streamers and its prize-winning costumes, was a fitting climax to the successful season which that club has enjoyed. Seymour Lake club held its formal closing Friday evening, and at that time celebrated the harvest home season with a bounteous harvest home dinner. This club, and practically all the others, will still be open for members in an informal way, if any late golf, tennis or water enthusiasts wish to avail themselves of the club's facilities for these sports.

With the passing of the country club season comes the initial event of the winter social season. By far the most important and interesting event to society in general is the grand coronation ball at the Ak-Sar-Ben Den Friday evening, followed by the masked ball on Saturday evening, which the king and his regal consort will attend. The fascinating mystery of the identity of their royal majesties is keeping us all on tip-toe with excitement. The announcement of the special maids and of the ladies and maids-in-waiting of the court adds zest to the situation, for now we can guess narrowly who the favored ones will be.

Dancing will begin at about 9:30 o'clock, after the coronation ceremonies, and will continue until 3 o'clock in the morning, according to Mr. W. D. Hosford of the ball committee. The Ak-Sar-Ben governors will wear their costumes until 11 o'clock. Refreshments will be served from 10 o'clock on.

Dinners preceding, and suppers after the ball at the Omaha club and the Fontenelle will be resplendent affairs to which all our beauty and chivalry will be invited. The two brides, Miss Alice Jaquith and Miss Lucile Bacon, with their fiances and wedding parties will be at the Omaha club, the Penfield-Bacon party as the guests of Miss Anne Gifford and Miss Harriet Smith. The Vail-Jaquith party will be entertained at dinner before the ball by Mr. John Caldwell, and will be among the guests at the big party given by Miss Gertrude and Mr. Philip Metz for their guests, the Misses Harriet and Norma Mack of Buffalo, N. Y.
