The distress signals of the Westpoint were picked up by the government radio station at Newport, R. L. Rear Admiral Albert Gleaves, commander of the destroyor flotilla of the Ameri-can Atlantic fleet, ordered his ships to the rescue. The Westpokul gave its position as fifty miles suntheast of Nantoclevel, but the navy officials said that later reports indicated that the vessel was not more than ten miles off shore. The weather was thick. If was expected that the crew world not be brought into Newport before mid-might.

Four British Steamers Suna by German Submersible Commerce Raider on Sunday

Boston, Oct. 8.—A German submarine supposedly the U-53, which called at Newport yesterday, today torpedoed and sank the Brit-ish freight steamer Strathdene and torpedoed and crippled the British freighter Westpoint off Nantucket. No loss of life was reported. The submarine also held up the American freight steamer Kansas, but later allowed it to proced. Newport, R. I., Oct. 8.—The British steamer Kingston has also been sunk. The crew of the Kingston were saved by an American destroyer. This word was received at the naval radio station tonight. No further details were given.

The torpedo boat destroyer Ralch, reporting officially to the naval station here by radio tonight, said that the British steamer Stephano had been torpedoed and sunk off Nantucket. Its crew was reported safe aboard the Ralch.

aboard the Raich. All the passengers and crew of the British steamer Stephano have been rescued. They are understood to be aboard the American destroyer Balch. It is stated that the Stephano had between eighty and ninety pas-sengers on board, when it was stopped by the submarine, which later sank it. Most of the passengers were tourists from New York, returning home. All of the Americans on the Stephano, who were rescued by the destroyer Balch, were transferred tonight to the destroyer Jenkins. The number of Americans aboard was not stated in the radio message received here. All members of the crew of the British steamer Westpoint have been picked up by a torpedo boat destroper.

BULLETIN. Boston, Oct. 8.—Two more steam-ers have been sunk by submarines. One is, the Dutch steamer, Bloom-ersdijk and the other is the Nor-wegian craft Christian Knudsen. The crews of both vessels were picked up by the American torpedo destroyer Drayton and are being brought into Newport.

New York, Oct. 8 .- The British steamer Stephano, carrying nearly one hundred lrst and and second class passengers, including many American tourists, was sunk off Nantucket Light ship at 4:30 p. m. today, pre-sumably by the German submarine U-53. The United States torpedo boat destroyer Batch reported the loss of the liner by radio to the naval station here, stating that the ship had been torpedoed. The message from the destroyer said that the crew and passengers were safe aboard the Batch. Confirmation of the rescue was con-tained in a later message sent by the destroyer to the naval station here. It was said that it had picked up the passengers and later had transferred the Americans to the destroyer Jen-kins. passengers, including many American

Rumors Persist in Washington, Arousing Much Discussion There. MANY SEE SOMETHING IN IT

Berlin, Oct. (Via London.)-The story circulated abroad that the American . ambassador. James A. Gerard, is the bearer of an appeal from the German emperor for peace intervention by the United States, is declared authoritatively here to be absolutely without foundation.

Ambassador Gerard, it was said, bears no communication from Em-peror William of any description and, as a matter of fact, when he left Beras a matter of fact, when he lett. Ber-lin did not even know that he was going to America. He had almost abandoned hope of hearing from Washington concerning his request for a leave of absence and thought he probably would return to Berlin after a week in Sweden, and so in-formed the foreign office officials be-fore he left.

Of No Significance.

Of No Significance. Herr von Jagow, secretary for for-eign alfairs; Dr. Alfred Zimmerman, the under secretary for foreign af-fairs, and Dr. Solf, secretary of state for the colonies, all saw the American ambassador the day before he left, but his visits were of a private na-ture. Mr. Gerard's trip is regarded by officials here with no more sig-mificance than a leave taken by any ambassador under the same circum-stances. He had needed a vacation and the present time seemed to be a suitable opportunity. He will, it is understood, have informative confer-ences with President Wilson and Sec-retary Lansing, to whom he will be able to give more exhaustive and more intimate reports of the situation than he could through regular diplo-matic channels.
