Corn Crop Will Be Bigger Than Recent Forecast Indicated

Washington, Oct. 10.—Further decrease in production prospects of the country's principal farm crops, excepting corn, flax, rice and kafirs, was indicated today in the Department of Agriculture's monthly report. A preliminary estimate places the wheat crop at 607,557,000 bushels, a drop of 3,500,000 bushels from the amount forecast from September 1 conditions and 404,000,000 bushels under last year's record-breaking crop. Corn production prospects increased 8,400,000 bushels as a result of favorable weather conditions during September and a total crop of 2,717,032,000 bushels is forecast, that is more than 300,000,000 less than harvested last year. The white potato crop is the smallest since 1911. Today's forecast of production is 300,563,000 bushels, a decrease of 17,929,000 bushels from the estimate made a month ago and 59,000,000 bushels below last year's crop. Tobacco prospects decreased 20,495,000 pounds since last month's report, but the indicated production this year, 1,203,077,000 pounds, will be a record. Decreases in production prospects from last month's indications include Oats, 1,860,000 bushels; barley, 905,000 bushels; buckwheat, 1,846,000 bushels; sweet potatoes, 1,535,000 bushels; pears, 99,000 bushels; apples, 1,510,000 barrels, and sugar beets, 148,000 tons.

Woman Drinks Horse Liniment and Doctor Comes Just in Time

Arriving at the bedside of Mrs. John McDonald, 3919 South Fifteenth street, an hour after she had swallowed, by mistake, a good part of a large bottle of horse liniment, Police Surgeon R. R. Losey administered medical aid that saved her life. Thirty minutes' delay would have meant death. Mrs. McDonald, wife of superintendent of the garbage department, working under contract for the city, had been sick for some time. The liniment contained both tar and chloroform. Frantic calls were made for a doctor, but none were available. Finally the police were called.

ALL MUST RESPECT U. S., SAYS HUGHES

Will Not Stand for Any Interference With Mails or Commerce.

HE PLAYS WILSON POLICIES

Hughes on U-Boat War Philadelphia, Oct. 10.—Charles E. Hughes, republican nominee, authorized the issuance of this statement today: "Mr. Hughes was asked today for his views with respect to the present submarine situation. He refused to discuss it. He said he was not in control of official agencies and was not in receipt of official information. He said further that he had no desire to embarrass the administration in dealing with any current matters as to which the administration had the whole responsibility."

Philadelphia, Oct. 10.—Charles E. Hughes in a speech at a Metropolitan opera house last night, vigorously assailed the administration for its foreign and Mexican policies and outlined the republican party program in two respects, as follows: "We do not propose to tolerate any improper interference with American property, with American mills or with legitimate commercial intercourse."

"No American, who is exercising only American rights, shall be put on any blacklist by any foreign nation."

In addition to references to the seizure of American mails and the British blacklist of American firms, Mr. Hughes recalled the sinking of the Lusitania, repeating the declaration contained in his speech of acceptance that had the American government left no doubt "that if when we said 'strict accountability' we meant precisely what we said, there would have been no destruction of American lives by the sinking of the Lusitania."

Couched in Vigorous Terms. "The administration asks for a vote of conditions," he said, "but its defenders certainly shout in protest when its record is critically examined. When its humiliating failure to safeguard American rights is held up to deserved condemnation, it seeks to escape by asserting that its conduct has no alternative, but war, that to disapprove its conduct is to favor war."

That Mr. Hughes characterized as an "astounding assertion which could not avail to divert attention from the serious errors committed."

Instances Cited. Act after act by the administration in its dealing with Mexico was cited by the nominee to uphold his contention.

Stops Tobacco Habit in One Day

Sanitarium Publishes Free Book Showing How Tobacco Habit Can Be Banished in From One to Five Days at Home.

The Elders Sanitarium, located at 650 Main St., St. Joseph, Mo., has published a free book showing the deadly effect of the tobacco habit, and how it can be banished in from one to five days at home. Men who have used tobacco for more than fifty years have tried this method and say it is entirely successful, and in addition to banishing the desire for tobacco has improved their health wonderfully. This method banishes the desire for tobacco, no matter whether it is smoking, chewing, cigarettes or snuff dipping. As this book is being distributed free anyone wanting a copy should send their name and address at once.—Advertisement.

tion that the country had not been kept out of war, but that it had urged "an ignoble, personal war" against Huerta, in the days of his power. John Lind's alleged authorization to state that "Huerta should be put out," the occupation of Vera Cruz, the sending of the punitive expedition into Mexico and the failure of the American troops to utilize Mexican railroads, were points upon which Mr. Hughes touched. "Has America forgotten Carrizal?" he asked. "What was that? Peace or war?" "One brave officer," the nominee said, he had been informed, "stricken with pneumonia, was compelled to travel four days in an army wagon over rough roads, in intense suffering, and died in the camp to which he was thus removed." This followed the "curt refusal" by Carranza authorities to allow American troops to use the roads. "We have not been kept out of war."

"We cannot say now," he added, "in what particular sort of mess we shall find things in March next, but this much is certain: If entrusted with the responsibility, we shall be able to have it understood, that there will be no meddling in matters which do not concern us; that we shall not simply talk of the rights of other states, but shall observe them; and, further, that at all events the lives and property of American citizens will be protected."

Republican Chiefs Are Pleased With Western Situation

Chicago, Oct. 10.—Members of the republican national advisory committee met at eastern republican headquarters today and spent several hours discussing the campaign in the central and western states. Reports were received from each state in the territory west of Ohio, with a list of speakers assigned to each district. After a long discussion the members expressed themselves as satisfied with the progress of the campaign in the western division. Those present: Alvin T. Hert, manager of western headquarters; James Wilson, former secretary of agriculture; Raymond Robins of Illinois, Frank H. Hitchcock of New York, Victor Rosewater of Nebraska, William H. Ward of New York and Governor R. Livingston Beekman of Rhode Island.

Manager Hert in a statement, said: "There is nothing doubtful about Illinois, this state is assured for Hughes and Fairbanks. We are pleased with the political outlook in the west and are confident of victory in November, but realizing that a campaign of education, to be successful, must be persistent and thorough we intend to continue our activity throughout our territory to the day of election."

"I regard Wisconsin, Montana and Colorado as the principal fields of contention in the west today. In each of these states we plan to conduct an intense campaign of education right up to the 7th of November."

HARDING URGES NEW TARIFF BILL

Senator Says Protection Is Only Safeguard for This Country.

TWO NEBRASKA SPEECHES

Hastings, Neb., Oct. 10.—(Special Telegram.)—There was quite a demonstration of old-time party enthusiasm last night at the republican meeting in the court house, where Senator Warren G. Harding, who was the keynote speaker at the republican national convention last spring, delivered the principal address.

The meeting was presided over by C. J. Miles, who called attention to the fact that prosperity of the country was here not because of the democratic party, but in spite of it. "Two years ago," said Mr. Miles, "one-third of Nebraska wheat moved at sixty-five to sixty-eight cents. The high price it brings today is not because of the democrats, but because of the war."

H. P. Shumway, candidate for lieutenant governor, W. H. Reynolds, candidate for state treasurer and R. W. Devore, candidate for attorney general, made short speeches.

Not a Candidate. Senator Warren G. Harding was most warmly welcomed. He said that he was not a political candidate and was not a paid representative of any political party, but that he was doing what he could for the success of the republican party because he was a republican through and through, and believed that the success of the republican party meant success for this country.

"And you can't have a great political party without party organization," he believed in old-time party enthusiasm and old-time party papers that preached exactly what they believed.

The speaker closed with a strong talk on the tariff, in which he ripped the Underwood tariff schedule up the back and urged the protective tariff as the one thing just for all Americans.

Big Meeting at Grand Island.

Grand Island, Neb., Oct. 10.—(Special Telegram.)—Senator Warren G. Harding addressed the largest political gathering of voters held this fall up to that time at the court house yesterday, his address holding the closest attention of over 200 voters who, despite the unfavorable hour, came and stayed. He dwelt mainly on the humiliating attitude of the administration with reference to Mexico. Washington could have kept this country out of war, if he had bowed the knee to every demand of Great Britain; Lincoln could have kept the United States from a civil war if he had agreed to every demand of the south; McKinley would have kept the country out of the war if he had had as little regard for the incident of the Maine as President Wilson has had with reference to Mexican outrages," said the senator.

Will to Change Leaders. Americans, he thought, are too red-blooded, too determined and too consistent not to change horses in the middle of the stream if the horse that is supposed to lead, does nothing in the middle of the stream but turn around and around. President Wilson was entitled to change his mind, but has hardly sufficient occasion to make a specialty of it.

With reference to the prosperity issue, Senator Harding said: "I cannot rejoice in a prosperity that is wrung out of the bleeding hearts of Europe."

Demos Ashamed Of Their Record, Asserts Lenroot

Norfolk, Neb., Oct. 10.—(Special Telegram.)—Congressman Lenroot of Minnesota addressed a fair-sized crowd last night on political issues. Through extracts from the Congressional Record he showed how the democratic congressmen cried out in shame at the reckless and criminal extravagance of the present congress. He said that no republican congress ever had been guilty of such wanton waste of public money. Twenty million dollars of the rivers and harbors appropriation, he said, might as well have been dumped into the ocean so far as genuine results were concerned, and he said this twenty million dollars all went to improve creeks and un-navigable streams of the south in order to help southern congressmen in local political fights.

Trinity river, in Texas, received a big appropriation despite the fact that government engineers reported there never would be enough water in it to float a boat unless artesian wells were dug. One river in Arkansas got over $100,000, yet government reports show this river contains not a drop of water. The south is in the saddle, he said, and every important chairmanship is held by a southerner. Legislation has all been by secret caucus and northern democratic congressmen have no voice. Congress protected cotton, but forgot northern farm products. He said that whenever democrats win a victory in the house, before the applause dies out, a rebel yell will ring through the halls. The democrats, he said, have brought upon themselves the issues of sectionalism.
