

MILLER PARK BOYS WIN KITE PRIZES

Eleven-Year-Old Girl Gets
Award for Unique Peace
Design in Silk.

CITY OFFICIALS JUDGES

Miller park playground youngsters won first and second honors at the recent pushmobile tournament and yesterday afternoon at Elmwood park they won three prizes in the city kite-flying contest.

Ernest Rul, 5715 North Twenty-ninth street, 11-year-old Miller park boy, won first prize in the Class B kite-flying event. Herbert Klausch, 409 Hickory street, of Riverview park, was first in Class A. Both winners were presented silver cup trophies.

The following were awarded prizes offered for the best looking kites: Eunice Nelson, 5831 North Twenty-fourth street, silver cup; Wilmer Beekle, 1481 Emmet street, $3; Millie Peets, 2964 Crown Point avenue, $2; Edwin Boland, 4526 North Fortieth avenue, $1.

Skilful Work.
Miss Nelson's prize-winning kite was constructed of bamboo and silk and weighed four ounces. The color scheme was red, white and blue. This 11-year-old miss worked a shield of peace with silk thread and the judges declared her handiwork reflected much credit. Master Beekle made his kite of cheesecloth and the lettering was "Nebraska, 1866." Miss Peets worked out a peace design on her kite. Master Boland wrought a ship design with flags and shields.

The wind was too strong for a few of the frail kites, which found lodgment in the trees. There were kites of all shapes and designs. Members of the Recreation board, City Commissioner Hummel and Superintendent English had charge of the event.

The contests in the flights were winners of the local contests held in the various playgrounds during the last few weeks.

Plans for Omaha's Welcome to President Practically Complete

arrangement of the automobiles for the escorting party is in the hands of Mr. Watters. All the autos are to be seven-passenger cars of the most luxurious kind, which Omaha has ever offered for the purpose.

Besides the twenty cars there is to be an emergency car, just for good measure, and for any emergency that might arise.

The first car is to be occupied by the President and Mrs. Wilson, a secret service man, Mr. Watters and Mr. Webster. The extra seat in the car occupied by the president will be used by various people during the day in the several trips it will be necessary to take.

Cars to Be Numbered.
Each car will have a large legible number in white oil cloth attached to the hood, and the escort party will all know their respective cars by numbers.

The men in the escort party at the depot will wear silk hats and cut-away frock coats.

The party and escort will proceed directly to the Commercial club where the president is to be the guest of that club for luncheon. J. A. Sunderland, president of the club, will preside. The president will make a brief talk there.

For Newspaper Men.
The newspaper correspondents in the president's party are to be entertained by Manager Parrish of the Bureau of Publicity. There are in the president's party besides President and Mrs. Wilson, Secretary Tumulty, two stenographers, six newspaper correspondents and six secret service men.

From the Commercial club the party will take the autos again and proceed to Sixteenth and Cumine streets, where they take up the line of march soon to be taken by the historical parade, and follow it down Sixteenth to Douglas, east to Tenth, south to Farnam, west to reviewing stand opposite the court house on Farnam street, where they will take their places in the reviewing stand and the presidential section.

There are to be 500 seats in the presidential section of the grandstand. This section has been specially designed by an architect, with particular reference to safety and stability. The box in the center is designed and decorated for the president and his immediate party. This will accommodate some thirty people.

To Start on Time.
The historical parade is to start promptly at Sixteenth and Cumine and is to reach the reviewing stand about 2:45 o'clock as nearly as this can be estimated at this time. It is estimated it will take one and one-half hours for it to pass the reviewing stand.

Tickets for the presidential section of the grandstand for the parade, and tickets for the stage seats at the evening meeting at the Auditorium, are to go to the members of the semi-centennial committee, and the invited guests, including the members and wives of the committee and their wives, the Ak-Sar-Ben governors and their wives, the elected federal and state officials, and such governors of adjoining states, as will be here.

Governors to Be Here.
Besides Governor Morehead, the governors of the adjoining states have been invited. Governor Morehead of Nebraska and Governor Major of Missouri have accepted the invitation while Governor Canner of Kansas, Governor Clarke of Iowa, Kendrick of Wyoming, Governor Carlson of Colorado, and Governor Byrne of South Dakota have not yet been heard from.

From the reviewing stand the president will be taken back to his quarters at the Hotel Fontenelle, where he is to have the time between 6 and 6 o'clock to rest before the formal dinner.

The banquet hall has a capacity for some 250 people at the banquet. The invitations here also include the escorts and their wives, and the members of the general committee of 100 having in hand the semi-centennial celebration, and a part of the list of state and federal officials.

Toast to the President.

A toast will be drunk to President Wilson, and probably one to Nebraska. The president will respond briefly. From the dinner the whole party will repair to the Auditorium. President Woodrow Wilson of the semi-centennial committee will turn the meeting over to Governor Morehead, the presiding officer, who is to introduce President Wilson.

There will be no tickets for the general admission to the Auditorium in the evening. The only tickets will be those for admission to the stage seats. The doors are to be opened at 7:30 o'clock and the president is to speak at 8:30 o'clock.

To Introduce President.

Mr. Bryan being unable to be here to introduce Mr. Wilson at the Auditorium, it devolves upon Governor Morehead as chief executive of the state to introduce the president. Assurances have been given that the speech of the president will be absolutely of a nonpolitical nature, and will bear only on matters appropriate to the semi-centennial celebration.

From the Auditorium the party will be taken directly to their special car at the Union depot from where they leave at 10:10 o'clock for Chicago.

Gould Dietz has charge of the general construction and decoration of the presidential booth or reviewing stand for the parade, and T. C. Byrne has charge of the arrangements and decorations at the Auditorium.

ROOSEVELT PUTS WILSON IN CLASS WITH MRS. CAESAR

made no effective protest of any kind; and in his speech of acceptance he has actually apologized for these men on the ground that they represented at least the fierce passions of reconstruction which lie at the very heart of liberty. It is difficult to speak patiently of such an utterance when we remember the infancy which it covers, and the abject submission to infamy for which it seeks to apologize.

"President Wilson says that he is interested in the fortunes of pitiful women and children." On the Louisiana there were drowned 103 babies under 2 years of age; fifty of them being babies under 1 year of age. How did Mr. Wilson's interest in these pitiful women and children show itself? It showed itself by the statement just two days later about being "Too proud to fight." It showed itself in his statement a little over two weeks later to the effect that it was inexpedient then to arouse the spirit of patriotism. Let him square these acts with these words of his. Let him square these words with his professions of interest in the fortunes of pitiful women and children. Let him square his absolute failure to take any action whatever with his statements that any nation that violates our essential rights must be checked and called to account by direct challenge and resistance. Never before in our history has there been such ignoble contrast between the words and the deeds of a chief executive."

The Railroad Strike.

The colonel stigmatized the president's settlement of the threatened railroad strike as an act "due partly to fear and partly to hope of political profit." He charged that Wilson "made up his mind in advance" and did what he thought would enhance his popularity. The speaker cited as proof of his contention Mr. Wilson's own words of September 23: "I learned that the whole temper of the legislative bodies of the United States was in favor of what one side announced to be its contention. Mr. Roosevelt said the president acted on this premature judgment 'without investigation and without knowledge.'"

Words against Deeds.

The speaker characterized the history of the democratic administration as a record wherein "fine words" find an ugly background in "ignoble deeds." He urged all those who "thank God" because the country is not at war to remember that "an ounce of performance outweighs a ton of promise." He intimated that the nation at some future date would reap the results of Wilson's vacillating and "humiliating" policy.

Crank Compares Wilson Platform With Performance

Crawford, Neb., Sept. 30.—(Special Telegram.)—A small but attentive audience heard Hon. W. J. L. Crank of Denver lambast the Wilson administration here last night, while the crowd was composed mainly of enthusiastic united republicans, there was also a considerable sprinkling of democrats.

The speaker took up the democratic campaign book of 1912 and showed the fallacy of that remarkable document. He touched on their promises of trust busting, reduction of the high cost of living, Wilson's one-term plank, etc., and showed the inconsistency and insincerity of the democratic party. He quoted from the Congressional Record the speeches of Champ Clark, Senator Tillman and others on the Panama canal toll bill. He condemned the Wilson Mexican policy and tore into shreds his "Watchful Waiting" policy. While the speaker did not touch on the Adamson law regarding the eight-hour day, he did quote from a number of labor papers of 1910 wherein they praised Mr. Hughes for his stand in the interests of labor. The enthusiasm manifested here was in marked contrast to the reception tendered Senator Hitchcock by the democrats earlier in the week. The republican outlook is exceedingly bright.

Republican Leaders See Victory Certain in the Old Empire State

Chairman Willcox Finds Outlook Bright in Empire State and Jersey.

DEMOCRATS ARE IN A HOLE

New York, Sept. 30.—(Special Telegram.)—Chairman Willcox and all members of the republican national campaign committee here are gratified at the outcome of the New York republican state convention, the result in their opinion practically making the state certain for the republican national, state and congressional tickets. Betting odds here, which run from two to two and a half to one in favor of Hughes, seem to confirm these views.

The lack of harmony among the New York democrats is emphasized by the sudden postponement of the meeting of the state committee to select candidates for presidential electors. The postponement was so unexpected and was determined so hastily that several members of the committee missed their notification and are unwillingly held in New York over the week-end.

Judge Seabury is reported to have been somewhat liberal in promises to put progressive on the electoral ticket and to be in difficulty now about making the word good.

evening many of them had living models wearing the wonderful gowns and hats and moving about with wonderful grace before the multitudes who crowded the sidewalks and streets so that the street cars could hardly get past.

Let us not forget the weather man. He deserves commendation. No fault can be found with the ozone he has provided. The temperature has been agreeable, bracing and dry. If he keeps up this work the Lord High Chamberlain of the King ought to slip him at least seven bags of gold. But, as stated before, this is the week. Listen! Industrial parade at 2 p. m. on Tuesday; electrical parade (scenes from Shakespeare) at 8 p. m. Wednesday; President and Mrs. Wilson guests of the city, Thursday, from 11:20 a. m. till 10:10 p. m., to view with the assembled multitude the historical pageant and parade at 2 p. m. Coronation ball at the Den, 8 p. m. Friday; masked ball at the Den, 8 p. m. Saturday.

Nor is this big program all. Omaha, champion of the Western league, will play with Louisville, champion of the American association, October 4 to 8, to determine the minor league world's base ball championship. Then there's the National Swing show at the stock yards, October 2 to 7, and the Douglas county fair during the same period. Everything is ready. The multitudes are already beginning to stream in. It will be the biggest week Omaha has ever seen.

THERE MUST BE A REASON

A DENTAL business does not grow as this does—retaining its old patrons and continually receiving new ones—unless there is a very good reason for it. In this case the reason is not hard to find. From the very first our motto has been that no work shall be done here that will not stand the test of time, and our charges are based on exactly how little we can do it for, and not how much the patient will pay. By this method there is no pocketbook but what can have the best in dentistry.

Dr. McKenney Says:

"When I first commenced business I made up my mind that my work would always be just a little better, my examinations just a little more thorough and my materials and equipment always the BEST. And as the business grew so that I could afford it, my prices would always be lower."
