

SENATOR CLARKE DIES OF APOPLEXY

President Pro Tempore of United States Senate Is Stricken at Home.

FIRST CHOSEN IN YEAR 1903

Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 2.—United States Senator James P. Clarke, president pro tempore of the United States senate, died at his home yesterday. Senator Clarke suffered a stroke of apoplexy Friday and never regained consciousness.

Senator Clarke was born in Yazoo, Miss., August 18, 1854. He was educated in the schools of his native state and in 1878 graduated from the law department of the University of Virginia. He began the practice of law in Helena, Ark., in 1879. Entering politics, Mr. Clarke was advanced rapidly from legislator in 1880 to state senator in 1888, to the presidency of the state senate in 1891 and to attorney general in 1892. He was elected governor in 1894. In 1903 he was elected United States senator and was re-elected in 1909 and in 1915. He was elected president pro tempore of the senate in 1913 and re-elected in 1915. His present term as United States senator would not have expired until March 4, 1921.

Senator Clarke was married in Helena on November 15, 1883, to Miss Sallie Moore. She and a son and two daughters survive.

Senator Clarke's revolt against the eight-hour bill was a typical manifestation of a stern independence which characterized his attitude throughout the thirteen years of his senatorial career. He was many times the leader in opposition to measures proposed by his party. The climax to his independence was reached when he led the democratic revolt against the ship purchase bill, which gave over to the republicans filibuster against the measure and made its passage impossible.

Home Will Always Be the Greatest Center for the Women of America

"Don't think the world's gone awry because a loaf of bread in the oven was burned. Set about quickly to make another loaf. Don't lose sight of the big work to be done by involving yourself in petty trifles. Develop the impersonal point of view and the ability to adjust yourself to conditions," advises Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles of Los Angeles, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, who is the guest of local clubwomen she represents, the diminutive executive voiced the sentiment that home will always be the greatest center for women, no matter how much the trend of modern times seems to have taken her activities out of the home.

"Citizenship is an added responsibility women have to meet. It will be the policy of the federation for this term to unify and co-ordinate the forces of our big organization for the citizenship of the future.

Conservation of energy and resources is strongly advocated by the chief clubwoman of the land.

Elimination of waste would go a great way in obviating the high cost of living, according to Mrs. Cowles.

Among the other distinguished guests who will be in Omaha Thursday will be Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas.

Fourth South Dakota
Regiment Ordered Home

Sioux Falls, S. D., Oct. 2.—Reports received here are to the effect that the Fourth regiment, South Dakota National Guard, now on border patrol duty at San Benito, Tex., has received orders to return to its home station and will entrain about October 5.

"There is a great waste in every household every day in the item of bread alone," said Mrs. Cowles. "If bread will be 10 cents a loaf in Omaha, it will be up to the housewife to eliminate that waste." The influence of one's dress on other women should always be considered," she said. "Setting an example of dressing in too showy a manner or above one's means should be avoided."

The Americanization of the immigrant and establishment of rural schools and teacherages are two of the big lines of work for the federation.

Mrs. Cowles is enroute to the state federation meeting at Hastings Tuesday from a council meeting at Chicago, where the date of the biennial was set. It will be held in Hot Springs, Ark., on the national government reserve, in May, 1918, while the council meeting to arrange for the big convention will be held in New Orleans, April 10-12, 1917.

The reaction, the desire to meet in a smaller place after having met in New York City, was evident in the overwhelming vote to meet in Hot Springs, although Kansas City and Norfolk, Va., bid for the convention.

Scene of First Murder Committed in Omaha Entangled in the Courts

The old Fair building, the scene of the first murder committed in Omaha, is entangled in legal complications. The structure at Twelfth and Farnam has caused unrest between the owners and the Board of Equalization. This southeast corner is a thorn in the side of the owners. Henry W. Yates, former banker, was at one time a clerk in the old King grocery that occupied the block. Mr. Yates passed to his reward several years ago. The building is now the property of the W. R. King estate.

When Attorney R. W. Switzer appeared before District Judge Leslie Monday morning as the representative of owners of the property he asked that the estimate of the equalization board of $52,000 on the property be lowered to $40,000. The judge has taken the matter under advisement.

In connection with the appeal of the old Fair corner from the valuation of the equalization board, Attorney Switzer is also appealing the decision of the board on the property at Eleventh and Jones streets, owned by the Mark Hansen Realty company. He asks that the valuation be reduced from $20,000 to $12,000 because of the fact that it is underlaid by an old creek bed. The hearing will be held by Judge Leslie.

5 Passenger 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers—$1090 Detroit

QUALITY

That is the Real Secret of the 3400 r.p.m. Chalmers Popularity

Whenever you see the Chalmers trade mark you always see the phrase "Quality First." Whenever you think Chalmers you think "Quality." And if you have been reading my ads or have been in my salesroom, you are impressed with the fact that the 3400 r. p. m. is a Chalmers car of unusual quality.

I've often said that it is, in my opinion, the greatest car the Chalmers Company has built. And I have an excellent reason for saying this. It is a step ahead of any preceding Chalmers because it performs a shade better.

The Quality in the new Chalmers is the kind of quality that tells on the road and tells wonderfully.

Now it is just this exceptional quality, just this shade of improvement that has brought Chalmers sales and production ahead in leaps these 12 months past.

I don't think the men in charge of affairs at the Chalmers factory realized what they had in the 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers. At any rate they underestimated the demand. They built more than they had ever produced in any previous season, 'tis true, but still not enough.

The first making order was snapped up quickly. Then came a second lot. These went just as fast.

Now the factory is building the third lot and I understand that Chalmers has no intention of stopping even there. Quality it was that caused this unprecedented demand. Chalmers certainly have the right idea in building cars. "Quality First."

THE MAN on the GIRDER HAS HEALTH

The man at the desk often lacks it.

Are you an office worker? Are you obliged to guard your health against the consequences of too much indoor brain work and not enough out-door exercise?

Constipation is dangerous. The laxative habit is even more so, because it tends to make constipation chronic.

Nujol relieves constipation effectively and without forming a habit. It prevents the contents of the intestines from becoming hard, and in this way makes natural movements easy. It acts in effect as an internal lubricant.

All druggists carry Nujol which is manufactured only by the Standard Oil Company (New Jersey). Avoid substitutes. Write today for booklet "The Rational Treatment of Constipation."
