

HUGHES WILL GET SPEARMAN'S VOTES

Entire Family Who Supported Wilson Four Years Ago Turn on Him Now.

REASONS FOR THE SWITCH

New York, Oct. 13.—(Special Telegram.)—Another democrat of the old school who is supporting Mr. Hughes in this campaign is Frank H. Spearman, the well known author and writer on economics. Mr. Spearman announces that four years ago he and two of his sons, his brother, and his nephews, voted for Wilson.

"Next month," continues Mr. Spearman, "three of my sons, my brother, my nephews, one and all and I, myself, will take a long and watchfully-awaited opportunity to record our utter detestation of the man and his policies by voting for Justice Hughes."

Join Hughes League.

Mr. Spearman not only declined to join the Wilson league, but he wrote to former Senator Theodore E. Burton, president of the Hughes College League, enrolling himself and his three sons in the Hughes league. With his letter to Senator Theodore Burton, Mr. Spearman enclosed a copy of his letter to Governor Harmon. In this letter Mr. Spearman reviewed Mr. Wilson's presidential career from the appointment of Bryan to head the State department down to "the last thing he has done, in ramming down the throat of congress his indefensible ten-hours-pay-for-eight-hours-work Adamson law."

"It is difficult to speak with becoming restraint of his Mexican record," continues Mr. Spearman. "Mr. Bryan sought only to Mexicanize the currency of our country; Mr. Wilson has Mexicanized, so far as he could its decent self-respect. Mr. Bryan threatened only the national purse; Mr. Wilson has filched our country's good name."

Silence Comes With Mexico.

"The cries of the tortured Armenian Christians moved Mr. Wilson almost to tears. The cries of the tortured Mexican Christians masked his silence with that solemn brooding silence to which we have become so unhappily accustomed. On the subject of driving Christ out of Mexico,

Mr. Wilson has nothing—not a syllable—to say. And in every step of his presidential career the American people have been met by his mysterious mutterings, political undertones, dark intimations of imminent perils, and irritating insinuations, and have been left to grope for truth concerning situations with every avenue of the administration guarded to prevent the facts underlying his policies from becoming publicly known. Mr. Wilson will wonder next month why the business men of this country have presented practically a united front against him at the polls. It is because of their contempt for his utter helplessness as concerns business needs. For advice on this subject he has relied on Mr. Josephus Daniels; as to Mexican conditions on Mr. John Lind and Senor Carranza. In whatever direction we consider Mr. Wilson and his advisers their efforts appear futile, equally depressing.

New Jersey Swings to Hughes.

An extraordinary swing to Governor Hughes in President Wilson's home state of voters who supported him in 1912, is indicated by enrollments in the New Jersey branch of the Hughes alliance, it was announced today. State pride in the candidacy of Mr. Wilson apparently is not holding postal card canvases shows that over 1 per cent of those who voted for the president four years ago are now supporting Governor Hughes.

William P. Walter, an attorney of Fort Wayne, Ind., sent the Hughes alliance today the names of 107 men of his personal acquaintance, all democrats, who have announced their support of Governor Hughes and enrolled in the alliance. This indication of a Hughes' sweep in Indiana is borne out by information gleaned by E. B. Fisher, a traveling salesman, who has just completed a trip through that state and who wrote the Hughes alliance saying: "After traveling several hundred miles through Indiana, thinking, sleeping, talking, eating, fighting for Hughes, I have come to the conclusion there are 100,000 voters in Indiana who say little but are for Hughes and that nothing will stay a clean sweep for Hughes and Fairbanks and the state ticket, including the two United States senators."

WORDS ARE BONDS WITH CATTLE MEN

Oral "Yes" and "No" Make Stock Yards Million Dollar Market Daily.

BIG BUSINESS "ON HONOR"

Nearly $1,000,000 a day changes hands in the sale of cattle, hogs and sheep at the Union stock yards on the South Side.

And these immense transactions are made "on honor." That is the astonishing feature of it.

The banker or real estate man binds his bargain in legal documents with many a "whereas" and "wherefore" and "party of the first part" and "party of the second part."

But the business of selling cattle, hogs, horses and sheep on this, the second-greatest market in the world, is done on the spoken word of gentlemen. It is still the free, man-to-man trading of the great open country. It has not been emmeshed in legalities and technicalities. The notarial seal has not been called in to assist in transferring the fat cattle of John

Jones, rancher, to Armour-Cudahy, packer.

Word Seals Pact.

This wonderful honor between men extends to every part of the stock business on the South Side. See how simple and direct is the method of marketing stock:

John Jones ships a few carloads of cattle from his ranch in, say, Montana, to the Omaha market. He does not need to come along. He merely consigns them to some commission firm.

Arriving here, the cattle are unloaded by the Union Stock Yards company and placed in the pens on this particular farm. They are fed and watered and sorted by this firm's expert.

Along comes the cattle buyer for the packers and looks them over.

"Fine bunch of cattle," says the commission man.

"What are you asking for 'em?" inquires the packers' man.

"Well, let you have 'em at $9.50."

"Nothing doing. Give you nine and a quarter."

"Nope, couldn't let such a fine bunch go at that. But I'll knock off a nickel."

The Big Difference.

And so they "dicker" until the transaction is made. Two bankers would now repair to the office and use some official blanks and the typewriter and notarial seal for half a day. But these two men in the stock yards, though they may have made a deal involving many thousands of dollars, go on the word of one gentleman to another.

How does this work out in practice?

"About 335,000 trades were made on this market last year," said A. F. Stryker, secretary of the South Omaha Live Stock exchange. "Only seven deals were disputed, calling for the attention of our arbitrating trade committee. That's only one trade in 48,000."

"Dealing is done strictly on honor, and the highest standard prevails among commission men, traders, buyers and sellers. Dishonesty or sharp practice will not be tolerated."

Another feature of this great business is that every sale is for absolute spot cash.

"Often a consignment of live stock will be received from the owner early in the morning, unloaded, sold and the money paid to the owner by 9 a. m.," said Mr. Stryker. "Usually the day's receipts are all sold the same day and cash payment is made."

No matter how many cars of stock reach the market the stockman knows he is to receive cash of the realm for his shipment.

Told in Their Own Words How Hughes and Roosevelt Would Have Acted With Germany, England, Mexico

Out of the din and confusion caused by the assertions, charges and counter-charges which are being made by the presidential candidates and their supporters arises one question which many thousands of people are asking, and that is: "Just What Action Would Mr. Hughes or Mr. Roosevelt Have Taken in Dealing with Germany, England and Mexico, Had They Been in Mr. Wilson's Place?"

With a view to throwing light on this subject, the editors of THE LITERARY DIGEST have carefully analyzed the speeches of Mr. Hughes, Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Wilson bearing upon our foreign relations.

In THE LITERARY DIGEST for October 14, the result is given in a very comprehensive article in which are arranged in careful juxtaposition the public utterances of each of the three men upon the subject of our foreign relations. By means of this orderly arrangement the American public can get a very definite answer to the question raised.

Among other important articles in this exceptionally interesting number are:

- Both Sides of the San Francisco Bomb-Charges
- For the First Time Since a Bomb Was Exploded During a Preparedness Parade in San Francisco and Killed Ten Persons and Injured Fifty, Editorial Opinion From All Angles is Presented in One Comprehensive Article. The Law and Order Side is Quoted As Well As the Side of the International Workers' Defense League.
- Should Actors Go To War? A Puzzling Russian Playwright Beauty-Study for Missionaries Spain Drifting to the Allies Sinn Fein Growing Signalling to Sutmarines Scrapping a Railroad
- The Crown Prince's English House Labor's Case Against The Church Germany's Fifth War Loan Mediation at a Discount Politics and Infante Paralysis No More Street-Sprinkling The New York Traction Strike Failure

The Appeal of "The Digest" is as Universal as its Scope

There is an old saying that it is impossible to please everybody, which is measurably true. There are exceptions to this, however. One of these is THE LITERARY DIGEST. When you take it home every week you know you will please the whole family. Each issue contains matter for all tastes and for every taste. For father there is the political section, the foreign comment, the discussion of industrial and social issues of moment, and the advice on finance and investments; for mother, the articles on art, and literature, and religion and social service, and the book reviews; for the elder boy, science and invention, the war reports, and Personal Glimpses; for the elder girl, the art, music and current poetry; for the youngsters, the cartoons and the nuggets of humor in Spice of Life. And every page is clean, interesting, and packed with information. The news is real news, the comments are from all angles, the mirth without a sting. All this makes "The Digest" the ideal home news-magazine.
